Public Works Order No: 205288

The Director of Public Works held a Public Hearing on Monday, July 19th 2021 commencing at 5:30 PM via teleconference to consider several items related to tree removals. In accordance with numerous local and state proclamations regarding Covid-19, the hearing was held through videoconferencing to allow remote public comment.

The hearing was to consider Order No. 204962 the removal of seventeen (17) Ficus street trees with replacement on the Grove St. and Hyde St. frontages of the Main Library. (Staff approved tree removal and announced hearing on June 14th)

Findings:

The Department’s presentation was made by Susan Nawbary, Bureau of Urban Forestry. In summary, the Department recommended the removal of seventeen (17) Ficus trees due to a variety of conditions including: competing/codominant stems, reverse trunk taper, lack of root crown/flare, trunk girdling by pavers, and standing water.

One tree failed on 5/29/21. It failed at the base and fell into the roadway onto a vehicle. Another tree was posted on 6/24/21 for emergency removal due to its severe lean. Ms. Nawbary noted that the removal of one tree exposes the adjoining tree to increased wind exposure.

Ms. Nawbary referenced DPW Order #183151 Tree Removal Criteria for Ficus Trees and noted that each of the trees fell within the criteria for removal.

Ms. Nawbary stated that if approved, the trees would be replaced by 24” box trees within six months of removal. Ms. Nawbary did not specify which species would be used as replacement, as that depends on the availability in the nursery.

Ms. Maureen Singleton, Chief Operations Officer for the Library spoke in support of the removal and committed to helping maintain any replacement trees.

Mr. Lance Carnes opposed the removal of the trees and noted that the Library had made the same request in 2018 and that there had not been a tree survey within the time frame of August 2018 until the tree failed in June 2021. He noted that the database was incomplete and that the inspection should take place more often. He additionally noted that the failure of one tree does not guarantee that the other trees will fail.

Ms. Kathy Howard opposed the removal of the trees and noted that replacement trees would take years to fill the void. She also stated that the conditions were the result of neglect, added pavers and poor care, noting that the results will be the same for the new trees if they are cared for in a similar manner.

Mr. Josh Klipp opposed the removal of the trees, noting that they were initially planted incorrectly and that the City is at fault for the condition of the trees. He stated that the girdling might be mitigated by pulling back some of the pavers and that clear cutting was not the answer. He stated that the City's negligence was the cause of the loss of greenery and environmental benefit and noted that the pavers had not been pulled back for a thorough investigation of the root crown/flare.

Ms. Deetje Boler opposed the removal of the trees and concurred with the sentiments of Mr. Klipp. She also stated that should the trees be removed, she opposed deciduous trees as the leaf litter would be a maintenance issue and the trees would provide less environmental benefits when the trees were bare.

An anonymous caller agreed with Mr. Klipp and Ms. Boler.

Ms. Roz Arbel opposed the removal of the trees, supporting the comments of the other speakers in opposition and noted that it seems as though there is mass deforestation of the City in the midst of a climate crisis.

Mr. Michael Nulty, Executive Director of the Alliance for a Better District 6, spoke in opposition to the removal of the trees and stated that the trees were healthy. He said that removing them would remove cooling shade and there would be a loss of environmental benefits.

Mr. John Nulty opposed the removal of the trees and noted that trees at Fulton and Larkin had been removed three years ago have not been replaced. He noted that the library trees were first proposed for removal in 2018 and there has been 8000 signatures to keep the trees.

Ms. Susan Bryan also spoke in opposition to the tree removal.

The Hearing officer gives weight to DPW Order #183151 Tree Removal Criteria for Ficus Trees and the representation that each of the trees falls within at least one of the conditions warranting removal. Additionally, great weight is given to the tree failure on 5/29/21 and the posting of another tree for emergency removal as evidence of a public safety risk.

The Hearing Officer acknowledges the strong public sentiment to preserve the tree canopy, along with clear evidence of the City's failure to properly plant and maintain the trees proposed for removal. However, no evidence was presented that contradicted the staff report. Should the Acting Director approve the staff recommendation, the City should commit to a robust planting and maintenance program that will ensure that the replacement trees will thrive.

Recommendation:

Uphold the decision by staff to approve the removal of seventeen (17) trees with replacement.

Appeal:

This Order may be appealed to the Board of Appeals within 15 days of August 9th, 2021.

Findings:

The Department’s presentation was made by Susan Nawbary, Bureau of Urban Forestry. In summary, the Department recommended the removal of seventeen (17) Ficus trees due to a variety of conditions including: competing/codominant stems, reverse trunk taper, lack of root crown/flare, trunk girdling by pavers, and standing water.

One tree failed on 5/29/21. It failed at the base and fell into the roadway onto a vehicle. Another tree was posted on 6/24/21 for emergency removal due to its severe lean. Ms. Nawbary noted that the removal of one tree exposes the adjoining tree to increased wind exposure.

Ms. Nawbary referenced DPW Order #183151 Tree Removal Criteria for Ficus Trees and noted that each of the trees fell within the criteria for removal.

Ms. Nawbary stated that if approved, the trees would be replaced by 24” box trees within six months of removal. Ms. Nawbary did not specify which species would be used as replacement, as that depends on the availability in the nursery.

Ms. Maureen Singleton, Chief Operations Officer for the Library spoke in support of the removal and committed to helping maintain any replacement trees.

Mr. Lance Carnes opposed the removal of the trees and noted that the Library had made the same request in 2018 and that there had not been a tree survey within the time frame of August 2018 until the tree failed in June 2021. He noted that the database was incomplete and that the inspection should take place more often. He additionally noted that the failure of one tree does not guarantee that the other trees will fail.

Ms. Kathy Howard opposed the removal of the trees and noted that replacement trees would take years to fill the void. She also stated that the conditions were the result of neglect, added pavers and poor care, noting that the results will be the same for the new trees if they are cared for in a similar manner.

Mr. Josh Klipp opposed the removal of the trees, noting that they were initially planted incorrectly and that the City is at fault for the condition of the trees. He stated that the girdling might be mitigated by pulling back some of the pavers and that clear cutting was not the answer. He stated that the City's negligence was the cause of the loss of greenery and environmental benefit and noted that the pavers had not been pulled back for a thorough investigation of the root crown/flare.

Ms. Deetje Boler opposed the removal of the trees and concurred with the sentiments of Mr. Klipp. She also stated that should the trees be removed, she opposed deciduous trees as the leaf litter would be a maintenance issue and the trees would provide less environmental benefits when the trees were bare.

An anonymous caller agreed with Mr. Klipp and Ms. Boler.

Ms. Roz Arbel opposed the removal of the trees, supporting the comments of the other speakers in opposition and noted that it seems as though there is mass deforestation of the City in the midst of a climate crisis.

Mr. Michael Nulty, Executive Director of the Alliance for a Better District 6, spoke in opposition to the removal of the trees and stated that the trees were healthy. He said that removing them would remove cooling shade and there would be a loss of environmental benefits.

Mr. John Nulty opposed the removal of the trees and noted that trees at Fulton and Larkin had been removed three years ago have not been replaced. He noted that the library trees were first proposed for removal in 2018 and there has been 8000 signatures to keep the trees.

Ms. Susan Bryan also spoke in opposition to the tree removal.

The Hearing officer gives weight to DPW Order #183151 Tree Removal Criteria for Ficus Trees and the representation that each of the trees falls within at least one of the conditions warranting removal. Additionally, great weight is given to the tree failure on 5/29/21 and the posting of another tree for emergency removal as evidence of a public safety risk.

The Hearing Officer acknowledges the strong public sentiment to preserve the tree canopy, along with clear evidence of the City's failure to properly plant and maintain the trees proposed for removal. However, no evidence was presented that contradicted the staff report. Should the Acting Director approve the staff recommendation, the City should commit to a robust planting and maintenance program that will ensure that the replacement trees will thrive.

Recommendation:

Uphold the decision by staff to approve the removal of seventeen (17) trees with replacement.

Appeal:

This Order may be appealed to the Board of Appeals within 15 days of August 9th, 2021.

I. INTRODUCTION

I, Joshua Klipp, respectfully appeal the Department of Public Works' (DPW) decision to remove seventeen trees around the San Francisco Main Public Library.

II. ARGUMENT SUMMARY

In June 2021, the San Francisco Budget and Legislative Analyst issued a report on, in relevant part, DPW's failure to meet or even come close to the planting goals set forth in the City's 2014 Urban Forest Plan.<sup>1</sup> Against this backdrop - and the backdrop of climate change, wildfires, failing ecosystems, a neighborhood that has lost dozens of trees in the last few years and stands to lose hundreds more - DPW proposes to clear cut every tree surrounding the Main Public Library - trees that are less than three decades old and went neglected by the City almost the entirety of their lifespan.

The City's rush to remove these trees contradicts the opinion of one of the City's most respected arborists, flies in the face of City policy, equity and climate resilience efforts, and contradicts even its own previous assertions regarding the maintenance and replaceability of these trees. Accordingly, I request that the City be required to:

- Re-evaluate the condition of the remaining trees;
- Engage in remediative work rather than outright removal;

- Propose a more robust re/planting throughout this corridor and neighborhood to account for its already pathetic canopy percentage and tree losses; and
- Engage local community organizations such as Community Benefits Districts, the Tenderloin People’s Congress, Demonstration Gardens, and the Association of Raymatush Ohlone in remediative and greening efforts.

III. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. The (In) Equity of San Francisco’s Already Paltry Tree Canopy

According to the American Forests’ recently released Tree Equity tool, the Civic Center area currently has a tree canopy of a paltry 4%.<sup>2</sup> This stands in contrast to the City’s average canopy percentage of 13.7% - the lowest of any major city in the United States. According to the Tree Equity tool, the demographics of this specific area are also: 72% people of color; and 37% people in poverty.<sup>3</sup> The below bar chart from the American Forests’ equity tool indicates, city-wide, the percentage of canopy distribution against the percentage of people of color in San Francisco.

B. The City’s (Lack of) Performance On the Urban Forest Plan Goals

In June 2021, the San Francisco Budget and Legislative Analyst issued a report on, in relevant part, DPW’s performance against the goals set forth in the City’s 2014 Urban Forest Plan. Page 63 of this report features the following Exhibit 8.1:

Exhibit 8.1: Street Trees Planted, FY 2010-11 to FY 2019-20

Source: Urban Forestry Council Annual Reports.

Immediately following this exhibit, the BLA concludes:

“As shown in Exhibit 8.1 above, the City’s 10-year average of 2,154 street trees planted annually is less than half of the 5,000 of street trees that need to be planted annually to ensure that the City’s street tree population does not shrink, given a four percent tree mortality rate. Over the past 10 years, the Department of Public Works and Friends of the Urban Forest have not planted enough trees to maintain the City’s baseline street tree population.”<sup>5</sup> [Emphasis added].

On p. 65, the BLA goes on to say:

“As discussed above and shown in Exhibit 8.1, the City is not planting enough trees to account for tree mortality and maintain its existing baseline tree population, much less increase the street tree population. In order to meet the Urban Forest Plan goal of reaching 155,000 trees by 2034, beginning in FY 2021-22 the City will need to plant approximately 2,300 new trees per year (30,000 new trees total over 13 years) plus between 5,000 and 6,100 replacement trees per year.”<sup>6</sup>

C. The City’s (Lack of) Tree Performance on Immediate Climate Needs.

Page 33 of San Francisco’s “Focus 2030: A Pathway to Net Zero Emissions July 2019 Report” states, “A business-as-usual approach is not an option if San Francisco is serious about meeting its climate commitments and avoiding the worst consequences of the global climate crisis.”<sup>7</sup> Page 31 of that same report references the importance of San Francisco’s Urban Forest Plan - a plan that the BLA report shows has been functionally abandoned by our City’s failure to achieve the goals set forth therein.

D. The City’s Failure to Maintain These Trees

These Ficus trees were planted in or around 1995-1996, at a time it was already common knowledge that these trees had the potential to become problematic if not fastidiously maintained.<sup>8</sup> Despite this, there is no evidence that the Library did any precautionary maintenance on these trees.

In 2016, DPW was asked to evaluate the ficus surrounding the Main Library. At that time, DPW determined that: six should be removed and replaced; the remainder should be fine with proper maintenance; and at least two were experiencing flooded basins.<sup>9</sup> Despite these findings and recommendations, the Library only sought pruning in 2019 when certain trees were in conflict with an on-site Exploratorium exhibit; and in 2021 when a tree was blocking a security camera.<sup>10</sup>

E. DPW's 2018 Efforts to Remove These Trees

In 2018, at the request of the Main Public Library, DPW initiated proceedings to remove all 19 ficus then standing around the Library.<sup>11</sup> In these proceedings, DPW indicated that several of the trees were not replaceable because of various infrastructure. This was also noted in the earlier cited 2016 evaluations.<sup>12</sup>

DPW's proposed removal was met with strong community opposition, as well as innovative community partners who sought to work with the City to turn what might have been a massive canopy loss into a canopy and green spaces gain. Those efforts appeared headed for success but stalled at the feet of DPW and then Covid. Ultimately, DPW abandoned those proceedings altogether.

F. DPW's 2021 Removal Efforts

Earlier this year, a single tree failed at the Main Public Library and fell, unfortunately and somewhat ironically, across a DPW truck. In response, DPW once again initiated proceedings to remove every single tree around the Library. This time, DPW indicated that all trees were replaceable, in contrast to its 2018 representations that several were not. At the departmental removal hearing, members of the public noted that, since the 2018 proceedings, more trees had been removed along the Fulton-side frontage and not replaced. Members of the public also argued that a thorough evaluation of each tree and/or consideration of how trees could thrive with appropriate maintenance had not been done. DPW rejected these arguments and approved wholesale removal and replacement. DPW's decision ignored its own 2016 findings that replacements at this site were likely to fail.<sup>13</sup>

G. Arborist Roy Leggitt's Contrary Conclusions

In a pro bono report, long-time San Francisco arborist, Roy Leggitt, noted that indeed some of the trees around the Main Library would need to be removed. He also made, inter alia, the following conclusions:

“Anyone actually wanting to keep these trees around (the Library or BUF) would insist on removing the pavers before condemning the trees. This ruling by DPW was, in my opinion, premature and lacking in basic observations and data.

Where trees have not been girdled (the trunk overtopping the pavers), tree structure may still be viable.”<sup>14</sup> [Emphasis added].

Mr. Leggitt went on to say:

“It seems that the library, and now with support of BUF, wants to do the simple thing of just removing them all and starting over. There are advantages to that approach where you have a uniform stand of trees (improving both appearance and shared resources such as light), and disadvantages such as the loss of mature trees and the many benefits only realized as trees mature (shade and habitat, for example).”

Mr. Leggitt went on to address species selection, which appears to have been a sticking point in the 2018 removal resolution work:

“Species selection by the library was poorly done and should not have settled on Indian laurel fig (aka Ficus). The species chosen must be (assuming removal occurs), wind tolerant, drought tolerant, resistant to abuses, able to fit into a very narrow space, be able to sustain traffic impacts, and likely other issues I haven’t thought of. “

Finally, he addressed the difficulties of establishing replacement trees, an issue that DPW itself noted in its 2016 Evaluations:

“The idea of replacing trees is fraught with limitations on reestablishing trees where there are so many challenges. The difference in demographics and use patterns in this immediate neighborhood are very different now than they were when the ficus trees were planted, and reestablishment of trees at this site will likely be more difficult at this time than it was in 1995 when the existing trees were planted.”

IV. ARGUMENT

A. This Proposed Removal and Replacement Cut Against The City's Own Climate and Equity Goals.

As stated above, the City's own June 2021 BLA Report shows just how badly the City is performing against its own Urban Forest and Climate Resilience Strategy. It is unconscionable to propose a wholesale tree removal in this context, without minimally acknowledging these dire frameworks - issued by the City itself - and at least doing the work to emphasize remediation and environmentally adequate replacements, e.g. biomass replacements and additional greening and tree planting efforts.

B. This Proposed Removal Hurts a Neighborhood That Has 4% Canopy and Is Already Suffering Tremendous Canopy Loss.

In just the last few years - and presently - this area has lost dozens of trees to:

- Hastings' new construction and renovations work;
- UN Plaza Emergency Removals;
- SFMTA Van Ness BRT;
- 1169 Market Street Development; and
- Upper Market Street Improvement Projects.

And stands to lose dozens more nearby to:

- Better Market Streets Phase 1;
- SFMTA Folsom Streetscape Phase 2; and

- The joint BART/SFMTA Market Street Canopy Project.

To name a few off the top of my head.

And yet, in the face of these ongoing removals, in a neighborhood with a 4% canopy, 72% people of color, and 37% people in poverty, the City seems unperturbed with additional loss of canopy, or the fact that it is directly responsible for the lack of maintenance that likely caused these relatively young trees to fail in the first place.

The City selected these trees at a time when it was already well-known they required diligent maintenance. Then the City went on to not maintain these trees, propose clear-cutting when the Library decided they didn't like them (in 2018), and propose clear-cutting again (in 2021) when - not surprisingly - one of the neglected trees fell on a City truck.

These repeated failures demonstrate a lack of investment in canopy maintenance and growth in a neighborhood that can ill-afford additional neglect.

C. This Proposed Removal and Replacement Is Inconsistent With the City's Own Evaluations and Mr. Leggitt's Conclusions.

The City's own documentation indicates that many of the trees could thrive with proper maintenance, and not all of these trees can be replaced. So it is unclear how removal and replacement is even proposed, let alone sufficient to account for the loss of canopy, environmental benefits, and habitat that this removal will inflict on the living beings of this neighborhood.

Additionally, the City's findings are inconsistent with that of an experienced arborist, Mr. Leggitt, who effectively determined that the City rushed its conclusion and did not consider all remediative options.

V. CONCLUSION

For the above stated reasons, I respectfully request that the City be required to:

- Re-evaluate the condition of the remaining trees;
- Engage in remediative work rather than outright removal;
- Propose a more robust re/planting throughout this corridor and neighborhood to account for its already pathetic canopy percentage and ongoing tree losses; and
- Engage local community organizations such as Community Benefits Districts, the Tenderloin People's Congress, Demonstration Gardens and the Association of Raymatush Ohlone in remediative equity and greening efforts.

Dear Board of Appeals,

I am submitting my brief for the Library Grove Appeal on November 10.

Thank you,
Betty Traynor

Appeal No.: 21-08? (sorry, do not know exact #);

Appeal Title: Traynor vs. SFPW-BUF

Subject Property: 100 Larkin Street (Grove & Hyde Street frontages)

Determination Type: Tree Removal by City Agency,

Order No.: 205288

Date Filed: October 21, 2021; Hearing Date: November 10, 2021

My Presentation will include the following points:

- Loss of mature trees and why this is a major problem
- Need for Maintenance over time of City trees – trimming and other tree maintenance including improved tree base
- Library management agreed to keeping these trees in place after prior hearing.
- More trees needed in SF overall plus unequal distribution (see below)

With 15% of the city covered in trees, San Francisco has very little tree cover when compared to other major U.S. cities. Los Angeles has a tree canopy cover of 21%, New York City has 24%, and Seattle and Portland have nearly 30% of the area covered in trees. EarthDefine, in partnership with PlanItGeo, calculates this data for all U.S. cities roughly every two years to help city agencies and conservation organizations keep track of tree planting efforts over time.

But in San Francisco, not only are trees scarce, they are also unequally distributed across the city. Using EarthDefine's tree canopy data, the Chronicle calculated the average tree cover for each neighborhood, as defined by the San Francisco Planning Department, and identified which areas have the most or least tree cover.

In the Tenderloin where these trees are located, trees cover 2% of area compared to 13% in Western Addition and PacHts. And 27% in Glen Park/Twin Peaks areas.

Source: San Francisco is home to 669,000 trees. This satellite data shows where they're planted

- Conclusion: That will include call for street tree oversight and maintenance to be moved from DPW to the Department of the Environment.

APPELLANT(S) BRIEF FOR APPEAL NO. 21-083

“The City never wants to remove a tree unless it is absolutely necessary for public safety.” – Rachel Gordon, for the Department of Public Works, Mission Local, Jan 12, 2018

Is that still true?

First there were 19, one fell, and then there were 18; and then, somehow, suddenly, there were only 17. How did this happen?

Well, maybe it's part of a revolution. And aren't we having a revolution? According to the I Ching, a revolution is occurring when the documents in City Hall don't match what's happening out there in the City. And, indeed, that's what came to pass the other day on Hyde Street at Grove. With scant notice, that #18 tree was unexpectedly 'removed' by DPW, claiming it was an emergency. Why all of a sudden was this decided? Because the first one fell, landing on a DPW truck? Well, maybe this was disturbing enough to someone at DPW that they found it necessary to remove another without a normal notice to the public. It was barely noticed – there one day, gone the next – what with reduced foot traffic due to the pandemic conditions. Which continue. Witness these awkward remote hearings.

Anyway, that tree was dispatched without the usual formalities – which formalities we are observing here, regarding the remaining 17 ficus trees. It was a rash and poorly reached decision to destroy one of these long-standing beings without respecting the normal procedures at City Hall. In short, a revolutionary act?

And now it is the stated intention of some of the remaining members of the restructured Department of Public Works to destroy all of the trees for specious if not revolutionary reasons.

I intend to set forth the following reasons for the Board's consideration that this intention to destroy these trees is off the rails.

They should be trimmed, not destroyed. I know, I know, they like to refer to their destruction as 'removal', but that's treating them like furniture, as if you're just redecorating the streets. They're living beings and should be treated with respect for their rights on this planet.

A little history: They line the East and South sides of the Main Library – as they have been doing ever since this new building was built to house the library after three attempts by the Friends of the Library at getting the public to approve a humungous bond measure to pay to give up their handsome Carnegie home to go across the street into the slick new concrete structure with a cavernous empty hollow in the middle instead of additional open shelves for the public to browse but instead must page for books they might find in the card catalog. Anyway, that's how these trees got here, all at the same time. To line the sides of the new building.

But they have not been trimmed as needed; and that trimming is now called for – not destruction of the trees. Not cutting off their branches and feeding them into a contracted shredding machine; not sawing their branches and trunks into short enough lengths to fit into another contracted conveyance to cart them away to parts unknown. At what loss of value to the environment? At what expense to the taxpayers?

It is not necessary for any reason. .,.,.,.,.,

1. It is a waste of the City's resources, of the people's property and of their tax dollars – at least the taxes of those housed and affluent enough to pay taxes (at least those they don't avoid by adroit dodges). And surely they wouldn't want them wasted by paying to unnecessarily take out these trees that have been there keeping citizens company all these years decorating this cement block built to replace the handsome Carnegie beauty across the way. We should at least keep these trees help decorate the otherwise barren walls cum windows. (The museum that took over the old Main building had to cover over the words carved into the ornate facade of the building, as they were bound to do by agreement with the Library.
2. This removal would cause a severe loss to the City's aesthetic environment. These two well-canopied streets rival anything to be found on Market Street, which is barren for long stretches – and is currently being threatened with the loss of many trees by BART/MUNI stop redesign, as well as by a prospective Market Street overhaul. Maybe the reason for these hardy trees next to the Library is that it is built over one of S.F.'s underground streams, thus supporting this lush growth. Let's protect what we've got and keep all we can!
3. The costs of removal and replacement exceed the costs of maintaining these trees (including staff time, contractor costs, fuel consumption, etc.) should be required for inspection by this Board, in order to determine the best course to take, the costs to replace which with what. The difference in cost between trimming the trees and leaving them standing or, on the other hand, grinding them up and carting everything away somewhere and then bullying and planting new trees and tending them for three or so years till they're established – no easy feat on Grove Street, with the winds that the present trees cut down.
4. It'll be demoralizing to the public to see the trees that are growing there, healthy and strong, sawed into pieces and ground up and/or carted away in one of the contractors' remarkably purposed vehicles. It's a business. Contractors have it real good here in the City of St. Francis. Perhaps we should hire civil service staff to do this work.
5. And speaking of St. Francis. What about all those birds who live in those trees and sing their evening and morning concerts ass the sun comes and goes every day – there are some things one can count on, thankfully. All of which is to say that we won't have the company of the birds anymore – they can join the homeless, here and there... this street, that one...

6. Physical benefit to the atmosphere. These robust trees day and night take in CO2 and breathe out oxygen, especially useful at this corner where cross-town traffic backs up regularly at the light to cross Market St.

I trust that these reasons and others that may be put forth by the other appellants will serve to convince the members of the Board of the need to retain – and to act to maintain – these necessary and beautiful trees for the benefit of the citizens of this City.

Thank you for your attention.

APPELLANT(S) BRIEF FOR APPEAL NO. 21-084

Appeal No.21-084

Appellant: Kasey Rios Asberry

Respondent:DPW-BUF

Date Filed: August 24, 2021

Hearing Date: Nov 10, 2021

I. Introduction

Appellant, Kasey Rios Asberry, respectfully appeals the Department of Public Works' decision to remove the existing Main Library Grove surrounding the SF Main Library at the intersection of the Tenderloin - Mid-Market - Civic Center neighborhood. Order # 205288 DPW-BUF.

II. Argument Summary

The summary of the basis of this appeal is as follows:

1. The protection of these trees in principle was established in the earlier Appeal process 18-135, 18-136 where the Board of Appeals approved the Library Grove Plan 2019 which was complete in every aspect except for BUF contribution of approved species for replacement of any future trees but that agreed upon a robust maintenance plan that would preserve 18 of the 19 original trees.
2. The Library Grove Plan is a matter of public record representing hundreds of hours of volunteer work by Appellants and paid work by city staff to co-create. This effort should not be wasted but recognized and built upon - irrespective of employees retiring (Mr Lombardi of the Library or being on extended leave, Mr Buck). Public promises made to the community by City agents persist even if the agents change.
3. Additional circumstances emergent since this Working Group investment make preservation of this significant public green space even more markedly urgent.
  - a. COVID-19 pandemic underscores the relationship between access to trees and nature and public health especially in neighborhoods most disadvantaged and impacted by environmental inequity
  - b. The BLA report released on Oct 14 That calls into deep question the tree management rationale that produced no significant care of these trees - despite commitments - and others in the Civic Center that have caused massive failure and loss, in the context of city-wide disparity in maintenance of SF forest canopy
  - c. Declared Climate Emergency (Board of Supervisors, 2019), evidence of escalated climate change globally, regionally and locally require immediate revision of PW Code Article 16 and Planning Code 1023 to urgently conserve as much existing mature canopy as possible. This would include examination of the Ficus Removal ordinance cited in the Director's decision.

- d. Hearings currently in progress by Board of Supervisors Committees for Neighborhood Health & Safety and Land Use are currently examining the circumstances that have produced the deep deficit in Forest in San Francisco contravening the City's Climate Action Plan, Urban Forestry Plan and the public trust regarding stewardship of street trees pursuant to Proposition E.
- e. A continued pattern of densifying our downtown neighborhoods without adequate investment in access to healthy shaded parks and commons for residents
- f. Recent evaluation from independent arborist concludes these trees remain viable and should be considered as an ecological unit.

III. Factual Background

The trees surrounding the Main Library are regarded by the neighborhoods it is embedded in as a significant public green space. Public process during 2018 and 2019 established that the trees should be preserved in an adaptive management program that BUF, DPW, the Main Library, neighborhood tree advocates and the Board of Appeals all approved. BUF agreed in this process to robustly maintain these trees that they deemed were healthy and viable, but did not. No pruning was done at all except after a branch fell and in a separate circumstance close in time when the nearby theatre requested massive pruning so they could park theatre trucks there for 48 hours. Impacts of climate change have grown even more extreme in our most paved residential neighborhoods where canopy hovers around 3% or lower. COVID, extreme heat events, wildfire smoke require us as a community to rethink the policies that have produced the deep forest deficit. And this is happening now - so we should not make irreversible decisions now but allow public process to inform this decision. When the Main Library rescinded its request for a permit to remove the trees in early 2020 this did not abrogate the public process that generated the Main Library Grove Plan.

IV. Argument

From the perspective of the City's commitment to sound environmental science, environmental justice and neighborhood resilience, the previous Working Group's outcomes and votes of approval by the BOA must be respected. The Library Grove should be protected with adequate investment by DPW BUF to maintain it as agreed upon in recent precedent. This decision should be made in the full context of the wider re-examination of the tree stewardship by City agencies that has produced an environment of extreme environmental injustice in access to nature by some of our most marginalized communities.

V. Conclusion

The Library Grove must be conserved to preserve public trust in the City's commitment to keeping its word and to meet the current crises in public and environmental health. We cannot call ourselves an environmentally just City or a green City unless we act on our principles.

Lance Carnes vs SFPW/BUF Appeal No. 21-085

Appellant: Lance Carnes

Respondent: Stephen Keller, SFPW

Date Filed: August 24, 2021

Hearing Date: November 10, 2021

I. Introduction

Appellant, Lance Carnes, respectfully appeals the Department of Public Works' decision Tree Removal Order 205288, 100 Larkin St (Grove & Hyde Street Frontages)

II. Argument Summary

I believe the Public Works Order to remove 17 trees at 100 Larkin St is poorly advised because:

- An attempt to remove the trees in 2018 was unsuccessful, and even though a plan was agreed upon by the Appellants and the City then, the removal is being attempted again in mid-2021.
- A recent report by a licensed arborist says that the removal decision by DPW was "premature and lacking in basic observations and data." (Exhibit 1)
- The arborist report also indicates that before removing trees a more complete examination is needed because planting new trees in the 100 Larkin St area is much more difficult now than it was in 1995 when the current trees were first planted.
- Therefore, it is advisable to do a much more careful examination of the current situation, and not rush into removing the trees.

III. Factual Background

A physical inspection of all 17 trees was done by a licensed arborist, see Exhibit 1.

- The trees were inspected by DPW in August 2018 for the first removal hearing.
Some of the trees were inspected by DPW in June 2021 for the current removal hearing.
No inspections occurred during the three years between Aug 2018 and Jun 2021.
- The reason the current removal was proposed is because a tree on the Grove St frontage fell onto a DPW tree inspector's truck a few months ago.

IV. Argument

Based on the arborist report, many of the trees upon closer inspection could be saved, thereby maintaining some mature canopy at 100 Larkin St. The mature canopy is just now able to provide mature tree benefits such as shade and habitat.

If all trees are removed, establishing new trees will be very difficult due to the nature of the surrounding neighborhood.

V. Conclusion

Every attempt must be made to preserve as many of the current 17 trees as possible.

Exhibit 1. Arborist Report

EXHIBIT 1

Main Library Arborist Report

September 16, 2021

Here is a report with some considerations. You may use this and distribute it as an Arborist Report to the Board of Appeals, but only if it is provided in its entirety. I would like the Board to understand that I have produced this on a pro bono basis, without charge and to benefit the neighborhood interests.

Some of these trees unfortunately need to go, and some could probably stay if the City went to the trouble of removing the pavers that infill the tree wells. The point of a tree well is to allow for space to plant and cultivate a tree, not to simply fill it back in and make tree cultivation impossible. The idea of planting trees and planned obsolescence of trees at the same time is faulty design. The Landscape Architecture employed by the library when they replanted was inconsistent with a sustainable tree population.

Anyone actually wanting to keep these trees around (the Library or BUF) would insist on removing the pavers before condemning the trees. This ruling by DPW was, in my opinion, premature and lacking in basic observations and data. Where trees have not been girdled (the trunk overtopping the pavers), tree structure may still be viable.

Canopies of some trees are interdependent, so removing a tree or trees may require removal of others. That determination, just looking at Hyde Street, is easily seen and understood where the last 5 trees to the south are a group of their own (past the light pole and a little smaller), and the others to the north (by the bus stop) are one-sided and exposed due to the loss of an adjacent tree or trees. The loss of the two northward trees would not likely affect the last 5 to the south.

It seems that the library, and now with support of BUF, wants to do the simple thing of just removing them all and starting over. There are advantages to that approach where you have a uniform stand of trees (improving both appearance and shared resources such as light), and disadvantages such as the loss of mature trees and the many benefits only realized as trees mature (shade and habitat, for example).

Species selection by the library was poorly done and should not have settled on Indian laurel fig (aka Ficus). The species chosen must be (assuming removal occurs), wind tolerant, drought tolerant, resistant to abuses, able to fit into a very narrow space, be able to sustain traffic impacts, and likely other issues I haven't thought of. The idea of replacing trees is fraught with limitations on reestablishing trees where there are so many challenges. The difference in demographics and use patterns in this immediate neighborhood are very different now than they were when the ficus trees were planted, and reestablishment of trees at this site will likely be more difficult at this time than it was in 1995 when the existing trees were planted.

Re: Removal of seventeen (17) ficus trees adjacent to the Main Library at 100 Larkin Street

Public Works Order No. 205288

November 1, 2021

The Director of Public Works held a public hearing on July 19, 2021 to consider Order No. 204962, the removal of seventeen (17) ficus street trees with replacement on the Hyde St and Grove St frontages of 100 Larkin St, the San Francisco Main Library. Staff approved the tree removals and announced the hearing on June 14, 2021.

The Department's presentation was made by Susan Nawbary, with the Bureau of Urban Forestry. The Department seeks the removal of seventeen (17) ficus trees due to a variety of conditions including: competing/codominant stems, reverse trunk taper, lack of root crown/flare, trunk girdling by pavers and standing water. The removal process was initiated by the Bureau of Urban Forestry after a ficus tree failed at the main entrance on Grove St on May 29, 2021. The tree failed at the lower trunk/root crown area of the tree – a substantial structural defect which all the ficus trees exhibit on the Grove and Hyde St frontages.

When the ficus tree failed on May 29, 2021, it landed in the roadway on a Public Works vehicle. Fortunately, no members of the public were injured. In response to this near miss, the Bureau of Urban

Urban Forestry

urbanforestry@sfdpw.org | T. 628.652.8733 | 49 South Van Ness Ave. Suite 1000, San Francisco, CA 94103

Forestry evaluated the other ficus trees to assess if there was a need to remove any of the trees for immediate public safety concerns.

Due to the size of the tree, reverse trunk taper and a lean towards the intersection, it was determined that the tree on Hyde, closest to the corner of Grove, had a high likelihood of failing in a similar way (tree 11, ID 127636) to the ficus that failed near the main entrance. The Bureau removed this tree on June 10, 2021 as a public safety emergency. A few days later, Public Works announced that a hearing would be scheduled on July 19, 2021 to consider the removal of the remaining ficus on both frontages.

During the hearing, staff stated that the replacement trees would be 24" box size replacement trees and planted within six (6) months of tree removal. The species would likely be red maple, Acer rubrum. The library is in support of the removal and has committed to watering the replacement trees and helping monitor the trees to assist Public Works in ensuring that the trees become established.

The same tree protection measures discussed with the appellants during previous meetings and discussions with the library will be committed to. Specifically, the use of four, 10' tall wood stakes with protective screens.

Previously, the San Francisco Public Library submitted tree removal permit application 781797 for the removal of (19) ficus trees. Public Works approved the removals and a hearing was held on August 27, 2018. The decision issued by Public Works (Order No. 188456) on September 24, 2018 approved the removals of the nineteen (19) ficus street trees for removal with replacement with 24" box size trees.

The decision was appealed to Board of Appeals by Deetje Boler and Kasey Rios Asberry. Prior to the Board of Appeals hearing, Public Works proposed the following in its February 2020 Brief:

- Public Works to remove the eight (8) ficus trees within three months of approval
- Public Works will prune the remaining eleven (11) ficus trees at the same time
- Public Works will need to pave over several sites on the Hyde St. frontage that can't be replanted due to conflicts with the bus shelter and street light spacing (see Appendix)
- Public Works will also remove the square paving stones within the basins
- Public Works will remove the square paving stones from the existing planting sites on the Grove St. frontage, which will be replanted by the Library

However, the Public Library withdrew their tree removal application (781797), on June 16, 2020.

Due to the failure of the ficus tree at the entrance to the library, Public Works has determined that the lack of lower trunk taper and girdling caused by the pavers and standing water, makes the remaining ficus trees prone to fail in a high pedestrian/auto volume area of the City. These concerns about the lack of trunk flare and reverse taper have been part of the discussion since Public Works reviewed the library's permit application in 2018. In fact, a review of the Public Works decision from the hearing in 2018 (Order no. 188456) went into detail about the concerns of these structural defects. However, at that time, none of the ficus trees at the site had experienced a trunk/root crown failure. See Appendix G, Page 7.

Urban Forestry

urbanforestry@sfdpw.org | T. 628.652.8733 | 49 South Van Ness Ave. Suite 1000, San Francisco, CA 94103

On September 7, 2021, tree no. 1 on the Hyde St frontage of the library was damaged when a large truck parked along-side the ficus trees. When the truck hit a primary branch over the road, it caused the entire section of the tree to crack and split off, resting on the roof of the truck. The tree crew for Public Works responded to the site and removed the section that failed. What remained of the tree was no longer stable and the rest of the tree was removed at the same time.

At the time of this tree removal, Public Work tree crews pruned seven ficus along Hyde St to improve the clearance over the road to prevent similar damage to any of the other ficus trees on site. There are now a total of sixteen (16) ficus trees adjacent to the library, with seven (7) on Hyde, and nine (9) on Grove.

Removing the existing pavers within the tree basins will not undo or reverse the lack of root flare and trunk taper in ficus trees at this site. It has been suggested that a root crown excavation would help Public Works determine how much decay is present within the lower trunks and root crowns of the remaining ficus trees. Unfortunately, even if no decay is present, the lack of taper and root flare, combined with or without girdling injuries make these ficus prone to fail at this location within the trees.

If approved for removal, Public Works will plant the replacement trees at, or slightly above grade, to reduce the same injuries from occurring, all pavers will be removed from within the tree basins, and the replacement species will be much more tolerant of water saturated soils. Unfortunately, the existing conditions cannot be reversed or adequately mitigated.

Public Works seeks to ensure safe, clean, sustainable, and inviting public spaces. While much of the discussions prior to May of this year, have focused on the potential for ficus trees to experience large branch and stem failures, the lower trunk/root crown failure of the ficus tree at the Grove St entrance has changed our understanding of what could happen next. Public Works and the library cannot risk a similar trunk failure to the one that occurred in May of this year. Given that all of the trees share the same characteristic of the tree that failed, and we witnessed the recent failure, we believe it is a relatively short period of time before additional trees fail in the same manner.

We look forward to providing additional testimony at the Board of Appeals hearing on November 10th. We respectfully request that the five appeals be denied and that our proposed removal and replacement of the trees be allowed to move forward.

Respectfully,

Chris Buck

Public Works Order No: 205288

The Director of Public Works held a Public Hearing on Monday, July 19th 2021 commencing at 5:30 PM via teleconference to consider several items related to tree removals. In accordance with numerous local and state proclamations regarding Covid-19, the hearing was held through videoconferencing to allow remote public comment.

The hearing was to consider Order No. 204962 the removal of seventeen (17) Ficus street trees with replacement on the Grove St. and Hyde St. frontages of the Main Library. (Staff approved tree removal and announced hearing on June 14th)

Findings:

The Department’s presentation was made by Susan Nawbary, Bureau of Urban Forestry. In summary, the Department recommended the removal of seventeen (17) Ficus trees due to a variety of conditions including: competing/codominant stems, reverse trunk taper, lack of root crown/flare, trunk girdling by pavers, and standing water.

One tree failed on 5/29/21. It failed at the base and fell into the roadway onto a vehicle. Another tree was posted on 6/24/21 for emergency removal due to its severe lean. Ms. Nawbary noted that the removal of one tree exposes the adjoining tree to increased wind exposure.

Ms. Nawbary referenced DPW Order #183151 Tree Removal Criteria for Ficus Trees and noted that each of the trees fell within the criteria for removal.

Ms. Nawbary stated that if approved, the trees would be replaced by 24” box trees within six months of removal. Ms. Nawbary did not specify which species would be used as replacement, as that depends on the availability in the nursery.

Ms. Maureen Singleton, Chief Operations Officer for the Library spoke in support of the removal and committed to helping maintain any replacement trees.

Mr. Lance Carnes opposed the removal of the trees and noted that the Library had made the same request in 2018 and that there had not been a tree survey within the time frame of August 2018 until the tree failed in June 2021. He noted that the database was incomplete and that the inspection should take place more often. He additionally noted that the failure of one tree does not guarantee that the other trees will fail.

Ms. Kathy Howard opposed the removal of the trees and noted that replacement trees would take years to fill the void. She also stated that the conditions were the result of neglect, added pavers and poor care, noting that the results will be the same for the new trees if they are cared for in a similar manner.

Mr. Josh Klipp opposed the removal of the trees, noting that they were initially planted incorrectly and that the City is at fault for the condition of the trees. He stated that the girdling might be mitigated by pulling back some of the pavers and that clear cutting was not the answer. He stated that the City's negligence was the cause of the loss of greenery and environmental benefit and noted that the pavers had not been pulled back for a thorough investigation of the root crown/flare.

Ms. Deetje Boler opposed the removal of the trees and concurred with the sentiments of Mr. Klipp. She also stated that should the trees be removed, she opposed deciduous trees as the leaf litter would be a maintenance issue and the trees would provide less environmental benefits when the trees were bare.

An anonymous caller agreed with Mr. Klipp and Ms. Boler.

Ms. Roz Arbel opposed the removal of the trees, supporting the comments of the other speakers in opposition and noted that it seems as though there is mass deforestation of the City in the midst of a climate crisis.

Mr. Michael Nulty, Executive Director of the Alliance for a Better District 6, spoke in opposition to the removal of the trees and stated that the trees were healthy. He said that removing them would remove cooling shade and there would be a loss of environmental benefits.

Mr. John Nulty opposed the removal of the trees and noted that trees at Fulton and Larkin had been removed three years ago have not been replaced. He noted that the library trees were first proposed for removal in 2018 and there has been 8000 signatures to keep the trees.

Ms. Susan Bryan also spoke in opposition to the tree removal.

The Hearing officer gives weight to DPW Order #183151 Tree Removal Criteria for Ficus Trees and the representation that each of the trees falls within at least one of the conditions warranting removal. Additionally, great weight is given to the tree failure on 5/29/21 and the posting of another tree for emergency removal as evidence of a public safety risk.

The Hearing Officer acknowledges the strong public sentiment to preserve the tree canopy, along with clear evidence of the City's failure to properly plant and maintain the trees proposed for removal. However, no evidence was presented that contradicted the staff report. Should the Acting Director approve the staff recommendation, the City should commit to a robust planting and maintenance program that will ensure that the replacement trees will thrive.

Recommendation:

Uphold the decision by staff to approve the removal of seventeen (17) trees with replacement.

Appeal:

This Order may be appealed to the Board of Appeals within 15 days of August 9th, 2021.

Tree Removal Hearing
July 19, 2021

Public Works Strategic Plan:

Goal 1: Ensure Safe, Clean, and Green Infrastructure and Public Right of Way

StreetTreeSF

Order No. 204962

100 Larkin Street (SF Main Library)

Removal of seventeen (17) ficus street trees with replacement on the Grove St. and Hyde St. frontages of the Main Library.

There was a recent tree failure at sidewalk grade, of one ficus tree at the main entrance on Grove (5/29/21), and an emergency removal on 6/10/21 of one tree on Hyde closest to Grove: the lower trunks of the trees exhibit a lack of taper and are decayed.

Hyde Street – 8 Trees

Grove Street – 9 Trees

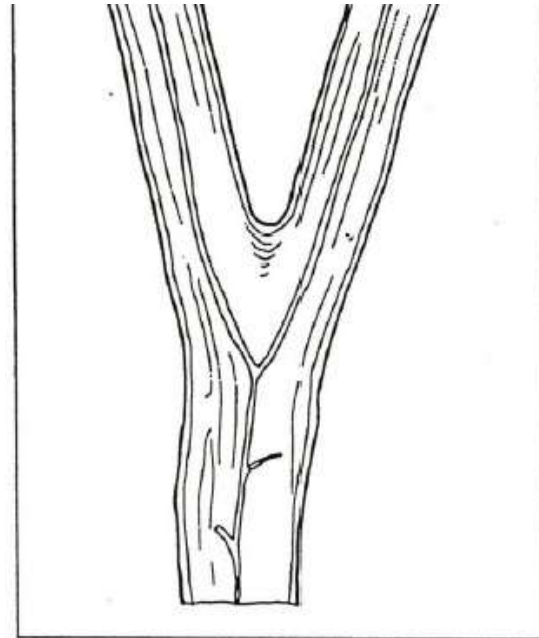

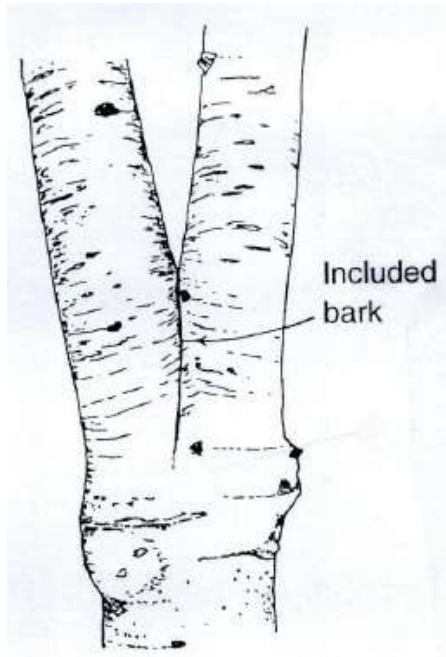

Fig. 8.4 Codominant stems. The nearly equal diameter of the two stems can make them more prone to failure.

Tree removal criteria for ficus trees (Ficus microcarpa ‘Nitida’).

- Competing/codominant stems, with acute angles of attachment, with or without included bark

Large trees, with multiple competing trunks/stems, with acute angles of attachment (where pruning off the limb to mitigate the attachment would remove 30 percent or more of the tree canopy) with or without included bark.

- Failure history

Previous limb failures at point of codominance, or multiple previous limb failures within the canopy.

- Canopy vigor

If the canopy of the tree shows decline and reduced vigor in 25% or more of the canopy.

- Large limbs damaged by vehicles

If there are large limb(s) that have repeatedly been hit by vehicles (where pruning off the limb to mitigate the damage would remove 30 percent or more of canopy).

- Root pruning history

If the tree has been root pruned more than two times

- Canopy balance

If the tree has been pruned for building clearance to the extent that it is seriously imbalanced, and balancing necessitates the removal of more than 25 percent of remaining canopy.

- Large stature

If the tree is taller than 50 feet, even if other criteria are not met, the approval may be granted based on size.

- Utility conflicts

If the tree has canopy or main trunk in conflict with existing utility infrastructure, such as high-voltage power lines, Muni overhead lines, or street lights.

- Live crown ratio

The ratio of the size of a tree's live crown to its total height. Fifty percent live crown ratio is ideal but rarely attained in urban environments. Live-crown ratios of less than 30 percent shall be considered problematic.

If necessary, place two opposing stakes with flexible ties outside of root ball. Ties should be placed on the lower half of the tree and allow trunk movement.

February 13, 2020

The San Francisco Public Library submitted a tree removal permit application (781797) for the removal of nineteen (19) ficus trees adjacent to the main branch of the library at 100 Larkin St.

Urban Forestry staff approved the proposed tree removals and during the 30-day public notification period, protests were received, and a Departmental hearing was scheduled. Public Works held a hearing on August 27, 2018 to consider Order No. 188302, the removal of nineteen (19) street trees with replacement to be determined based on location of utilities, street lights, bus zones, and other street furniture adjacent to 100 Larkin St. The hearing was very well-attended by the public and an online petition was signed by hundreds of people.

The resulting eight-page hearing decision issued by Public Works (Order No. 188456) on September 24, 2018 recommended approving all nineteen (19) ficus trees for removal with replacement with 24" box size trees.

Separate appeals were received by Deetje Boler and Kasey Rios Asberry. During the appeal process both Public Works staff and Library staff have met with the appellants, including Betty Traynor, who has served as a representative for Ms.

Boler. The conversations have been robust and plentiful. Many “outside of the box” ideas have been discussed. The Library has served as the host of these meetings.

Over the last year, all parties have mutually agreed to multiple continuances, to support further development of a menu of possible mitigations.

At the September 2019 Board of Appeals hearing, all parties spoke to the current status of settlement discussions.

Key compromise by Public Works:

- Removal of 8 out of the existing 19 ficus trees; 11 to remain
- Revised which trees to be removed, to maintain a mix of existing ficus trees along both frontages, due to Appellants’ requests to maintain as strong a green corridor along Hyde St. as possible
- Replacement with 7 trees
- Prune the remaining trees at the time that the other ficus are removed to reduce likelihood of stem failures

Key commitment by the library:

- Replacement with 36” box size trees
- Within 3 months after the tree(s) have been removed
- Watering and establishment, and protection, of replacement trees

Replacement species:

After considering different replacement species options, Public Works believes that replacement with red maple (Acer rubrum) remains the best solution for this site, best suited to deal with the daily washing down of the sidewalks by Library and Public Works staff. This species has a very high tolerance for saturated soils, which results in low oxygen content within soil. The existing and replacement trees will be sitting in the excess water, all day every day. Red maple trees can still thrive while on the edge of ponds.

Although planting evergreen species was considered, the conditions at the street level are too challenging. San Francisco plants a diverse range of tree species, and many with high carbon sequestration rates. While the architectural concerns that were raised by former commissioner Frank Fung remained at the forefront of our discussion, regarding his observation about the concept of dual-facades, with the civic-center facing sides of the building with deciduous planetrees accenting the neoclassical buildings, and the Market St. facing sides with evergreen species, accenting the modern, contemporary bustle of Market St., we ultimately need to contend with very sobering sidewalk conditions.

Other Mitigations:

Both Public Works and the Public Library remain committed to furthering the current discussions about additional mitigation measures. Both agencies have been actively involved in pursuing additional measures to mitigate the loss of the mature canopies as outlined by Appellant Kasey Rios Asberry and Deetje Boler, through Betty Traynor.

Commitment from the library:

Public Works wishes to thank the library staff at the main library for hosting the many meetings that we have had with the appellants, over the course of a year. As part of this brief, Roberto Lombardi, Director of Facilities for the San Francisco Public Library, wanted to make sure that the library's commitment to replant the replacement trees, and to continue to work with the appellants and the community was highlighted:

"The library is highly motivated and committed to replacing the trees as soon as possible and can commit to replacing the trees within no longer than three months after the trees have been removed by Public Works. Furthermore, the Library is strongly committed to maintaining the old and replacement trees around the Main Library in the best possible health. The library also remains committed to pursuing additional mitigations that we have been discussing with the appellants over the course of the last year. We remain committed to working with the appellants on the design and installation of greening improvements around the Main Library." (February 13, 2020)

Tree Removal and Replacement Planting Plan

Tree Removal and other site work (by Public Works)

- Public Works to remove the eight (8) ficus trees within three months of approval
- Public Works will prune the remaining eleven (11) ficus trees at the same time
- Public Works will need to pave over several sites on the Hyde St. frontage that can't be replanted due to conflicts with the bus shelter and street light spacing
- Public Works will also remove the square paving stones within the basins and work with their own Landscape Architect, John Dennis, and the appellants, to oversee replacement tree basin design
- Public Works will remove the square paving stones from the existing planting sites on the Grove St. frontage, which will be replanted by the Library

Tree Planting and Establishment (by Library)

- The library will hire a tree contractor to purchase and plant the eight (8) 36" box size red maple trees (Acer rubrum), to be planted within three (3) months after the ficus trees have been removed
- The trees will be staked using four (4), ten' tall, 3" wide wooden stakes, and protective screens to reduce impacts from vandalism.
- The trees will be watered once a week, for three years, which is the typical establishment period for street trees. Due to the larger box size, this may require an additional 4th or 5th year, as necessary, to become completely established (based on the daily washing of the sidewalk, this 4th and 5th year of periodic watering will not likely be required, but it will be planned for, if necessary)

- Public Works will remove the square paving stones from the existing planting sites on the Grove St. frontage, which will be replanted by the Library

Conclusion:

Although Public Works and the Library remain committed to pursuing additional mitigation measures to counter the loss of a portion of the ficus canopy at 100 Larkin St., both agencies believe they have demonstrated good faith efforts with the appellants to respectfully ask as this time, that the removal and replacement tree plan adjacent to the Main Library be put into action. San Francisco Public Works asks the Board of Appeals to uphold Order No. 188456 and permit no. 781797 with the following modifications: that eight (8) of the nineteen (19) ficus trees be approved for removal with replacement within three months, with 36" box size red maple trees (Acer rubrum).

Public Works Order No: 188456

The Director of Public Works held a Public Hearing on Monday, August 27th, 2018 commencing at 5:30 PM at City Hall, Room 416, 1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, San Francisco, CA 94102. The hearing was to consider Order No. 188302 for the removal with replacement of nineteen (19) street trees adjacent 100 Larkin Street (Main Library).

Findings:

A tree removal application requesting the removal of nine (9) ficus trees on Hyde Street and ten (10) ficus trees on Grove Street at the main branch of the public library was submitted by the Director of Facilities for the San Francisco public library. The reasons for removal stated on the application were primarily focused on health and security issues around the library: light transmission, air movement, visibility, and the false sense of cover that has promoted activities on the sidewalk. The main library is under great pressure from both the community and onsite staff to improve the conditions on the sidewalks around the main library.

The Director of Facilities for the library is also aware of the public safety concerns that the City has related to ficus trees with poor structure. Public Works worked with the Director of Facilities to remove several ficus trees with poor structure along the Pond Street frontage of the Eureka Valley/Harvey Milk branch library on 16th Street.

At the main library, there is a daily routine early in the morning where the sidewalks on Hyde Street and Grove Street are swept and washed down with high pressure washers to clean them before the start of each day.

In 2014, to address the number of stem failures that had been occurring to ficus trees, the Director of Public Works issued Order No. 183151, "Tree removal criteria for ficus trees (Ficus microcarpa 'Nitida'). The Order acknowledges the many important benefits that mature trees provide, but it also highlights that the Urban Forestry Ordinance, Article 16 of the Public Works Code, was created to reduce the public hazard, nuisance, and expense occasioned by improper tree selection, planting, and maintenance.

In reviewing the application to remove the trees, each tree was individually evaluated, and the structure of each tree was closely examined. The trees were reviewed on multiple site visits by two Urban Forestry Inspectors, the Urban Forester and the Superintendent – all ISA Certified Arborists.

The following are brief descriptions of each of the trees and an assessment of their structure.

Hyde Street ficus trees

Tree no. 1 on Hyde Street (tree furthest from Grove)

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and bark inclusions. Union visible on north side of trunk is very poor. Base of trunk: no root flare at base of trunk/root crown. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 2 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment. Base of trunk shows reverse taper at base, instead of proper root flare at root crown.

Tree no. 3 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment. Main trunk of tree divides into approximately 6 separate main stems, all with weak unions. Standing water in basin, no trunk flare at base of trunk. Lack of proper taper. 4' space from this tree to bus shelter.

Tree no. 4 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment. Main trunk of tree divides into approximately 6 separate main stems at the same section of the tree, all with weak unions. Standing water in basin, no trunk flare at base of trunk. Lack of proper taper. Tree is only 8.5' from street light and 3.7' from bus shelter.

Tree no. 5 on Hyde Street

Structure of tree is poor, not as bad as others, but the building side of the trunk has a very acute angle of attachment, and that will never improve. Not as large as the other trees. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk. Only 9' from street light.

Tree no. 6 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and included bark. The codominant stems on the north side are particularly problematic. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk. Standing water in all tree basins.

Tree no. 7 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and included bark. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 8 on Hyde Street

Poor structure with codominant stems and acute angles of attachment. Reverse trunk taper in lower trunk. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 9 on Hyde Street (tree closest to Grove)

Larger than the other trees. Very poor structure with multiple codominant stems with included bark and acute angles of attachment. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk.

Grove Street ficus trees

Tree no. 1 on Grove Street (tree closest to Hyde)

Very poor structure with multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and bark inclusions. The tree experienced a large stem failure over the road several years ago that was not attributable to a lack of clearance over the road – the failure occurred due to poor structure. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk, standing water in basin. Girdling of trunk due to pavers left in place too long. Near blue curb zone (handicap parking), but replantable in current location.

Tree no. 2 on Grove Street

Very poor structure. Two main stems twist around each other. Other main unions have codominant stems with included bark and narrow angles of attachment. Lower trunk has reverse trunk taper. Standing water in basin. Pavers are beginning to girdle base of trunk.

Tree no. 3 on Grove Street

Very poor structure. Large injury on East side of trunk, with decay. Injury to this stem occurred over 10 years ago, and has not compartmentalized. Large callus rolls are forming but injury is close to two other main unions, which is very problematic. Large attachments on the other side of this section of the tree are prone to fail, due to this injury. Base of trunk is being girdled on one side due to pavers being allowed to remain in ground too long. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 4 on Grove Street

Very poor structure with multiple codominant stems with included bark and acute angles of attachment. Reverse trunk taper in lower trunk, standing water in basin. Some girdling damage from pavers being left in place on one side of basin.

Tree no. 5 on Grove Street

Very poor structure with multiple codominant stems with included bark and narrow angles of attachment. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 6 on Grove Street

This tree is much smaller than the others. It is located very close to the below-ground electrical vaults. There are missing trees nearby, which will be further discussed. Was this tree a replacement or is there a lack of soil volume below-ground? Structure is fair at this point. Base of trunk has reverse trunk taper, standing water in basin.

Tree no. 7 on Grove Street

Another smaller tree but the structure is very poor, with a large union that has an acute angle of attachment and included bark. Standing water in basin. The tree is also located between two below-ground electrical vaults. Limited growth could be due to lack of soil volume below ground.

Tree no. 8 on Grove Street

Tree vigor is in severe decline, which is visible in its lack of leaves (canopy). Approximately 50% canopy die back in center of crown. Poor structure due to multiple codominant stems with included bark and acute angles of attachment. Base of trunk is being girdled by pavers that have remained in place too long.

Tree no. 9 on Grove Street

Very poor structure with the main trunk dividing into approximately five stems, all with acute angles of attachment, codominant stems and included bark. Reverse trunk taper. Standing water in tree basin.

Tree no. 10 on Grove Street

Very poor structure with codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and included bark. One recent branch failure over the road was likely due to lack of clearance over the road, but the union that failed was codominant, with an acute angle of attachment and included bark. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk and standing water in basin. Some girdling damage from pavers left in place too long.

At the hearing, the Urban Forester presented background information about the concerns the Department has about stem failures in ficus trees, and included both photos of trees that have failed in this way in San Francisco and diagrams of branching structure to explain what is meant by phrases such as "codominant stems", "included bark", and "narrow or acute angles of attachment" and how this poor structure is prone to fail. Copies of this criteria were also made available at the hearing.

The proposed removal of nineteen trees has generated a lot of concern from the public and many protests were received via email and regular mail. At the hearing, nine members of the public spoke against the proposed removal of the trees, citing the many benefits that mature trees provide. Additionally, an online petition to protest the proposed removal of the trees was created on change.org by a San Francisco resident and has been signed by approximately 900 people.

San Francisco Public Works and Friends of the Urban Forest have removed ficus trees as an approved species to be planted within the public right-of-way as a street tree since the late 1990s. This was largely done because of the amount of infrastructure damage caused by the root systems of the trees. Large stem failures were not a concern at that time.

Standing water in tree basins

At the hearing, the Urban Forester explained the concerns he has with the standing water in the tree basins. The Director of Facilities and other facility managers on site confirmed that each morning, very early, the sidewalks are pressure-washed. Logistics were discussed to determine if the sidewalks could be cleaned without the use of the water (on a daily basis), or if a raised curb could be installed around the tree basins to keep some of the water out. Urban Forestry staff agrees with the library that creating a low curb around the basins would not solve the problem; garbage, needles and feces would still make their way into this area and would need to be washed out.

The root crown, or base of a tree's trunk is a very sensitive part of a tree. Many tree species do not tolerate their lower trunks or roots sitting in standing water on a daily basis. This moisture promotes decay within the base of the root crown and the saturated soils pushes out the oxygen in the soil and impacts root growth. It is recommended to avoid prolonged saturation of the soil or standing water against the base of trees. This may be one reason that the trees along both frontages do not show the trunk flare that is more typical of the species. In fact, the subject trees have reverse trunk taper. Reverse trunk taper is problematic because it can lead to entire failure of the tree in the lower trunk. The water can promote the growth of fungus within the root crown of the tree and eventually could lead to a failure of the lower trunks as well.

The issues of the standing water were not discussed with the library until after the 30-day posting period had begun. This is why the issue of the standing water was not included on the posting notices, under the reasons for removal. The trees were approved for removal at the staff level based on the structural problems with ficus trees, and the lack of proper root flare (reverse trunk taper). If the trees remain, long term, the daily washing of the sidewalks with a power washer could lead to lower trunk failures, due to the formation of decay in the lower trunks.

Replacement tree spacing

Regarding replacement tree spacing from each other and utilities, the Grove Street frontage of the property has the fewest conflicts in meeting the required clearances between trees and utilities, and these trees all appear to be replantable, if approved for removal. There are two original planting sites that have not been replanted on Grove Street due to impacts from the electrical vaults and vents. The process to mark the underground utilities will be initiated and if these two sites can be replanted, they will be replanted along with the rest of the trees on that block.

The spacing of the trees on the Hyde Street frontage is more problematic. Two trees have basins that are less than 6' from the bus shelter. Six (6') feet of clearance is required between the bus shelter and the edge of the closest tree basin. At present, the trunks of the two ficus trees are 4' and 3.75' away from the shelter; the basins are less than 2' from the basins. If approved for removal, both of these trees would not be replanted. This spacing requirement is to address the accessibility needs of SFMTA and Public Works to allow those with disabilities to safely move between the shelter and any tree basins (Public Works Order 187246, Regulating the planting, maintenance and removal of trees).

One of these ficus trees is also just 8.5' from the street light. Species that are considered large stature at maturity, such as the ficus, require 21' from the street light, to help maintain public safety. Tree no. 4 & 5 are 8.5' and 9' away from the street light.

Summary of replacement tree conflicts on the Hyde Street frontage:

- Tree no. 3 would not be replaced because the site is too close to the bus shelter;
- Tree no. 4 would not be replaced because the site is too close to the bus shelter and street light;

- Tree no. 5 would not be replaced because it is too close to the street light. The spacing between the trees on Hyde Street is just 18'. Due to these necessary spacing requirements detailed above, if approved for removal, nine (9) trees would be removed and six (6) trees would be planted, with spacing increased between the trees. The notice stated: replacement trees will be spaced further apart from each other, street lights, and the bus shelter.

Public Works would not approve a tree for removal solely based on a conflict with a utility unless public safety was at stake. When trees are removed however, the planting sites need to meet the required clearances from utilities. None of the subject trees were approved for removal at the staff level due to utility conflicts, but spacing the trees further apart will address some of the concerns expressed by library management.

Replacement species

The library had a short list of deciduous species that they were interested in planting, as the possible replacement tree. Of these species, red maple (Acer rubrum) would be the most tolerant of the daily power washing that occurs each morning at the library. The root systems of red maples can tolerate daily and prolonged saturation of soil. The trees will lose their leaves in the winter and provide more light to the sidewalks, which would address one of the library's chief concerns of the site. Red maples are native to the Eastern United States and can be found thriving on the edges of ponds, where their root systems are saturated year-round.

Posting notices/public notification

During the required 30-day notification period Public Works received one call from a member of the public pointing out that the posting notices stated that the trees were located on the Larkin and Hyde Street frontages. However, the trees are located on the Grove and Hyde Street frontages. This was brought to the attention of the Department on July 12th or 13th and corrected notices fixing this typo were placed on the trees on July 13th. The trees themselves were accurately posted with these notices and the address on all notices always stated 100 Larkin St., the address of the Main library. Based on the amount of immediate feedback the Department received about the proposed removals, we do not believe this typo on the notice had any impact on the public's ability to be informed. The posting period was June 22nd through July 22nd and staff and the library monitored the notices and posted replacement notices two times during this 30-day period because the notices had been vandalized or removed illegally by the public – something which was anticipated by staff.

During the shorter posting period leading up to the hearing, staff replaced the notices one time, as well.

Summary

The Director of Facilities for the San Francisco Public Library submitted a removal application, to remove the ficus trees because of health and safety issues that the trees are creating on site. Facility maintenance staff at the library believe that a lot of the issues they are experiencing are attributable to the denseness of the foliage on this species of tree. The canopies are dense, there is standing water in the basins, flies gather due to the stagnant air flow, and the canopies create a false sense of cover for street activities during the day and at night. Staff witness rats entering and climbing the trees at night. Management is also aware that ficus trees have become problematic due to large stem failures, and because the library is a civic hub, on a busy street with a high volume of patrons and auto traffic, and people sleeping on the sidewalks at night, if a stem/large branch failure should occur to one of the ficus trees, there is a strong likelihood that someone may be injured.

In evaluating the application for removal of the ficus trees, at the staff level, Public Works bases the decision to approve or deny a tree for removal on the relative sustainability of the subject tree(s). The tree removal criteria for ficus trees, referenced in the findings and attached with this decision, outlines the concerns that the Department has with ficus trees that have codominant stems with narrow angles of attachment, with or without included bark. The issues with ficus trees in San Francisco has been well-documented in the media over the last several years. The tree removal criteria for ficus trees was created to provide greater context to the public about these concerns, and to explain why the Department was lowering its threshold for when ficus trees would be approved for removal.

In addition to the structural defects often found in ficus trees, the species is known for causing a lot of damage to sidewalk infrastructure. The subject trees have yet to cause damage to the sidewalk, but the sidewalks are not wide on these two frontages. The canopies of the trees are now constantly contacting the building. This wouldn't be an issue if the sidewalk was wider. Based on how large this species has the potential to keep growing, the location of the ficus trees on these two narrow sidewalks is another factor when considering their long term sustainability at this site.

The reverse trunk taper is a concern, because trees can fail in this lower portion of the trunk. The issue of the standing water, not fully understood until the trees were already in their 30-day posting period, is an even larger concern. The base of a tree's trunk (root crown) should be dry, not wet. It appears that the trees may have been planted a little low (below grade), at the time that they were planted when the building was completed. A replacement species such as red maple, that tolerates fully saturated soils, can be planted a few inches higher at the time of replacement, to make sure that the base of the trunk is above the top level of the surrounding sidewalk grade, to anticipate some settling after the planting has occurred.

Recommendation:

Based on the testimony provided at the hearing, a review of the correspondence received via email and regular mail, and site visits, the recommendation is to approve the main library's application to remove the nineteen (19) ficus trees along the Grove Street and Hyde Street frontages of the property. The replacement trees shall be a minimum of 24" box size trees and the replacement species shall be red maple (Acer rubrum) or a cultivar of that species. Most trees on the Grove Street frontage of the property appear to be replantable. The tree spacing from utilities and street furniture on Hyde Street will reduce the number of replacement trees from nine to six.

Public Works Order No: 188456

The Director of Public Works held a Public Hearing on Monday, August 27th, 2018 commencing at 5:30 PM at City Hall, Room 416, 1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place, San Francisco, CA 94102. The hearing was to consider Order No. 188302 for the removal with replacement of nineteen (19) street trees adjacent 100 Larkin Street (Main Library).

Findings:

A tree removal application requesting the removal of nine (9) ficus trees on Hyde Street and ten (10) ficus trees on Grove Street at the main branch of the public library was submitted by the Director of Facilities for the San Francisco public library. The reasons for removal stated on the application were primarily focused on health and security issues around the library: light transmission, air movement, visibility, and the false sense of cover that has promoted activities on the sidewalk. The main library is under great pressure from both the community and onsite staff to improve the conditions on the sidewalks around the main library.

The Director of Facilities for the library is also aware of the public safety concerns that the City has related to ficus trees with poor structure. Public Works worked with the Director of Facilities to remove several ficus trees with poor structure along the Pond Street frontage of the Eureka Valley/Harvey Milk branch library on 16th Street.

At the main library, there is a daily routine early in the morning where the sidewalks on Hyde Street and Grove Street are swept and washed down with high pressure washers to clean them before the start of each day.

In 2014, to address the number of stem failures that had been occurring to ficus trees, the Director of Public Works issued Order No. 183151, "Tree removal criteria for ficus trees (Ficus microcarpa 'Nitida'). The Order acknowledges the many important benefits that mature trees provide, but it also highlights that the Urban Forestry Ordinance, Article 16 of the Public Works Code, was created to reduce the public hazard, nuisance, and expense occasioned by improper tree selection, planting, and maintenance.

In reviewing the application to remove the trees, each tree was individually evaluated, and the structure of each tree was closely examined. The trees were reviewed on multiple site visits by two Urban Forestry Inspectors, the Urban Forester and the Superintendent – all ISA Certified Arborists.

The following are brief descriptions of each of the trees and an assessment of their structure.

Hyde Street ficus trees

Tree no. 1 on Hyde Street (tree furthest from Grove)

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and bark inclusions. Union visible on north side of trunk is very poor. Base of trunk: no root flare at base of trunk/root crown. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 2 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment. Base of trunk shows reverse taper at base, instead of proper root flare at root crown.

Tree no. 3 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment. Main trunk of tree divides into approximately 6 separate main stems, all with weak unions. Standing water in basin, no trunk flare at base of trunk. Lack of proper taper. 4' space from this tree to bus shelter.

Tree no. 4 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment. Main trunk of tree divides into approximately 6 separate main stems at the same section of the tree, all with weak unions. Standing water in basin, no trunk flare at base of trunk. Lack of proper taper. Tree is only 8.5' from street light and 3.7' from bus shelter.

Tree no. 5 on Hyde Street

Structure of tree is poor, not as bad as others, but the building side of the trunk has a very acute angle of attachment, and that will never improve. Not as large as the other trees. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk. Only 9' from street light.

Tree no. 6 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and included bark. The codominant stems on the north side are particularly problematic. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk. Standing water in all tree basins.

Tree no. 7 on Hyde Street

Very poor structure, multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and included bark. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 8 on Hyde Street

Poor structure with codominant stems and acute angles of attachment. Reverse trunk taper in lower trunk. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 9 on Hyde Street (tree closest to Grove)

Larger than the other trees. Very poor structure with multiple codominant stems with included bark and acute angles of attachment. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk.

Grove Street ficus trees

Tree no. 1 on Grove Street (tree closest to Hyde)

Very poor structure with multiple codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and bark inclusions. The tree experienced a large stem failure over the road several years ago that was not attributable to a lack of clearance over the road – the failure occurred due to poor structure. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk, standing water in basin. Girdling of trunk due to pavers left in place too long. Near blue curb zone (handicap parking), but replantable in current location.

Tree no. 2 on Grove Street

Very poor structure. Two main stems twist around each other. Other main unions have codominant stems with included bark and narrow angles of attachment. Lower trunk has reverse trunk taper. Standing water in basin. Pavers are beginning to girdle base of trunk.

Tree no. 3 on Grove Street

Very poor structure. Large injury on East side of trunk, with decay. Injury to this stem occurred over 10 years ago, and has not compartmentalized. Large callus rolls are forming but injury is close to two other main unions, which is very problematic. Large attachments on the other side of this section of the tree are prone to fail, due to this injury. Base of trunk is being girdled on one side due to pavers being allowed to remain in ground too long. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 4 on Grove Street

Very poor structure with multiple codominant stems with included bark and acute angles of attachment. Reverse trunk taper in lower trunk, standing water in basin. Some girdling damage from pavers being left in place on one side of basin.

Tree no. 5 on Grove Street

Very poor structure with multiple codominant stems with included bark and narrow angles of attachment. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk. Standing water in basin.

Tree no. 6 on Grove Street

This tree is much smaller than the others. It is located very close to the below-ground electrical vaults. There are missing trees nearby, which will be further discussed. Was this tree a replacement or is there a lack of soil volume below-ground? Structure is fair at this point. Base of trunk has reverse trunk taper, standing water in basin.

Tree no. 7 on Grove Street

Another smaller tree but the structure is very poor, with a large union that has an acute angle of attachment and included bark. Standing water in basin. The tree is also located between two below-ground electrical vaults. Limited growth could be due to lack of soil volume below ground.

Tree no. 8 on Grove Street

Tree vigor is in severe decline, which is visible in its lack of leaves (canopy). Approximately 50% canopy die back in center of crown. Poor structure due to multiple codominant stems with included bark and acute angles of attachment. Base of trunk is being girdled by pavers that have remained in place too long.

Tree no. 9 on Grove Street

Very poor structure with the main trunk dividing into approximately five stems, all with acute angles of attachment, codominant stems and included bark. Reverse trunk taper. Standing water in tree basin.

Tree no. 10 on Grove Street

Very poor structure with codominant stems with acute angles of attachment and included bark. One recent branch failure over the road was likely due to lack of clearance over the road, but the union that failed was codominant, with an acute angle of attachment and included bark. Reverse trunk taper at base of trunk and standing water in basin. Some girdling damage from pavers left in place too long.

At the hearing, the Urban Forester presented background information about the concerns the Department has about stem failures in ficus trees, and included both photos of trees that have failed in this way in San Francisco and diagrams of branching structure to explain what is meant by phrases such as “codominant stems”, “included bark”, and “narrow or acute angles of attachment” and how this poor structure is prone to fail. Copies of this criteria were also made available at the hearing.

The proposed removal of nineteen trees has generated a lot of concern from the public and many protests were received via email and regular mail. At the hearing, nine members of the public spoke against the proposed removal of the trees, citing the many benefits that mature trees provide. Additionally, an online petition to protest the proposed removal of the trees was created on change.org by a San Francisco resident and has been signed by approximately 900 people.

San Francisco Public Works and Friends of the Urban Forest have removed ficus trees as an approved species to be planted within the public right-of-way as a street tree since the late 1990s. This was largely done because of the amount of infrastructure damage caused by the root systems of the trees. Large stem failures were not a concern at that time.

Standing water in tree basins

At the hearing, the Urban Forester explained the concerns he has with the standing water in the tree basins. The Director of Facilities and other facility managers on site confirmed that each morning, very early, the sidewalks are pressure-washed. Logistics were discussed to determine if the sidewalks could be cleaned without the use of the water (on a daily basis), or if a raised curb could be installed around the tree basins to keep some of the water out. Urban Forestry staff agrees with the library that creating a low curb around the basins would not solve the problem; garbage, needles and feces would still make their way into this area and would need to be washed out.

The root crown, or base of a tree's trunk is a very sensitive part of a tree. Many tree species do not tolerate their lower trunks or roots sitting in standing water on a daily basis. This moisture promotes decay within the base of the root crown and the saturated soils pushes out the oxygen in the soil and impacts root growth. It is recommended to avoid prolonged saturation of the soil or standing water against the base of trees. This may be one reason that the trees along both frontages do not show the trunk flare that is more typical of the species. In fact, the subject trees have reverse trunk taper. Reverse trunk taper is problematic because it can lead to entire failure of the tree in the lower trunk. The water can promote the growth of fungus within the root crown of the tree and eventually could lead to a failure of the lower trunks as well.

The issues of the standing water were not discussed with the library until after the 30-day posting period had begun. This is why the issue of the standing water was not included on the posting notices, under the reasons for removal. The trees were approved for removal at the staff level based on the structural problems with ficus trees, and the lack of proper root flare (reverse trunk taper). If the trees remain, long term, the daily washing of the sidewalks with a power washer could lead to lower trunk failures, due to the formation of decay in the lower trunks.

Replacement tree spacing

Regarding replacement tree spacing from each other and utilities, the Grove Street frontage of the property has the fewest conflicts in meeting the required clearances between trees and utilities, and these trees all appear to be replantable, if approved for removal. There are two original planting sites that have not been replanted on Grove Street due to impacts from the electrical vaults and vents. The process to mark the underground utilities will be initiated and if these two sites can be replanted, they will be replanted along with the rest of the trees on that block.

The spacing of the trees on the Hyde Street frontage is more problematic. Two trees have basins that are less than 6' from the bus shelter. Six (6') feet of clearance is required between the bus shelter and the edge of the closest tree basin. At present, the trunks of the two ficus trees are 4' and 3.75' away from the shelter; the basins are less than 2' from the basins. If approved for removal, both of these trees would not be replanted. This spacing requirement is to address the accessibility needs of SFMTA and Public Works to allow those with disabilities to safely move between the shelter and any tree basins (Public Works Order 187246, Regulating the planting, maintenance and removal of trees).

One of these ficus trees is also just 8.5' from the street light. Species that are considered large stature at maturity, such as the ficus, require 21' from the street light, to help maintain public safety. Tree no. 4 & 5 are 8.5' and 9' away from the street light.

Summary of replacement tree conflicts on the Hyde Street frontage:

- Tree no. 3 would not be replaced because the site is too close to the bus shelter;
- Tree no. 4 would not be replaced because the site is too close to the bus shelter and street light;

- Tree no. 5 would not be replaced because it is too close to the street light.

The spacing between the trees on Hyde Street is just 18'. Due to these necessary spacing requirements detailed above, if approved for removal, nine (9) trees would be removed and six (6) trees would be planted, with spacing increased between the trees. The notice stated: replacement trees will be spaced further apart from each other, street lights, and the bus shelter.

Public Works would not approve a tree for removal solely based on a conflict with a utility unless public safety was at stake. When trees are removed however, the planting sites need to meet the required clearances from utilities. None of the subject trees were approved for removal at the staff level due to utility conflicts, but spacing the trees further apart will address some of the concerns expressed by library management.

Replacement species

The library had a short list of deciduous species that they were interested in planting, as the possible replacement tree. Of these species, red maple (Acer rubrum) would be the most tolerant of the daily power washing that occurs each morning at the library. The root systems of red maples can tolerate daily and prolonged saturation of soil. The trees will lose their leaves in the winter and provide more light to the sidewalks, which would address one of the library's chief concerns of the site. Red maples are native to the Eastern United States and can be found thriving on the edges of ponds, where their root systems are saturated year-round.

Posting notices/public notification

During the required 30-day notification period Public Works received one call from a member of the public pointing out that the posting notices stated that the trees were located on the Larkin and Hyde Street frontages. However, the trees are located on the Grove and Hyde Street frontages. This was brought to the attention of the Department on July 12th or 13th and corrected notices fixing this typo were placed on the trees on July 13th. The trees themselves were accurately posted with these notices and the address on all notices always stated 100 Larkin St., the address of the Main library. Based on the amount of immediate feedback the Department received about the proposed removals, we do not believe this typo on the notice had any impact on the public's ability to be informed. The posting period was June 22nd through July 22nd and staff and the library monitored the notices and posted replacement notices two times during this 30-day period because the notices had been vandalized or removed illegally by the public – something which was anticipated by staff.

During the shorter posting period leading up to the hearing, staff replaced the notices one time, as well.

Summary

The Director of Facilities for the San Francisco Public Library submitted a removal application, to remove the ficus trees because of health and safety issues that the trees are creating on site. Facility maintenance staff at the library believe that a lot of the issues they are experiencing are attributable to the denseness of the foliage on this species of tree. The canopies are dense, there is standing water in the basins, flies gather due to the stagnant air flow, and the canopies create a false sense of cover for street activities during the day and at night. Staff witness rats entering and climbing the trees at night. Management is also aware that ficus trees have become problematic due to large stem failures, and because the library is a civic hub, on a busy street with a high volume of patrons and auto traffic, and people sleeping on the sidewalks at night, if a stem/large branch failure should occur to one of the ficus trees, there is a strong likelihood that someone may be injured.

In evaluating the application for removal of the ficus trees, at the staff level, Public Works bases the decision to approve or deny a tree for removal on the relative sustainability of the subject tree(s). The tree removal criteria for ficus trees, referenced in the findings and attached with this decision, outlines the concerns that the Department has with ficus trees that have codominant stems with narrow angles of attachment, with or without included bark. The issues with ficus trees in San Francisco has been well-documented in the media over the last several years. The tree removal criteria for ficus trees was created to provide greater context to the public about these concerns, and to explain why the Department was lowering its threshold for when ficus trees would be approved for removal.

In addition to the structural defects often found in ficus trees, the species is known for causing a lot of damage to sidewalk infrastructure. The subject trees have yet to cause damage to the sidewalk, but the sidewalks are not wide on these two frontages. The canopies of the trees are now constantly contacting the building. This wouldn't be an issue if the sidewalk was wider. Based on how large this species has the potential to keep growing, the location of the ficus trees on these two narrow sidewalks is another factor when considering their long term sustainability at this site.

The reverse trunk taper is a concern, because trees can fail in this lower portion of the trunk. The issue of the standing water, not fully understood until the trees were already in their 30-day posting period, is an even larger concern. The base of a tree's trunk (root crown) should be dry, not wet. It appears that the trees may have been planted a little low (below grade), at the time that they were planted when the building was completed. A replacement species such as red maple, that tolerates fully saturated soils, can be planted a few inches higher at the time of replacement, to make sure that the base of the trunk is above the top level of the surrounding sidewalk grade, to anticipate some settling after the planting has occurred.

Recommendation:

Based on the testimony provided at the hearing, a review of the correspondence received via email and regular mail, and site visits, the recommendation is to approve the main library's application to remove the nineteen (19) ficus trees along the Grove Street and Hyde Street frontages of the property. The replacement trees shall be a minimum of 24" box size trees and the replacement species shall be red maple (Acer rubrum) or a cultivar of that species. Most trees on the Grove Street frontage of the property appear to be replantable. The tree spacing from utilities and street furniture on Hyde Street will reduce the number of replacement trees from nine to six.

DPW Order No: 183151

Tree removal criteria for ficus trees (Ficus microcarpa 'Nitida').

Article 16 of the Public Works Code governs trees and landscaping in the public right of way. The residents of San Francisco value street trees, and have mandated their protection. Article 16 of the Public Works Code, adopted as the Urban Forestry Ordinance of 1995, was created to:

(a) Realize the optimum public benefits of trees on the City's streets and public places, including favorable modification of microclimates, abatement of air and noise pollution, reduction of soil erosion and runoff, enhancement of the visual environment, and promotion of community pride;

(g) Recognize that trees are an essential part of the City's aesthetic environment and that the removal of important trees should be addressed through appropriate public participation and dialogue, including the California Environmental Quality Act (Public Resources Code Sections 21000 et seq.).

(h) Recognize that green spaces are vital to San Francisco's quality of life, as they provide a range of environmental benefits and bring beauty to our residential neighborhoods and commercial districts.

However, it also was designed to:

(d) Reduce the public hazard, nuisance, and expense occasioned by improper tree selection, planting, and maintenance.

The tree structure of many of these ficus trees includes large, competing trunks with acute angles of attachment. Due to recent large limb and tree failures of ficus trees, causing property damage, injury and concerns for public safety, the Director of Public Works has established new guidelines for the staff evaluation and determination of whether to approve removal of this particular species of tree on a case-by-case basis.

There is no one-size fits all approach and each tree must be evaluated by a qualified arborist. Ficus trees that are candidates for removal may only exhibit one of the defects described below, or, multiple defects may be present.

Staff will consider the following criteria to be considered when evaluating the structural health of ficus trees:

- Competing/codominant stems, with acute angles of attachment, with or without included bark

Large trees, with multiple competing trunks/stems, with acute angles of attachment (where pruning off the limb to mitigate the attachment would remove 30 percent or more of the tree canopy) with or without included bark.

- Failure history

Previous limb failures at point of codominance, or multiple previous limb failures within the canopy.

- Live crown ratio

The ratio of the size of a tree's live crown to its total height. Fifty percent live crown ratio is ideal but rarely attained in urban environments. Live-crown ratios of less than 30 percent shall be considered problematic.

- Canopy vigor

If the canopy of the tree shows decline and reduced vigor in 25% or more of the canopy.

- Large limbs damaged by vehicles

If there are large limb(s) that have repeatedly been hit by vehicles (where pruning off the limb to mitigate the damage would remove 30 percent or more of canopy).

- Root pruning history

If the tree has been root pruned more than two times

- Canopy balance

If the tree has been pruned for building clearance to the extent that it is seriously imbalanced, and balancing necessitates the removal of more than 25 percent of remaining canopy.

- Large stature

If the tree is taller than 50 feet, even if other criteria are not met, the approval may be granted based on size.

- Utility conflicts

If the tree has canopy or main trunk in conflict with existing utility infrastructure, such as high-voltage power lines, Muni overhead lines, or street lights.

Notwithstanding the above:

- 1) If the department determines that any of the criteria listed above can be mitigated through pruning or some other intervention, the department may not approve removal.
- 2) If the tree does not meet the above criteria but the director determines that other factors validate removal, the department may still grant removal.
- 3) All tree removals must still go through the process outlined in Article 16. Due to concerns regarding public safety, ficus trees meeting one or more of the criteria outlined above may be determined to be imminent hazards, and therefore a reduced public notification, as outlined in the code, can be used.

- 4) The department recognizes the potential impact to the total street tree canopy cover due to the loss of such large stature trees. Therefore, if the ficus tree is removed, Public Works will require the replacement of the tree, as outlined in the Urban Forestry Ordinance and in some cases will require large stature (at maturity) replacement species, unless site constraints would preclude this.

Appendix 1

Below are excerpts from the book Arboriculture (3rd Edition, 1999), a text that is considered the primary authority in the arboricultural industry. Regarding codominant stems, with or without included bark, it states:

- Codominant trunks with included bark do not form connective tissues between stems and are prone to failure. (pg. 491, Arboriculture, 3rd Edition, 1999).
- The relative size and arrangement of the scaffold branches is important to structural stability. Two or more leaders (stems) about the same size or branches near the same size as the trunk are more likely to fail than if one leader or the branches were only half the size (75 percent of the diameter) of the main trunk. (pg. 491).
- A trunk is not able to grow around a branch when both are near the same size (pg. 491).
- Several relatively large branches arising near the same level on the trunk are even more vulnerable to failure (pg. 491).
- Also, the weight and leverage of such limbs are great in relation to the strength of their attachments. As trees age, their branches usually continue to spread, further increasing the stress on their attachments (pg. 491).
- Most of these structural hazards can be prevented by proper training of the trees while they are young. (pg 493).

Dear Board Members:

Please save our mature trees. It takes so long for trees to grow. We depend on their shade. Tree wells can be enlarged, sidewalks can be shaved. These three belong to us. Please save them.

Petition aims to halt tree removals around Civic Center's Main Library

by: John N

San Francisco has posted tree removal notices on a series of healthy, mature 19 (Ficus) trees on Grove and Hyde Streets in the Civic Center opposed by neighbors and merchants

The lead agency for this threat is the Bureau of Urban Forestry/Department of Public Works (DPW). According to the latest tree census, there are an estimated 2,700 mature Ficus street trees planted years ago by the City in the early 1960s. DPW is acting under a 2014 standing order (#183151) to eliminate Ficus trees that neatly folds in with a recent 2016 voter initiative (Proposition E) returning maintenance of street trees to the City.

Simply put, removing this many trees reduces maintenance costs in the long run for the City but also further diminishes the size and volume of our urban forest canopy, already the smallest (at 13.7%) of any major American city today.

In the case of Main Library at 100 Larkin, tree removals will deprive a diverse neighborhood of its character and wildlife habitats, contribute to local climate change by removing carbon sinks, increase respiratory health problems of residents caused by auto pollution, eliminate the cooling provided by shade trees, exacerbate stormwater drainage by diverting water into an antiquated sewer system and destroying nesting grounds for a variety of bird populations.

Please sign our petition, share and comment to end this War on Trees happening throughout San Francisco.

Trees take a long time to grow back and are one of the few things that provide a sense of affluence and safety in an otherwise desolate and brutal looking area.

These trees are the only thing giving any "warmth" to this entire stretch of roadway. Recent increases in traffic have also resulted in noticeable amounts of additional auto exhaust around the Civic Center area. With two new childrens playgrounds across the street from the main library, you would think The City would think enough of its youngest residence not to further endanger their health when using these facilities. - Plant MORE trees!
