

Our children need healthy learning environments

Children learn and develop best in healthy environments. They pay better attention in class and miss less school time from illnesses related to indoor pollution. In addition, the School District gets more money to help improve all students' performance.

The San Francisco Asthma Task Force is working with the School District to create healthy learning environments and improve performance by:

- Using toxin-free cleaning products
- Using less toxic building materials and furnishings
- Making schools healthier with repairs done at no cost to the District
- Employing low and no cost methods to improve indoor air quality
- Working together to make our school rooms healthy

Is your child's school healthy?

The School District needs your help to succeed. Here's what you can do:

➔ Call 415-252-3812 and find out how to make your school healthier

CHILDREN HAVE THE RIGHT TO LEARN IN HEALTHY SCHOOLS.

SAN FRANCISCO
Asthma Task Force
www.sfgov.org/asthma

