

Fourth Annual
EVERY DAY, EVERY WAY
Arts-Focused Youth Programming
in Afterschool Mini-Conference
September 28, 2017, 9 a.m. - 1 p.m.
African American Art and Culture Complex

KEYNOTE SPEAKER: SARAH CROWELL, DESTINY ARTS

Artistic Director Sarah Crowell has taught dance, theater and violence prevention to youth and teachers for over 25 years.

In her talk, she addressed:

- ◉ Why the arts matter, especially in afterschool settings?
- ◉ How can the arts help in working with trauma?

QUOTING ALICIA GARZA OF BLACK LIVES MATTER

“Our task is to try and live our lives in the way that we envision freedom actually looking like and feeling like. Movements are the place that we express the world that we want to see.”

5 PARTICIPATORY WORKSHOPS OFFERED:

- ◉ Poetry - Tina Bartolome
Oasis for Girls
- ◉ Visual Arts - Susa Cortez
Root Division/Mission Education Center
- ◉ Dance - Fredrika Keefer
Dance Mission
- ◉ Theater - Elana Lagerquist
StageWrite/Starr King Elementary
- ◉ Body Percussion - Jim Santi Owen
Park Day School

DANCE & POETRY WORKSHOPS

This dance class helped me create a classroom community... leaving inspired.

The poetry workshop offered me ways to help youth expressively write their personal statement.

VISUAL ARTS & THEATER WORKSHOPS

“This activity invites kids to engage not only with their art, but also art in the community.”

“The theater activities are great for connecting with each other and defining “hard” concepts.”

BODY PERCUSSION

“This workshop will be useful to add movement and music into my visual arts practice with youth.”
