

SFAC Galleries

VAC

February 2017

ENTRY126

annual commission for the Main Gallery entryway

Alison Pebworth

SFAC Main Gallery

April 26 –
August 19

Steven Wolf is a writer, curator and publisher working in San Francisco. From 2004-2015 he presented over 100 contemporary art exhibitions at Steven Wolf Fine Arts and published numerous artist books and catalogues. He has curated shows for the Museum of Contemporary Art, Denver, The Lab, San Francisco, The Richmond Art Center, and elsewhere. Recent writings include “Mar Mar March,” an essay on Paul Kos, Nora Eccles Harrison Museum Press; “Extremely Disturbed,” an essay on Mark Mothersbaugh, Princeton Architectural Press; “Demonstration,” an essay on Jacob Dahlgren for his upcoming monograph; and “Sell Out!,” an essay on Punk Rock, Art Practical, San Francisco. Prior to founding the gallery Wolf worked as a private art dealer and a newspaper reporter specializing in urban issues. He has a BA in Philosophy from NYU.