

Violence Against Women Prevention and Intervention (VAW) Grants Program FY2013-2014 Year-End Performance Summary

In Fiscal Year 2013-2014 (FY13-14), the Department on the Status of Women distributed grants totaling $4,065,115 to 32 programs that provided violence against women prevention and intervention services, including domestic violence, sexual assault, and human trafficking, in six core service areas: Crisis Lines, Intervention and Advocacy, Legal Services, Prevention and Education, Emergency Shelter, and Transitional Housing. During FY13-14, Partner Agencies served a total of 13,994 unduplicated individuals and provided approximately 35,915 hours of supportive services.

Unduplicated Individuals Served by Programs

Ethnicity and Age

Due to the confidential nature of the work, particularly for crisis line services, the ethnicity of many individuals served is unknown. While every effort is made to collect the age and ethnicity of clients, some individuals elect to not disclose or report this information. During FY13-14, Partner Agencies served 13,994 unduplicated individuals. No demographic information was available for 4,937 clients. The charts and tables below reflect the total number of individuals served, including those who declined to report any demographic information.

Additional Characteristics

The strength of the Partner Agencies providing the services is in their capacity to serve such a broad array of community members. What follows is a summary of the disability status, sexual orientation and languages spoken by clients served by the VAW Grants Program Partner Agencies.

Of the 13,994 individuals served during FY13-14, 4,255 individuals (30%) spoke a language other than English. The left table below presents the most frequently spoken languages. A total 1,149 individuals identified as Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Queer, Questioning, or Other, representing 8% of all individuals served. A total of 1,020 cases of disability were reported by individuals served, though it is possible that some individuals may possess multiple disabilities, and other disabilities went undeclared.

SERVICES PROVIDED

Supportive Services

In FY13-14, the Department funded 32 programs operated by 24 Partner Agencies. These agencies submit quarterly reports that track the number of service hours and bed nights provided, crisis line calls fielded, and individuals served. The cumulative figures reported are presented below.

Emergency Shelter and Transitional Housing constitute an important component of the VAW Grants Program. The agencies providing these services report on the number of bed nights, or the number of beds filled by clients each night. Over 12 months, three emergency shelters provided 3,591 bed nights to women and their children escaping domestic violence, while three transitional housing programs and one permanent supportive housing program provided 11,659 bed nights to women seeking long-term stability. Sadly, these shelters and programs turned 1,893 individuals away due to lack of space.

The Department funds two crisis lines, one for victims of domestic violence and the other for victims of sexual assault. These agencies fielded a total of 13,043 calls on their crisis lines during the fiscal year.

The following chart illustrates the many ways Partner Agencies have provided critical services to populations in need and the breadth of services each program provides. For example, programs in the Prevention and Education Service Area also provide case management and counseling. Emergency Shelters and Transitional Housing Programs provide counseling and case management in addition to housing. The Department funds this network of providers to deliver the full range of services needed by survivors of violence in the community.

Description of Services

The VAW Grants Program provides funding for six core service areas during FY13-14: Crisis Lines, Intervention & Advocacy Services, Prevention & Education Services, Legal Services, Emergency Shelter, and Transitional Housing.

The Department funds two crisis lines that operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to support survivors of violence in San Francisco. Crisis calls received by the domestic violence and sexual assault hotlines funded by the Department can involve hours of intervention services, including phone counseling and safety planning. Department-funded crisis lines fielded 13,043 service calls from 3,022 unduplicated clients; 8,494 of these were crisis calls. In total, the VAW Partner Agencies fielded 15,861 service calls, providing information and referrals and crisis support.

Following a crisis, clients may require long-term counseling and case management to gain stability in their lives. VAW Partner Agencies provided 7,544 hours of counseling in FY13-14 and 5,642 hours of case management. Intervention and advocacy programs funded by the Department provided a total of 3,846 hours of supportive services to 3,312 unduplicated clients. Advocates of these programs provided accompaniment, case management, safety planning, counseling, information, and referrals and support to empower survivors in leaving and healing from the violence they experienced.

The Department also funds 13 programs to provide prevention and education services, including workshops to survivors, youth, and those at risk in the community. Among the services provided are self-esteem and healthy relationship workshops for youth and young adults, self-defense training sessions for women, life-skills and support groups for survivors of abuse, and training on elder abuse for health and social service providers. Although these partner agencies primarily focus on prevention and outreach, often survivors and those at-risk come forward in need of crisis intervention and emotional support. These partner agencies provided prevention and education services to 5,942 clients and 1,161 hours of crisis intervention, case management, and advocacy.

The Department funded four legal services agencies in FY13-14 that provided 12,358 hours of supportive services. A few examples of common legal services provided by these agencies include assistance with applying for restraining orders, advocacy and court accompaniment during child custody cases or divorce proceedings, and support with immigration procedures.

Emergency shelter programs provided 1,479 hours of service and 3,591 bed nights to survivors this year. Transitional housing agencies provided 1,025 hours of case management, legal, and counseling services and 11,659 bed nights to domestic violence survivors. Together these organizations supported 238 unduplicated clients in FY13-14, providing case management, counseling, and advocacy services in addition to much needed shelter and housing.

Technical assistance is another type of service that the Department funds. Technical assistance includes training other service providers or volunteers about working with a specific population of clients, such as the elderly or LGBTQ clients. It may also include translation services, as well as supporting other agencies with cases. Though technical assistance hours do not directly support clients, yet training staff is a necessary component of ensuring high-quality, culturally-appropriate services. This year VAW Partner Agencies provided technical assistance to 957 service providers of other agencies.
