Re: Office of Citizen Complaints 2012 Annual Comprehensive Statistical Report

I. INTRODUCTION

Enclosed is the Office of Citizen Complaints' ("OCC") 2012 Annual Comprehensive Statistical Report. In 2012, the OCC received 740 complaints and closed 799 complaints of police misconduct or failure to perform a duty. The 740 complaints opened represent the lowest number of complaints received by the OCC in 20 years of reliable statistical records. The OCC mediated 62 complaints and sustained 49 complaints. The six percent sustained rate is the second lowest sustained rate in over 20 years.

The Mayor's Office's 2013/2014 and 2014/2015 budget instructions directed City departments to prepare a two year budget for 2013/2014 and 2014/2015 with a 1.5% reduction of general fund support for each budget year. These reductions were based on a City and County of San Francisco general fund projected $129 million dollar budget deficit for 2013/2014 and a projected $263 million budget deficit for 2014/2015. The OCC's reduction targets are $39, 308 for 2013/2014 and $39, 308 for 2014/2015.

II. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The OCC has served under the leadership of Director Joyce M. Hicks since November 2007. Upon her hire, the Police Commission charged Director Hicks with improving case management and personnel management for the OCC. On January 24, 2007, eleven months prior to Director Hicks' tenure, the Controller's City Services Auditor found that "weak case management and organizational issues [had] degrade[d] OCC's performance."

During Director Hicks' tenure, the Controller's City Services Auditor conducted two follow-up audits to its January 24, 2007 audit report. The latest follow-up audit began on August 31, 2011 and concluded on May 29, 2012. The most recent audit found the OCC in compliance with all six audited recommendations.

The OCC began 2012 with 16 journey level investigators and closed with 15 due to vacancies. Seventeen positions were included in the budget but only 16 could be filled due to budget mandates. Further, at the close of 2012, only 13 journey level investigators had full caseloads because a new hire was in training and another was preparing for a leave of absence.

The average caseload at 2012's conclusion was 21 cases. The investigators' average caseloads were 23, 19 and 21 at the conclusion of the first, second and third quarters, respectively.

In 2012, the OCC opened 740 cases and closed 799 cases. The OCC facilitated the mediation of approximately 8% of the cases it closed, or 62 mediations.

The OCC's pending cases at the close of 2012, 305 of them, were the lowest number of pending cases at the year's close in five years. During 2012, OCC investigators closed approximately 60% of the OCC's 2012 cases. Investigators continued to make improvements in the timeliness of investigations by closing cases in an average 175 days compared to 195 days in 2011. The OCC's sustained rate decreased to 6.13% in 2012 from 6.97% in 2011. The OCC's 20-year average sustained rate is 8.4% and its median sustained rate over 20 years is 8.5%.

The OCC's legal unit provided sustainability analyses to the investigators. The legal unit also reviews and finalizes sustained reports. The unit prosecuted fifteen cases involving fifteen officers. Deputy Chiefs heard nine of these cases involving eight officers at the Chief's Hearing level. The remaining six cases involving seven officers were before the Police Commission. The legal unit also oversaw the OCC's robust mediation program. Additionally, the legal unit's significant policy work included continued attention to police policies on shooting at vehicles, language access and interaction with juveniles and the mentally ill. Additional policy work was focused on use of force protocols. The legal unit oversaw outreach efforts under the OCC's Community Outreach Strategic Plan, the first of its kind in the nation.

The OCC's information technology unit refreshed 28 OCC personal computers with new templates. The unit maintained the OCC's phones, databases, website, and other information technology equipment. Additionally, in conjunction with a contractor, the unit began developing an online complaint. The unit also began developing an auto prompt system that will notify investigators of deadlines. Finally, the technology unit produced all the statistics for the OCC's quarterly reports and this annual report and posted the reports on the OCC's website.

Through its clerical unit the OCC responded to nearly 400 document requests from the Police Department, the City Attorney's Office, the Public Defender's Office, the Courts and other agencies. These document requests named over 1200 officers. The costs of storage and retrieval of these records was approximately $6,100, this represents a 62% decrease over last year's $16,000 storage and retrieval costs.

III. ORGANIZATIONAL AND BUDGET MATTERS

A. Staffing

In 2012, the OCC hired two investigators, bringing the total number of journey level investigators to 16, exceeding by just one the San Francisco Charter mandated minimum staffing of one investigator for every 150 police officers. However, the new investigators did not have full caseloads. Therefore, at the conclusion of 2012, only 13 OCC investigators had full caseloads. This was due to one vacancy, one leave of absence, and one investigator in training. The OCC never filled the seventeenth investigator position due to inadequate funding in the OCC's personnel budget.

B. Training

During the first quarter, the OCC continued implementing its strategic plan for training its employees. In February, the OCC held a one-day workshop facilitated by Dr. Lorie Fridell on fair and impartial policing. The workshop, at which Chief Greg P. Suhr gave welcoming remarks, was attended by Police Commissioner Julius Turman, OCC investigators, members of the Police Department's Internal Affairs Division, community members and police oversight professionals from bay area agencies. Additionally, in February, the investigators and staff attorneys attended a two-day training on force science. At an all staff meeting in March, the OCC screened the documentary film by Abby Ginzburg, Cruz Reynoso – Sowing the Seeds of Justice.

During the second quarter, San Francisco Police Captain Joe McFadden and representatives from Crime Scene Investigations conducted training on their work and Commander Lea Militello conducted training on the work of officers assigned to San Francisco Municipal Transit Authority (SFMTA).

During the third quarter, San Francisco Police Lt. Carl Fabbri and representatives from the Violence Reduction Team conducted training on their work. Staff also viewed a screening of the documentary film, After Innocence, which documents the lives of "exonerated innocent men wrongfully imprisoned for decades and then released after DNA evidence proved their innocence." Also during the third quarter, members of the investigation and legal units attended the annual National Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement (NACOLE), training conference in San Diego. Both Investigator Jayson Wechter and Director Hicks are on the NACOLE board of directors. Supervising Attorney Ines Vargas Fraenkel, Attorney/Policy Analyst Samara Marion, and Investigator Jayson Wechter, each led training sessions at the conference.

During the fourth quarter San Francisco Police Lt. Robert Armanino and representatives from Tactical Company conducted training on their work. The Tactical Company includes, the SWAT (Strategic Weapons and Tactics) Unit, the Bomb Squad, Hondas (Dirt Bikes), Mounted Unit (Horses), Canine Unit and the Hostage Negotiation Team.

C. Budget

On May 31, 2012, Mayor Edwin Lee submitted his two-year proposed budget to the Board of Supervisors. Rather than cuts to the OCC's $4.3 million budget, the proposed budget included two additional 8124 investigator positions. The Board of Supervisors Budget and Finance Committee considered the OCC's $4.7 and $4.9 million two-year proposed budget at hearings on June 20 and June 27, 2012. The committee recommended reductions to the OCC's materials and supplies and professional services line items as well as one of the two additional 8124 investigator positions. After hearing testimony from OCC Director Joyce M. Hicks, the committee withdrew the proposed reductions to the materials and supplies and professional services line items but held firm with its recommendation that it would enhance the OCC's budget by one additional 8124 investigator position instead of two.

The Mayor's Office's 2013/2014 and 2014/2015 budget instructions directed City departments to prepare a two year budget for 2013/2014 and 2014/2015 with a 1.5% reduction of general fund support for each budget year. The Mayor based these reductions on a City and County of San Francisco general fund projected $129 million dollar budget deficit for 2013/2014 and a projected $263 million budget deficit for 2014/2015. The OCC's reduction targets are $39, 308 for 2013/2014 and $39, 308 for 2014/2015. If the budget reductions are made, the OCC will lose a vacant investigator position.

D. City Controller's 2007 Recommendations for OCC Process Improvement

On August 31, 2011, the Controller's City Services Auditor (CSA) division notified the OCC that it would conduct a second follow-up audit to the findings it issued in its January 24, 2007 audit report.

In response to the notification, on September 23, 2011, the OCC notified CSA staff that it had addressed 35 of the 38 audit recommendations contained in the audit report.¹ The OCC advised the Auditor but for lack of financial resources, it would implement the remaining three recommendations 2, 10 and 42. The September 23, 2011, responses to the Auditor are set forth below.

Recommendation number 2 requires the OCC complete all its investigations within nine months or ten months at the latest. The OCC has endeavored to meet these goals but has never reached 100% compliance because of inadequate investigator, information systems technology, and attorney staffing.

Maintenance of the OCC's database, hardware, and software has been slowed by inadequate information systems technology staffing. The OCC has one information systems business analyst to provide for electronic production of evidence and documents, maintain hardware and software for 35 staff members, and maintain its intranet, website, and database.

The OCC investigative staff has been historically understaffed as observed in the Controller's audit, which found as best practices 16 cases per investigator, yet OCC investigators have an average of 23 cases.

The four staff attorneys at the OCC provide legal review of OCC complaints, sustained reports, hearing requests, subpoenas, and document requests from State and Federal court. Additionally, the legal unit is responsible for facilitating an average of 65 mediations a year, for conducting policy analysis of police practices and policies and for the OCC's community outreach program.

Effective reduction of investigator caseloads would require the following positions at the cost of nearly $1,000,000.00:

- 1) Four 8124 journey level investigators
- 2) One 8126 supervising investigator
- 3) One 8177 attorney
- 4) One 1052 information systems business analyst

Recommendation number 10 provides for the OCC to install an automated tickler system for investigation deadlines. The cost of implementation is $7,000.²

Recommendation number 42 provides for the OCC to allow online complaint filing. The cost of implementation is $12,000.³

After CSA staff reviewed the OCC's September 23, 2011 responses to the CSA's notice of a second follow-up audit, CSA staff developed a six-point audit follow-up work plan

² Due to savings in its professional services budget, the OCC determined that it could begin designing online complaint filing with an estimated completion date of December 2012. Due to other demands of the one member technology unit and dependence on the contractor providing design services, the projected completion date is July 2013.

dated January 27, 2012. In that work plan, the auditor notified the OCC that it would conduct a field audit to assess the OCC's and SFPD's compliance with the following recommendations:

- Recommendation #3 – Qualitative assessment of case reviews⁴
- Recommendation #8 – Compliance with nine month notification requirements of Charter § 4.127
- Recommendation #16 – SFPD's Compliance with requests for information (Document Protocol)
- Recommendation #23 - Implementation of a strategic plan of training needs.
- Recommendation #35 – OCC's 2011 Community Outreach Strategic Plan
- Recommendation #38 – Periodic reports by the OCC to the Police Commission

During most of the first quarter of 2012, the OCC worked with CSA staff to provide data for the field audit. CSA staff advised the OCC that it would provide the OCC with its findings in the second quarter of 2012. On May 29, 2012, the Auditor issued a report that found that OCC had complied with the six audited recommendations.

IV. MISSION OF THE OFFICE OF CITIZEN COMPLAINTS

The mission of the OCC is to investigate complaints against San Francisco police officers promptly, fairly, and impartially and make policy recommendations concerning police practices.

⁴ These recommendation numbers correspond with the recommendation numbers in audit report #05046, entitled, Office of Citizen Complaints: Weak Case Management and Organizational Issues Degrade OCC's Performance, that was issued on January 24, 2007.

V. HISTORY AND FUNCTIONS OF THE OFFICE OF CITIZEN COMPLAINTS

The OCC first became staffed and began its operations in 1983. It was created by charter amendment proposed by the Board of Supervisors that was adopted by the voters on November 2, 1982. By subsequent charter amendments, the OCC is guaranteed minimum staffing of one investigator for every 150 police officers and the OCC Director may file charges with the Police Commission after meeting and conferring with the Police Chief. (San Francisco City Charter, Article IV, section 4.127.) The OCC is a civilian-staffed local governmental department that reports to the Police Commission. The Police Commission is a volunteer civilian body of seven (7) members, four (4) members nominated by the Mayor and three (3) members nominated by the Board of Supervisors. A majority of the Board of Supervisors must confirm each member. The Police Commission nominates the Director of the OCC and the Mayor appoints the Director subject to approval by the Board of Supervisors. The Police Commission has the power to terminate the services of the OCC Director. The Director of the OCC reports to the Police Commission at its weekly meetings. By Charter, the Police Commission holds the power to manage, organize, and reorganize the OCC. In practice, these powers are exercised by the Police Commission through the OCC Director. Civilians who have never been police officers in San Francisco staff the Office of Citizen Complaints.

The OCC receives, investigates, and makes findings on civilian complaints of misconduct (including acts and omissions) by sworn members of the San Francisco Police Department. Where the OCC sustains one or more allegations against one or more officers in a given case, either the Chief of Police or the Police Commission decides the case. The factors governing whether the Police Commission hears a case that has been sustained by the OCC include severity of misconduct and of potential discipline; complexity of issues presented; degree of public interest in the matter and OCC recommendation to the Chief of Police as to forum (Chief or Commission). The Chief of Police either refers the case to the Commission or hears it directly. The Chief of Police has disciplinary power to issue up to a 10-day suspension; the Commission holds all greater disciplinary power, including the power to hear appeals from the Chief's disciplinary decisions. Both the Chief and the OCC Director (after conferring with the Chief) may file charges of officer misconduct with the Commission.

In 2012, the Office of Citizen Complaints' staff spoke multiple languages, including French, Spanish, Tagalog, Mandarin, Cantonese, and Burmese. If complainants spoke a language other than those languages spoken by OCC staff, the OCC staff provided an interpreter free of charge.

Consistent with the Peace Officers' Bill of Rights, officers accused by complaints filed with the OCC receive notice of the allegations against them, an opportunity to be heard by the OCC and to be represented during the investigative process, and notice of the outcome of the OCC's process. Officers are required by local law to appear upon written notice from the OCC, and if they fail to appear without sufficient cause, they are subject to discipline. If the OCC sustains a complaint against an officer, the officer is served with written charges and the officer is provided a hearing before either the Chief or the Commission.

The City Charter requires the OCC to receive every complaint of alleged police misconduct or improper performance made by a member of the public where the complaint involves one or more sworn San Francisco Police Department members. The OCC's practice is to limit its investigations to those complaints involving on-duty conduct or conduct under the color of authority. The OCC investigates all complaints unless the allegations on their face show proper conduct or they are outside OCC's jurisdiction. The OCC forwards to proper authorities all cases outside its jurisdiction.

The OCC performs four distinct functions: (1) investigates complaints and makes findings on those complaints; (2) mediates complaints; (3) analyzes police policies and practices; and (4) performs community outreach. OCC's 35-member staff performed these functions in 2012. Pursuant to the Charter, none of these employees has ever served as an employee of the San Francisco Police Department.

The OCC consists of eight functional units: Executive, Legal, Mediation and Outreach, Investigative, Policy Analysis, Information Services, Clerical and Accounting. Latter sections of this report will more thoroughly describe the functions of each of these units. The Legal Unit houses Mediation, Outreach, and Policy Analysis while the Executive Unit houses Accounting.

VI. EXECUTIVE UNIT

Director Joyce M. Hicks led the Executive Unit in 2012. The Executive Unit included Executive Secretary Pamela Thompson and the Senior Account Clerk Laura Tham. The Executive Unit was responsible for directing and managing office operations, including personnel and budget tasks. In addition, the Director reviewed all investigations and findings and the managers of the other units in the office reported to her.

VII. INVESTIGATION UNIT AND INVESTIGATION OF CASES

Chief Investigator Charles Gallman led the Investigation Unit in 2012. The three investigative teams led by Senior Investigators Erick Baltazar, Dennis Maxson, and Edward McMahon consisted of 16 investigators at the beginning and 15 at year's end. One of the 15 investigators was new and in training and another permanent investigator was preparing for an extended leave of absence. Both of these investigators had minimal caseloads.

In 2012, the OCC opened 740 new cases and closed 799 cases. In 2011, the OCC opened 784 new cases and closed 846 cases. The number of new cases in 2012 represents a 6% reduction in complaints filed in the previous year. Beginning in 2010, civilian complaints filed with the OCC trended downward. The most dramatic decrease occurred in 2010 with a 16% decrease in complaints filed in 2009. Since 2007, complaints filed with the OCC have decreased by 22%.

Despite staffing issues faced by the OCC, the investigative staff continued to demonstrate its commitment to the OCC's mission of investigating civilian complaints of police misconduct or neglect of duty promptly, fairly and impartially. In 2009, with 17 journey investigators, the OCC investigators' caseloads were reduced to 21 cases per investigator. In 2010, with only 10 investigators, their caseloads increased to 31 cases per investigator. By the end of 2011, with 14 investigators having full caseloads and a continued decrease in complaint filings, the investigators' caseloads were a less than an ideal number but were more manageable at 23 cases per investigator. By the end of 2012, with 13 investigators having full caseloads and a continued decrease in complaint filings, the investigators' caseloads continued to be a less than ideal number but were more manageable at 21 cases per investigator. In its 2007 audit of the OCC, the Controller's Office reported that, after studying comparable caseloads at other agencies, OCC investigators had a far higher caseload than investigators in comparable agencies. The Controller found that the average caseload in comparable agencies was 16 cases per investigator while the OCC's investigators had an average caseload of 34 cases in 2007.

By the close of 2012, four cases remained from 2011; two tolled officer-involved shooting cases and two cases where officers were under criminal investigation. At year's end, 305, or less than half (41%) of the complaints filed in 2012, were pending. Insufficient staffing continued to have a negative impact on the time it took to investigate a case to completion. In prior years, insufficient staffing did not appear to have a negative impact on the sustained rate and the sustained rate of 6% in 2012 was the third highest sustain rate in five years. The 2012 sustained rate was 2.4 percentage points below the 8.4% average sustained rate over a 20-year period.

The rate of sustained cases began to increase in 2009. The sustained rate for 2009 was 5.14%. This was up from 3.83% in 2008 and comparable to the 5.4% sustained rate in 2007. The sustained rate increased dramatically in 2010 to 8.9%. It declined by nearly two percentage points to 6.97% in 2011. The sustained rate declined again in 2012 by nearly 1 percentage point. The 2012 sustained rate is 62% of the 20-year baseline. Over a twenty-year period between 1993 and 2012, the median sustained rate was 8.5% and the average sustained rate was 8.4%.

In studying sustained rates over the past five years against the twenty-year mean, the 2008 sustained rate was 3.83% or 45% of the mean sustained rate⁵. In 2009, the sustained rate increased to 5.14% or 60% of mean. Then, in 2010 the sustained rate increased by 73% to 8.8% or 104% of mean. In 2011, the sustained rate decreased to 6.97 or 84% of mean. In 2012, the sustained rate decreased again to 6.007% or 62% of mean. (See Appendix “A”, page 5.)

VIII. SAN FRANCISCO POLICE DEPARTMENT STAFFING TRENDS AND OTHER STATISTICS

A. Close to Three Percent Sworn Staff Decline Between 2011 and 2012

The number of sworn SFPD staff decreased by close to three percent between 2011 and 2012. In 2011, sworn staff totaled 2237; in 2012, sworn staff had declined to 2178. In previous years, the sworn staff numbers had declined even more significantly. Between 2009 and 2010, the number of sworn SFPD staff declined 6% from 2372 to 2230.

B. A More Than Twenty Percent Decrease in SFPD’s Calls for Service Since 2008

San Francisco’s Department of Emergency Management (DEM) data indicates that SFPD’s calls for service have decreased since 2008. The number of urgent and non-urgent calls⁶ for service in 2008 totaled 1,667,218. In 2012, calls for service had dropped to 1,324,439 representing a 20.5% reduction.

C. Seventy-six Percent Satisfaction Rate with the San Francisco Police Department

In a February 2013 poll conducted by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce by David Blinder Research, 76% of the participants were favorable and 16% were unfavorable to the San Francisco Police Department. The results in 2012 were a 72% favorable rate and an 18% unfavorable rate.⁷

⁵ The sustained rate is calculated by dividing the number of cases with one or more sustained allegations by the number of cases closed. The mean sustained rate between 1993 and 2012 is 8.4%.

⁶ Calls for service include telephone calls received by the Department of Emergency Communications and officer-initiated activity that results in an entry into the Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) System with a designated priority of A, B, C, or info broadcast. CAD incidents include mobile response/on-view, logged, & advised calls, waiting calls & referrals, and duplicate calls. Info broadcasts provide information for officers in the area, and are generated by calls that lack a victim, reporting party, or suspect description. A limited number of these calls do result in a mobile police response.

IX. STATE AND NATIONAL TRENDS IN COMPLAINTS AGAINST LAW ENFORCEMENT

A. Twenty-Four Per Cent Statewide Decrease in Police Misconduct Complaints Since 2008

California Department of Justice data indicates a statewide decrease in the number of reported citizens' complaints against peace officers beginning in 2008.⁸ In 2007, California law enforcement agencies cumulatively reported 24,358 citizens' complaints against peace officers. In 2011⁹, 18,590 citizens' complaints against peace officers in California were reported, representing a 24% decrease in the number of citizens' complaints against peace officers from 2007.¹⁰

B. Nationwide, Police Misconduct Complaints Have Decreased In Several Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement Agencies.¹¹

For the past five years, the volume of civilian complaints of police misconduct has decreased at the nation's largest civilian oversight agency, the New York City Civilian Complaint Review Board (CCRB). In 2012, the CCRB received 5,820 complaints, the lowest number of complaints since 2003. The 2012 complaint level for the CCRB represents a decrease of over 20% when compared to the agency's average of 7,535 complaints a year

⁷ San Francisco Chamber of Commerce 2013 City Beat Poll results, http://www.sfchamber.com/2013_CityBeat_Poll_Results_FINAL.pdf.

⁹ The California Department of Justice has not yet issued its 2012 statistics on citizens' complaints received by law enforcement agencies.

¹⁰ Crime in California 2011, California Department of Justice, Citizens' Complaints Against Peace Officers, 1981-2011, Table 46, page 59.

¹¹ Police misconduct complaints increased in some law enforcement and/or civilian oversight agencies. For example, in 2012 San Jose's Independent Police Auditor reported a 26% increase in the number of civilian complaints from 2010 to 2011. (See Office of the Independent Police Auditor (City of San Jose), 2011 IPA Year End Report, p.7.) Washington D.C.'s Police Complaints Board's complaints increased by 3% from 2011 to 2012. (See Washington D.C.'s Police Complaints Board Office of Police Complaints Annual Report Fiscal Year 2012.)

filed from 2006 to 2009.¹² Chicago's Independent Police Review Authority received 14% fewer complaints in 2012 than in 2010.¹³ The City of Albuquerque's Independent Review Office received 31% fewer complaints in 2011 than it received in 2006.¹⁴

X. COMPLAINANTS AND HOW COMPLAINTS WERE RECEIVED

The demographic characteristics of complainants can be found in tables and charts in Appendix "A" beginning on pages 13 through 20. In 2012, Caucasians at 33.59% and African Americans at 26.01% made up the largest percentage of complainants. The majority of complainants, 58.46% were male. According to 2011 U.S. Census Bureau data, African Americans were only 6.3% of San Francisco's population, yet they were 26% of the OCC's 2012 complainants. The majority of complainants fell between the ages of 20 and 50. In 2012, 98% percent of the case intakes were in English. The next most frequent language was Spanish (2% of the cases). Less than one percent of the case intakes were in Cantonese (5 cases), Russian (1 case), and American Sign Language (1 case). (See Appendix "A" page 21.)

Complainants have several avenues for filing complaints with the OCC. Over a five-year period, the most frequent method for complaint filing has been in person. The next two most frequent filings have been by phone and by mail with each of them switching in popularity between second and third place. The fourth most popular method for complainants is to file with the Police Department in person, by mail, phone, or email. Department General Order 2.04, section II, paragraph A., subsection 3 requires commanding officers to refer immediately civilian complaints of police misconduct to the OCC. Between 2010 and 2011, referrals from the Police Department declined by five percentage points from 14% in 2010 to 9% in 2011. However, between 2011 and 2012, referrals from the Police Department increased by two percentage points from 9% in 2011 to 11% in 2012. (See Appendix "A" page 12.)

XI. OFFICERS WITH COMPLAINTS

A. Number of Officers with Complaints

Seventy-six percent of the San Francisco Police force was complaint free in 2012. Five hundred twenty-eight (528) officers received complaints in 2012. This comprises 24% of the police force. Of these 528 officers, 385, or 73% of them, received one complaint. Another 102 officers each received two (2) complaints. Twenty-nine officers (29) each received three complaints. Four (4) officers each received four (4) complaints. Another five (5) officers received five (5) complaints each. An additional five (5) officers received more than five (5) complaints each. (See Appendix “A” page 25.)

B. Officers’ Compliance with Notices to Appear

More than 99% of officers interviewed complied with their notices to appear requirements. Six officers failed to comply with their notices to appear, less than one percent (1%) of all officers noticed to appear. (See Appendix “A” page 27.) Officers are required to cooperate with OCC investigations pursuant to San Francisco Police Department General Order 2.04, section II, paragraph D. If an officer fails to cooperate with an investigation, the OCC refers the matter to the Police Department’s Internal Affairs Division for investigation and the recommendation of discipline if the department finds misconduct.

XII. ALLEGATION TYPES

The 740 complaints received by the OCC in 2012 contained allegations ranging from discourtesy to unnecessary force. (See Appendix “A”, page 29.) The largest percentage of allegations (33%) was for unwarranted action. The second highest percentage of allegations (29%) was for conduct reflecting discredit followed by neglect of duty (26%) and unnecessary force (9%). Between 2011 and 2012, the percentage distribution of allegation types remained largely unchanged.

Although unnecessary force allegations comprised 9% of the 2012 allegations, the OCC did not sustain any unnecessary force allegations in 2012.

Complainants alleged biased policing in 71 cases, which comprised 10% of cases filed in 2012. Of these, 54 cases alleged racial bias, nine cases alleged gender bias, and eight cases alleged both racial and gender bias. The OCC did not sustain any bias allegations in 2012. (See Appendix “A” page 23.)

XIII. COMPLAINTS OF NOTE

A. Occupy SF

In 2012, the OCC completed investigations in all Occupy San Francisco complaints filed in 2011 and 2012. The Occupy complaints filed in 2011 generated ten complaints from twenty-two complainants. Another complainant filed a case the first quarter of 2012. The complainant mediated the case during the second quarter of 2012. Allegations in the Occupy complaints included unnecessary force, failure to provide medical attention, unlawful seizure of property, interference with the rights of onlookers, violation of DGO 8.10 (First Amendment Guidelines), issuing invalid orders, and unwarranted handcuffing, detention, citation, and arrest, failure to provide medical attention, selective enforcement, and biased policing.

The OCC determined through its investigations that no allegations raised by the complainants were sustainable. The OCC made findings of proper conduct, not sustained, and, as referenced above, one complainant chose mediation.

B. Single Room Occupancy Hotels

In 2011, complainants filed two complaints involving multiple officers regarding unlawful entry and searches of single room occupancy (SRO) hotel rooms. Other allegations in these complaints include unlawful search of persons, unlawful detentions and arrests, failure to properly process property including laptops and cameras, failure to investigate, failure to supervise and inappropriate behavior. The investigations remain open pending action by federal authorities.

C. Officer Involved Shootings

The OCC received two complaints of officer-involved shootings in 2012, one that did not result in the death of the suspect. At the close of 2012, the OCC continued to investigate four officer-involved shootings. During 2012, the OCC closed two officer-involved shooting complaints, one from 2010, and a non-fatal shooting from 2011. The OCC sustained multiple allegations in one complaint, but not for the shooting itself. The OCC did not sustain any findings in the second officer involved-shooting complaint. Of the four remaining officer-involved shooting complaints currently under investigation, three resulted in the death of suspects.

XIV. FINDINGS AND ALLEGATIONS IN CLOSED CASES

A. Standard of Proof

The evidentiary standard for making findings in OCC cases is the “preponderance of the evidence”. “Preponderance of the evidence” means that in balancing the probabilities that the incident occurred as the complainant said it did, it is more likely than not (greater than 50%) that the complainant’s allegation is true. Often, only the complainant and the officer witness an event, making it difficult to either prove or disprove the allegation.

B. Findings Other Than Sustained

By far the most frequent finding in all allegations was “not sustained”. In 2012, the finding for 57% of allegations in OCC complaints was “not sustained”. Officers engaged in proper conduct in 31% of the allegations. Complainants’ allegations were “unfounded”, or not true, in four percent (4%) of the allegations. Complainants withdrew two percent (2%) of the allegations. The OCC reached “no finding” in three percent (3%) of the allegations. The OCC makes a “no finding” resolution for a number of reasons including, the complainant’s failure to cooperate in the investigation, the complaint is not grounded in reality or the OCC does not have jurisdiction because the alleged officer is not a member of the San Francisco Police Department staff. Another reason for “no finding” is the officer is retired and without the officer’s interview, there is insufficient evidence to make a finding. (See Appendix “A” page 49.)

C. Sustained Findings

The OCC sustained 3% of the allegations in complaints filed in 2012. The most frequently sustained allegation was neglect of duty (63% of sustained allegations). Unwarranted action followed at 16%. Conduct reflecting discredit represented 15% of sustained allegations. Discourtesy represented 4% of the sustained allegations. A sexual slur represented 1% of the sustained allegations. (See Appendix “A”, page 42.) Summaries of sustained cases are found in Appendix pages 31-41.

The number of days to close sustained cases decreased by four days to 285 in 2012 versus 289 days in 2011. In 2012, 41% of sustained cases were completed within nine months and one sustained case, an officer-involved shooting¹⁵ that was tolled, was completed more than 365 days after receipt. In 2011, only 32% of the sustained cases were completed within nine months and one sustained case was completed more than 365 days after receipt.¹⁶

¹⁶ The one-year statute of limitations for the one sustained case which was completed after 365 days in the first quarter of 2011 was tolled while a criminal investigation is pending pursuant to Government Code section 3304, section (d), subsection (1).

The impediments to prompt completion of sustained cases are attributable to at least three factors: 1) larger than best practices caseloads for investigators resulting in longer times to complete investigations¹⁷ 2) active trial calendars for the two prosecuting attorneys who also serve as advice attorneys on sustained cases and sustainability reviews and 3) increased policy work for the policy analyst attorney who also serves as an advice attorney on sustained cases and sustainability reviews.

During the first quarter of 2012, there were sustained allegations of neglect of duty in 10 of the 13 sustained complaints. Seven of these complaints with sustained neglect of duty allegations, or 70% of them, were for failure to collect traffic stop data.

Additional categories for which allegations were sustained during the first quarter include:

1. Conduct reflecting discredit for chewing and spitting tobacco while engaging in an enforcement action.
2. Unwarranted action for:
 - a. Detaining,
 - b. Handcuffing
 - c. Searching
 - d. Transporting to a police station
 - e. Seizing a vehicle without cause
3. Neglect of duty for:
 - a. Violation of the juvenile protocols (Department General Order 7.10),
 - b. Failure to issue a property receipt

During the second quarter of 2012, the OCC sustained allegations of neglect of duty in 11 of the 12 sustained complaints. Only one of these complaints with a sustained neglect of duty allegation, or 8% of them, was for failure to collect traffic stop data.

Additional categories and cases for which allegations were sustained during the second quarter include:

1. Unwarranted action for:
 - a. Interfering with complainant's signature gathering for a ballot measure.
 - b. Entering a residence without cause.

¹⁷ In its January 27, 2007 audit report on the OCC, the Controller's CSA division found that 16 cases per investigator was a best practices caseload for civilian oversight investigators. The OCC caseload as of December 31, 2012 was 21 cases.

2. Neglect of duty for:
 - a. Failure to write an incident report.
 - b. Failure to issue a certificate of release after handcuffing.
 - c. Failure to broadcast to DEM the officer's destination and the police vehicle's starting mileage when transporting a female passenger.
 - d. Failure to process property properly by leaving the complainant's iPhone and purse on the roof of a moving police car.
 - e. Writing an inaccurate incident report.
 - f. Failure to submit an incident report by the end of the officer's watch.
 - g. Failure to supervise by approving an inaccurate incident report.
3. Conduct reflecting discredit for:
 - a. Contacting a witness during an ongoing OCC investigation and divulging confidential information to that witness.
 - b. Interfering with complainant's signature gathering for a ballot measure.
 - c. Responding in a discourteous manner to a request for medical assistance.

During the third quarter of 2012, the OCC sustained allegations of neglect of duty in 10 of the 13 sustained complaints. Five of these complaints with a sustained neglect of duty allegation, or 50% of them, contained a sustained allegation for failure to collect traffic stop data.

Additional categories and cases for which allegations were sustained during the third quarter include:

1. Unwarranted action for detaining, handcuffing, and searching the complainant without justification.
2. Neglect of duty for:
 - a. Failure to include a date for a court appearance on a traffic citation.
 - b. Failure to comply with Department General Order 6.09, which requires the officer to provide the victim of domestic violence with a Domestic Violence Resource Card and the CAD number documenting the incident.
 - c. Failure to supervise a subordinate properly by requiring the subordinate to comply with Department General Order 6.09.
 - d. Failure to issue a certificate of release after handcuffing.
 - e. Failure to broadcast to DEM the police vehicle's ending mileage at the County Jail when transporting a female passenger.
 - f. Failing to comply with Department General Order 5.06 by not completing an incident report when the officer determined there was no probable cause to take a person into custody based on a private person's request for an arrest.
3. Conduct reflecting discredit for:
 - a. Ordering an alleged perpetrator of domestic violence to leave the house rather than arresting the alleged perpetrator.

- b. Pretending to videotape the complainant who was videotaping an interaction between officers and homeless persons and commenting to the officer's partner about having a YouTube account.
- c. Harassing the complainant and misusing authority by requesting that DMV suspend the complainant's license after the complainant filed a complaint with the OCC.
- d. Using profane language when detaining the complainant.

During the fourth quarter of 2012, the OCC sustained allegations of neglect of duty in 8 of the 11 sustained complaints. Three of these complaints with a sustained neglect of duty allegation, or 27% of them, were for failure to collect traffic stop data.

Additional categories and cases for which allegations were sustained during the fourth quarter include:

- 1. Conduct reflecting discredit during a traffic stop for threatening to revoke an argumentative driver's license.
- 2. Discourtesy for:
 - a. Making a discourteous remark.
 - b. Using profanity.
- 3. Neglect of duty for:
 - a. Misplacing the keys of a complainant who was taken into custody for a psychological evaluation.
 - b. Failing to properly investigate a crime and prepare an incident report.
 - c. Failing to notify the Department of Emergency Management of the ending mileage after delivering a female suspect to the County Jail.
 - d. Failing to properly book evidence of the investigation of elder abuse.
 - e. In a domestic violence call, after determining that no crime was committed and no arrest would be made, failing to document the details in the MDT and failing to give the complaining party a Domestic Violence Referral Card (SFPD 142) and the CAD number.

D. Sustained Findings for Failure to Collect Traffic Stop Data

In 2012, officers failed to collect traffic stop data in 16 of 49 cases with sustained findings or in 33% of cases with sustained findings. These allegations were sustained when an officer failed either to complete the worksheet for traffic stop data or to enter the information into the MDT in the patrol vehicle or at the station computer in the case of motorcycle officers.

The Chief of Police is imposing progressive discipline for officers who repeatedly fail to collect traffic stop data. The discipline generally begins with an admonishment for the first offense, but for repeated offenses, the Chief of Police has recommended that the OCC prepare charges for him to file with the Police Commission.

Dr. Lorie Fridell in her 2007 study on Fair and Impartial Policing in San Francisco discusses the importance of accurate data collection should a department determine that it will collect traffic stop data.¹⁸ The Northeastern University Racial Profiling Data Collection Center cites several benefits of collecting stop data for both law enforcement and the community. The Center has found that collecting data about those who are stopped, searched, cited and arrested can¹⁹:

- Send a strong message to the community that the department is against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

E. Chief of Police's Adjudication of OCC Sustained Cases

When the OCC Director forwards a sustained case to the Chief of Police, she can either recommend that the Chief of Police file charges with the Police Commission and after meeting and conferring with the Police Chief, if the Police Chief declines her request, the OCC Director can file charges on her own with the Police Commission. Alternatively, the OCC Director can determine that a case warrants ten days or less of suspension. Sustained cases that the OCC Director determines would warrant no more than ten days of suspension are adjudicated by the Chief of Police. The Chief of Police determines whether to sustain the OCC's findings and what discipline he may impose.

During the first quarter, the Chief of Police adjudicated 13 OCC sustained cases as follows:²⁰

- Neglect of Duty - an officer failed to enter an incident report into the database for a complainant who, while shopping, was assaulted and injured by a stranger. The officer was suspended.
- Neglect of Duty – Upon checking out of a hotel, an inspector forgot a service revolver, ammunition clip, and handcuffs in the room hotel safe. While cleaning the vacated room, the housekeeping staff observed the locked room safe. They called hotel security and hotel security and an engineer unlocked the safe and discovered the officer's loaded service revolver, ammunition clip, and handcuffs. The hotel contacted the officer who arranged to have the equipment retrieved by a superior officer. Although the complainant also complained about the superior officer's conduct in retrieving the weapon, the OCC determined that the inspector's conduct in forgetting his weapon and equipment was neglect of duty because he lost custody and control of them when he checked out of the hotel and therefore the officer's conduct was improper. The Police Chief did not agree and found the officer's conduct of forgetting his equipment in the hotel room safe to be Proper Conduct.
- OCC Case number 0196-11 – Neglect of Duty - an officer failed to properly log a use of force in the incident report even though the officer noted in the incident report that the complainant had an injury. The sergeant failed to supervise the officer properly by ensuring that the incident report was complete. The sergeant failed to enter the use of force in the use of force log. The officer and the sergeant were each given a written reprimand.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to log traffic stop data. The officer was suspended.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to prepare an incident report when the complainant stated he wanted to press charges against another driver for a road rage incident. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to log traffic stop data. The officer received a written reprimand.

²⁰ Cases adjudicated by the Chief of Police during a quarter are not necessarily cases that were sustained by the OCC during that quarter.

- Neglect of Duty - an officer failed to log in traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to log in traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to log traffic stop data. The Chief of Police will file charges with the Police Commission.
- Conduct Reflecting Discredit – An officer chewed and spat tobacco while engaging in an enforcement action. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to inform a juvenile that the juvenile's parent or guardian could be present during the interrogation in violation of DGO 7.01. The officer was admonished.
- Unwarranted Action – a captain caused a vehicle to be seized without cause. The captain was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to log traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.

During the second quarter, the Chief of Police adjudicated 13 cases as follows:

- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to document traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer violated Department General Order 7.01 when the officer failed to broadcast the starting and ending mileage of the transport of a male juvenile. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer violated Department General Order 2.01, Rule 36 when the officer failed to broadcast to DEM the ending mileage of the transport of a female passenger. The officer received a written reprimand.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to document traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.
- Conduct Reflecting Discredit – based on a request of a business owner who felt his customers were being annoyed by the complainant who was gathering signatures for a ballot measure, an officer told the complainant that he was going to stand next to the complainant while the complainant gathered signatures. Then, after the complainant asked pedestrians if they wanted to sign the petition, the officer asked the pedestrians if they felt harassed. The officer received a written reprimand for harassing the complainant.

- Neglect of Duty – an officer violated a Department Bulletin by failing to prepare SFPD form 184, (849 (b) PC) for 647 (f) Release When Sober (RWS) pursuant to the complainant's arrest. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer violated two general orders when transporting a juvenile female passenger; Department General Order 2.01, Rule 36 when the officer failed to broadcast to DEM the ending mileage of the transport of a female passenger and Department General Order 7.01, section III., paragraph I., when the officer failed to broadcast to DEM the ending mileage of a juvenile passenger. The officer received a written reprimand.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer who handcuffed and released the complainant failed to issue a certificate of release in violation of Department General Order 5.03, section II. paragraph A., subsection 3. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – After taking the complainant into custody for a 72-hour detention for evaluation and treatment, the officer failed to complete an incident report by the end of the officer's watch. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – An officer prepared an inaccurate incident report and the officer's sergeant approved it. The officer and sergeant were admonished.
- Neglect of Duty and Conduct Reflecting Discredit – An officer took the complainant into custody and placed the complainant's purse and iPhone on the roof of the patrol car while putting the complainant into the car. The officer forgot that the complainant's property was on the hood of the car and drove to the station. The complainant's property could not be located. The officer received a written reprimand for neglect of duty in failing to maintain property. Another officer responded to the complainant's request for medical assistance in a discourteous and disrespectful manner. The officer was admonished for conduct reflecting discredit for the way the officer responded to the complainant's request.
- Neglect of Duty – An inspector failed to complete an incident report by the end of the inspector's watch. The inspector was admonished.

- Neglect of Duty and Unwarranted Action – When responding to a noise complaint at a single room occupancy hotel, the officer left the officer's baton in the patrol car. The officer was admonished for failure to maintain required equipment.

In violation of the Fourth Amendment of the United States Constitution, the manager of the hotel opened a resident's door so the officer could address the resident about the noise complaint. The OCC's sustained finding against the officer for the unwarranted action of entering the resident's room absent a search warrant, fresh pursuit, or exigent circumstances was deemed a training failure by Chief Suhr. The officer was provided updated training and a copy of newly issued Department Bulletin 12-142 (Entering Residences (Houses, Apartments, and Hotels, including SRO Hotels)).

In violation of Police Commission Resolution 1159-88 and Department General Order 2.0, (General Rules of Conduct, Rule 48, Compromising Investigations and Rule 49, Divulging Confidential Information), at the direction of a sergeant offering peer counseling, the officer contacted a witness during an open OCC and Internal Affairs Division investigation and divulged confidential medical history of a suspect. The OCC found that while the officer committed a sustainable violation, there were insufficient policies to prevent supervisors from directing subordinates to contact witnesses as part of peer counseling. Chief Suhr found insufficient evidence for the officer and training failure for the sergeant. Additionally Chief Suhr issued Department Bulletin 12-145 (Contact with Victims/Witnesses during on-going Investigations). Both the officer and sergeant were provided the newly issued Department Bulletin and the Police Commission Resolution.

During the third quarter, the Chief of Police adjudicated 12 cases as follows:

- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to issue a certificate of release after handcuffing and releasing the complainant. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to collect traffic stop data. The officer received a written reprimand.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to collect traffic stop data. The officer asserted that the Department Bulletin for traffic stop data was permissive and not mandatory for suspicious person stops. In the incident report, the officer classified the stop as a traffic stop for defective brake lights. The case was deemed a policy failure by Chief Suhr and he issued a new department bulletin removing the exception by changing the permissive language to mandatory for the collection of traffic stop data for suspicious person, high-risk vehicle stops, and DUIs.

- Unwarranted Action – a sergeant detained, handcuffed, and searched the complainant without justification. The sergeant was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to collect traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to collect traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – on a domestic violence call, a sergeant failed to supervise properly and made an unauthorized order for the husband to leave the residence instead of arresting the husband. An officer failed to comply with Department General Order 6.09 by failing to document the incident which he determined to be verbal only and that no crime was committed. The officer was required to give the complainant a Domestic Violence Referral Card and the CAD number and failed to do so. The sergeant received a written reprimand and the officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to collect traffic stop data. The officer received a written reprimand.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to issue a certificate of release after handcuffing and releasing the complainant. The officer was admonished.
- Conduct Reflecting Discredit – an officer used her personal cell phone to videotape the complainant who was videotaping the officer and other officers engaging in an enforcement action against homeless campers on a sidewalk. The complainant alleged the officer stood within two feet of the complainant and the officer commented that she had a YouTube account. The complainant felt the officer was trying to intimidate him and that the officer would post the complainant's picture on YouTube. The officer was admonished.
- Conduct Reflecting Discredit and Neglect of Duty – an officer engaged in conduct unbecoming of an officer by telling the complainant that he felt sorry for her boyfriend because the complainant was upset about receiving a moving violation for driving the wrong way down a one way street and blamed her boyfriend. The officer also failed to collect traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.

- Conduct Reflecting Discredit and Neglect of Duty – an officer engaged in neglect of duty for failure to comply with DMV regulations, abuse of authority and harassment in retaliation for the complainant contesting a moving violation and filing a complaint with the OCC. Chief Suhr has filed charges with the Police Commission.

During the fourth quarter, the Chief of Police adjudicated 14 cases as follows:

- Neglect of Duty Failure to Collect Traffic Stop Data – an officer failed to collect traffic stop data. The officer received a written reprimand.
- Neglect of Duty – in violation of Department General Order 2.01, Rule 36, an officer failed to document ending mileage when transporting an in custody female passenger. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – in violation of Department General Order 5.04, an officer failed to prepare an incident report documenting that the complainant had requested the officer arrest a private person. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – In violation of Department General Order 6.14, an officer failed to document in the incident report how the officer safeguarded or placed in police custody the complainant's keys and the officer mishandled the complainant's keys by forgetting them in the officer's pants pocket. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty and Conduct Reflecting Discredit – in violation of Department General Order 2.01, Rule 14, an officer used profane language when responding to the complainant and in violation of Department General Order 5.03, the officer failed to issue a certificate of release. The officer received a written reprimand.
- Neglect of Duty Failure to Collect Traffic Stop Data – an officer failed to collect traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.
- Discourtesy – in violation of Department General Order 2.01, Rule 14, an inspector was discourteous when he used profane language. The inspector was admonished.

- Neglect of Duty – in violation of Department General Orders 1.03, Rule 5 and 2.01, Rules 1, 5, 9, and 25, an officer failed to investigate a crime and prepare an incident report. The officer was suspended.
- Conduct Reflecting Discredit – In violation of Department General Order 2.01, Rule 9, an officer told the complainant during a traffic stop if the complainant said one more word the officer would have the complainant's license revoked. The Chief of Police found insufficient evidence and did not sustain the complaint.
- Neglect of Duty Failure to Collect Traffic Stop Data – an officer failed to collect traffic stop data. The officer was admonished.
- Conduct Reflecting Discredit and Neglect of Duty Failure – in violation of Department General Order 2.01, Rule 14, while engaged in an argument with a complainant who had an unleashed dog that was harassing the officer's horse, a mounted officer used profanity and a gender based slur. In violation of General Order 2.01, Rule 36, an officer failed to notify Communications Division of her ending mileage when she delivered the female complainant to the County jail. The officers were admonished.
- Discourtesy – in violation of Department General Order 2.01, Rule 14, an officer was discourteous when he used profane language. The officer was admonished.
- Neglect of Duty – in violation of Department General Orders 1.03 and 6.05, an officer failed to book evidence of domestic abuse properly in the station's property control log. The officer received a written reprimand.
- Neglect of Duty – an officer failed to provide a domestic violence victim a Domestic Violence Referral Card and a CAD number. The officer was admonished.

XV. DISPOSITION OF COMPLAINTS

STATUS OF CURRENT OCC CASES – THE 'KEANE' REPORT

By the end of the first quarter of 2012, staff had completed intake²¹ on all its 2011 cases. (See Appendix "A", page 76.)

²¹ Complaint intake occurs during the first fifteen working days of complaint filing with the OCC. Complaint intake includes completion of the complaint form, obtaining police documents through computer research and routine and non-routine document requests, interview of the complainant and available witnesses, photo spreads

By the end of 2012, the OCC closed 99% of its 2011 cases. In 2012, 78% of OCC's cases were closed within 270 days compared to 67% in 2011. Of particular note, however, 98% of cases closed in 2012 were closed within a year of filing which is similar to 96% in 2010. (See Appendix "A" page 61.) Eleven of the twelve cases closed after 365 days had no sustainable allegations and the twelfth case, an officer involved shooting, had sustained allegations, but the statute of limitations was tolled.

XVI. CASELOAD MANAGEMENT

Due to a decrease in complaint filings, the average caseload of 21 cases per investigator as of December 31, 2012 was slightly lower than it was in 2011. As of December 31, 2012, the highest caseload was 24 cases and the lowest was 15 cases. (See Appendix "A" pages 131 and 132.) To help manage the caseloads of the journey level investigators, the Senior Investigators continued monthly case reviews, monitoring caseloads and assuming investigative responsibility in selected cases.

XVII. LEGAL UNIT

In 2012, the OCC's Legal Unit maintained its full complement of four attorney positions: one supervising trial attorney, one full-time trial attorney, one full-time attorney policy analyst, and one part-time attorney mediation coordinator. During the year, the Legal Unit continued to provide legal opinions and analyses as needed. It also continued to conduct sustainability reviews, reviewing sustained reports for merit, form, and legality, and editing them as needed.

One of the primary duties of the legal unit is to present misconduct cases to the Police Chief when officers object to proposed discipline of 10-days suspension or less. The legal unit prosecutes and tries cases involving suspensions beyond 10-days up through termination before the Police Commission, as these cases are under the exclusive authority of the Police Commission under the City Charter.

to identify officers, obtaining signed medical releases, obtaining signed juvenile consent forms, photographing injuries, identifying initial allegations, beginning case work summary, citing relevant rules and developing an investigation plan for review by the investigator's supervisor.

In 2012, the Legal Unit continued to review, prioritize, and adjudicate, cases pending at both the Chief's and the Police Commission levels, and to ensure that newly filed cases moved at a timely pace.

During 2012, the Legal Unit prosecuted fifteen (15) cases. Of these, the lawyers prosecuted nine (9) cases against eight (8) officers at the Chief's Hearing level. Seven (7) cases resulted in the upholding of the proposed disciplines, one was withdrawn, and in another one, the hearing was conducted but its adjudication is currently pending.

During the same period, the Legal Unit prosecuted six (6) cases before the Police Commission against seven (7) officers:

- One case involving two officers was dismissed after hearing on a Pre-Trial Motion to Dismiss on the procedural matter of 'notice'. The 'notice' issue is whether the statute of limitations begins when a civilian complaint is arguably made to a police department Captain rather than directly to the OCC.
- In another case where the hearing had been conducted and concluded at the end of 2011 and the subject officer had been terminated, the Legal Unit prepared Findings of Fact, which were adopted by the Commission during the first quarter of 2012.
- In two Neglect of Duty cases that were filed as one Commission case against the same officer for violations of the same type of behavior, the Legal Unit filed the charges and participated in Status and Settlement Conferences that yielded resolution by imposition of 30-days suspension against the officer.
- In a case against two Sergeants, the case against one of the Sergeants was dismissed without prejudice due the Sergeant's retirement. As to the remaining Sergeant, resolution was reached during the Settlement Conference stage, to return the case to the Police Chief level for the imposition of 10-days suspension.
- Last, during the last quarter of 2012, the Legal Unit on behalf of the Chief of Police initiated Police Commission charges against an officer, and attended a Status Conference, which set hearing and pre-hearing dates for early 2013.

XVIII. POLICY ANALYSIS

Policy work is an essential aspect of the OCC's mission. While individual discipline is an essential component of law enforcement management, changes to police policies and practices directly affect the entire police force and the community it serves. By comparison, OCC sustained findings in 2012 directly impacted 50 officers, or two (2) percent of the police department's 2,178 sworn officers.

The San Francisco City Charter requires the OCC to present quarterly recommendations concerning SFPD's policies or practices that enhance police-community relations while ensuring effective police services. (Summaries of OCC Policy Recommendations are found in (Appendix pages 53-60.) Attorney and policy analyst Samara Marion leads the agency's policy work. In 2012, the OCC made policy recommendations that addressed a variety of law enforcement practices including restrictions on police entries into single room occupancy hotels, police response to mental health crisis calls, language access services for domestic violence victims, officer-involved shooting review process, and transporting juveniles to Community Assessment and Referral Center (CARC) instead of the district stations.

Improving police response to mental health crisis calls has been a priority of the OCC's policy work for many years. Mental health crisis calls are often time-consuming, complex and regularly require on-scene expertise in mental illness and de-escalation strategies for effective incident management. During the last decade, the OCC received and investigated complaints in several officer-involved shootings involving mentally ill individuals.²² At a recent national summit, police leaders acknowledged that while a police shooting of a mentally ill individual may be legally justifiable under the United States Supreme Court standard of objective reasonableness,²³ the outcome is devastating for both the family of the deceased and the involved officers and reverberates throughout the community and the police department.²⁴

In 2012, the OCC concluded its investigation of an unnecessary force complaint regarding an officer who responded to a noise complaint in a single room occupancy hotel and instructed the building manager to unlock the occupant's room with a passkey. The officer encountered an occupant who was mentally ill. Because of this case, the OCC recommended the following reforms:

- Prohibit officers from using a passkey to enter a single residential occupancy hotel or other premise unless constitutional requirements are fulfilled.

²² During the last quarter of 2009, the San Francisco Police Department invited the OCC to participate in its officer-involved shooting study. By examining officer-involved shooting cases from the preceding five years, this study sought to evaluate the effectiveness of existing SFPD policies and procedures. Of the 15 cases subject to review in the Department's study, the OCC had received complaints and conducted investigations in seven of them. See <http://www.sf-police.org/Modules/ShowDocument.aspx?documentid+25101>.

²⁴ Police Executive Research Forum. 2012. An Integrated Approach to De-Escalation and Minimizing Use of Force. Washington, D.C.: Police Executive Research Forum.

- Enhance the emergency dispatch system so that responding officers know about previous mental health crisis calls and the prior presence, seizure and/or return of weapons at that premise.
- Prohibit officers who are the subject of criminal or administrative investigations from talking to witnesses.
- Amend Department General Order 8.04 to clarify the role, responsibilities and activities of Crisis Incident Response Team (CIRT) members, especially when a CIRT officer is providing support services to another officer who is the subject of a criminal and/or administrative investigation.

These recommendations resulted in the issuance of two San Francisco Police Department Bulletins. Department Bulletin 12-142 prohibits officers from using passkeys to enter single room occupancy hotels or other premises unless constitutional requirements are fulfilled. Department Bulletin 12-145 prohibits officers who are the subject of criminal or administrative investigations from talking to witnesses or victims.

In 2012, the OCC also investigated a use of force incident that resulted in recommendations to enhance the officer-involved shooting review process and SFPD's response to mental health crisis calls. The OCC suggested the following reforms:

- Require the Department's Training Division to provide the Firearms Discharge Review Board a written analysis of each officer-involved shooting that explains how officers are trained with respect to the tactical issues presented in the incident, evaluates whether the officer (s) performed consistent with training and makes recommendations concerning the training needs of the involved officers and/or the Department in general.
- Require the Department's Training Division to develop a training video and written materials to address tactical responses to mental health crisis calls involving an individual with a bladed weapon.
- Amend the officer-involved shooting protocol to designate an on-site commander to act as a liaison between the Department and the family of an individual killed and between the Department and the community. The commander's responsibilities would include providing timely information to the impacted family, notifying the Department of Public Health (or other relevant Departments) for crisis support services for impacted individuals, obtaining language assistance for impacted LEP individuals, and identifying and addressing community concerns about the incident.

- Enhance the Department's current system so that the Department of Emergency Management can promptly identify the availability, location and language skill of qualified bilingual officers and civilian interpreters and efficiently dispatch them to service calls.

The OCC's language access policy work also continued throughout 2012. The OCC initiated meetings with domestic violence service providers, city agencies, and the Police Department to address concerns raised during the Police Commission's language access hearings on December 7, 2011 and February 1, 2012. During both hearings, advocates for domestic violence victims talked about cases in which language barriers compromised the accuracy of incident reports and the quality of police assistance. Testimony also included a domestic violence victim's unsuccessful attempts at two different police stations to obtain language assistance to file a domestic violence report. The OCC also reported on an increase of language access complaints it had received. Over two dozen language access complaints had been filed during 2009-2010, including four (4) sustained complaints and five (5) resulting in training and policy failure findings. Complaints involved victims and suspects being interviewed in English despite their request for an interpreter or other indicators that English was not their primary language.

The OCC recommended the police implement the following reforms:

- Issue a Priority A Department Bulletin that highlights the common indicators that language assistance is necessary during police encounters with Limited Proficient English (LEP) individuals.
- Provide language access training for Police Service Aides (PSA) who work at the District Stations.
- Develop video roll call training to address concerns raised by OCC complaints and domestic violence service providers.
- Issue digital recorders to certified bilingual officers so that they can comply with DGO 5.20 requirements to record interviews of LEP victims, witnesses and suspects.
- Expand bilingual certification to officers beyond the current languages of Spanish, Mandarin, Cantonese, and Russian to include other frequently used languages such as Vietnamese and Tagalog.
- Invite community organizations and the OCC to meet with the Department's Language Liaison officer and Department designees to discuss and resolve language access complaints as required by DGO 5.20 III (O)(1)(b)(6).

- Distribute SFPD's list of certified bilingual officer to the ten district stations.
- Attend monthly meeting with community stakeholders and the OCC to discuss language access issues.

In collaboration with several community organizations and SFPD, the OCC co-authored a Department Bulletin on language access services. Issued on June 26, 2012, Department Bulletin 12-132 provides officers a list of common indicators that language services are necessary and includes additional factors that may hinder effective communication with an LEP person.

Several of the OCC's language access recommendations have been implemented. The Department purchased and distributed several digital recorders to the district stations for use by bilingual officers. The Police Academy's Language Access training for Police Service Aides began in January 2013. The Department of Emergency Management is currently revising its dispatch system to incorporate the specialized skills—including language certification--of officers. The goal of the enhanced system is to permit the Department of Emergency Management to promptly identify the availability, location, and language skill of qualified bilingual officers and civilian interpreters and efficiently dispatch them to service calls. The OCC has drafted and circulated a roll call training video script to community advocates and SFPD that addresses language access and dominant aggressor issues.

During 2012, the OCC continued its work on juvenile-policing protocols. Since 2004, the OCC has met regularly with representatives from the Youth Commission, juvenile justice advocacy groups, and SFPD to implement OCC recommendations about Department General Order 7.01's juvenile-policing protocols. In response to juvenile justice advocates' continuing concern that juveniles are being brought to the district stations instead of the Community Assessment and Referral Center (CARC) and the Juvenile Justice Center (JJC), in January 2012 the OCC analyzed data concerning the number of juveniles who were brought to the district stations. The OCC determined that from 2010 to 2011 the number of juveniles being brought to the district stations had declined from an average of 133 juveniles a month to 52 juveniles a month. The data also indicated that over half of the juveniles brought to the district stations could have been transported directly from the field to CARC or JJC. To address this concern, the OCC facilitated CARC's presentation to the stations' captains and lieutenants about the benefits of CARC's services, including its low recidivism rate of juveniles who participate in the program. Issues addressed included SFPD's use of a computer equipped police interview room on site, and the speed with which an officer can deliver a juvenile to CARC and return to the street for service.

In 2012, the OCC met with the Department throughout the year to finalize two projects concerning the Department's pursuit policy and use of force investigations involving complaints of pain. Since 2007, the OCC has suggested revisions to the Department's pursuit policy that are consistent with best practices and would enhance both officer and public safety. Throughout 2012, the OCC requested the Department to finalize the pursuit policy revisions for presentation to the Police Commission.

During the last year, the OCC also urged the Department to issue a Department Bulletin that instructs officers to treat complaints of pain similar to complaints of injury for the reporting and investigation of force incidents. The OCC had investigated complaints in which the officers' use of force resulted in pain but not a visible injury (i.e. the complainant's fractured wrist or injured shoulder was not visible to the naked eye though the complainants complained of pain.) Law enforcement agencies in other cities, such as San Jose, require that force incidents resulting in injury or pain be documented, investigated, and reviewed.

By working with community stakeholders, city agencies and the Police Department on a wide range of projects throughout 2012, the OCC advanced its policy work to enhance police-community relations while ensuring effective police services.

XIX. MEDIATIONS

The OCC's mediation program provides officers and civilians a unique opportunity for dispute resolution in certain types of complaints. In 2012, the OCC mediated 62 cases. This number represents 8% of the 799 cases closed in 2012. The 61 cases mediated in 2011 represented 7% of the 846 cases closed in 2011

The mediation program creates a forum for officers and civilians to have a frank discussion regarding the complaint and serves as an educational experience for all participants. In addition to the non-confrontational opportunity for dispute resolution, the mediation program provides the following unique benefits that are unavailable under the investigative process:

Time Savings

Mediation allows cases to be processed expeditiously. In 2012, mediated cases were open a median of 88 days and an average of 100 days; while all cases (including mediations) were open a median of 183 days and an average of 175 days.

Cost savings.

Cases are mediated by a current roster of over 150 volunteer mediators who conduct mediations without charge. Additionally, mediated cases relieve the investigators from additional casework. The 62 cases mediated in 2012 equal a full-time investigator's annual caseload.

Greater Satisfaction for Complainants and Officers

In the voluntary and anonymous exit survey that is set forth below, 88% of the participants were satisfied or very satisfied with the mediation program.

The following responses were received in the OCC mediation exit survey during 2010:

Rating of participant's experience with the mediation process:

39% - very satisfied
49% - satisfied
11% - dissatisfied.

Whether the mediation location provided a safe environment to freely express concerns and issues:

100% - yes

Percentage of mediation participants who felt they had the opportunity to be heard and express their thoughts:

96% -yes
4% -no

Percentage of participants who felt that the other party fully participated in the mediation:

94% - yes
6% - no

Percentage of participants who felt that the mediators accurately identified and addressed the core issue of the complainant:

96% - yes
4% - no

Percentage of participants who felt that the complaint was totally resolved at the mediation:

Totally resolved – 41%
Partially resolved – 39%
Not resolved at all – 22%

Two examples of successful mediations follow:

Example #1

The Complainant was stopped by a motorcycle officer on the Embarcadero. When the officer asked for the Complainant's registration, the Complainant reached into his glove box and retrieved the document, which he gave to the officer. The officer then told the Complainant that the registration had expired. The Complainant was surprised because he had recently renewed his registration. When the Complainant told the officer he was surprised, the officer pointed to the registration and said, "Can't you read?" Then the officer asked for the Complainant's Drivers License and said, "You know what that is, don't you?" After the Complainant signed the citation the officer said, "There, you can't even sign in the right spot."

At the mediation, the Complainant admitted that the officer had every right to stop him for an expired registration, but stated that he objected to the officer's demeanor. The officer apologized.

Example #2

The Complainant is a retired San Francisco schoolteacher. She has attended the Occupy protests for an hour or so a day on a regular basis to support the working people of San Francisco. One day, the Complainant went to the site of the protest and attempted to hang a banner that she regularly displayed during her stay. An officer refused to let her hang her banner and asked her to move. The Complainant felt that the department disrespected the protesters as they exercised their First Amendment Rights.

A Sergeant assigned to the Tactical Division represented the department for the mediation. During the mediation, he explained that on the day in question, the President was visiting the City and the presidential motorcade route required that the demonstrators relocate. He told the Complainant that the officers should have made the reason for the relocation clear to the demonstrators.

In June 2012, the OCC Mediation Program was awarded the Community Boards Award for Excellence in Alternative Dispute Resolution Practices at their Annual Peacekeeping Awards Luncheon. At the ceremony, the Mediation Program was also presented with Certificates of Honor from the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and the California State Senate.

In September 2012, the San Francisco Giants, Alternative Dispute Resolution of Northern California, Community Boards, and the San Francisco Police Officers Association sponsored an event at a Giant's game honoring Bay Area Volunteer Mediators. Long time OCC mediator, Thomas Klitgaard, represented the OCC Mediation Program at a home plate ceremony. Coincidentally, (or not), the Giants clinched the Western Division at that game.

The effectiveness of the OCC's mediation program is acknowledged well beyond the officers and complainants who participate in it. In an annual survey of civilian oversight mediation programs,²⁵ the OCC Mediation Program has consistently rated the highest number of mediations per officer of any other police/civilian mediation program in the United States.

At the National Association of Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement's Annual Conference in San Diego, OCC Lead Attorney Ines Fraenkel moderated a panel on police/civilian mediation programs. Because of the program's success, the OCC's Mediation Coordinator is often contacted by other civilian oversight agencies from throughout the nation. For example, in 2012, representatives from Los Angeles and New Orleans conferred with the OCC about its mediation program.

In addition to administering the OCC's mediation program, this year the Mediation Coordinator attended the Alternative Dispute Resolution of Northern California Conference and three Community Boards trainings to promote the program among mediators and community members. The Coordinator also represented the Mediation Program at a symposium on restorative justice at Stanford University, the California Dispute Resolution Annual Conference, and the Peninsula Conflict Resolution Annual Awards Luncheon. Because of these community outreach efforts, the Mediation Coordinator provided orientations for twenty-six new mediators enlarging our pool of mediators to increase our mediation capacity.

The mediation program continues to be an effective educational tool for officers and complainants alike. The eligible officer participation rate was 90% for officers and 58% of complainants offered mediation agreed to participate. In 2013, the OCC will continue to promote the mediation program and intends to increase the number of appropriate cases that can be resolved through dispute resolution.

XX. OUTREACH

Community Outreach Strategic Plan

Since 2008, the OCC has followed its annual Community Outreach Strategic Plan that outlines its outreach goals in the areas of community presentations and partnerships, language access, training, website development, media relations, and program effectiveness and resources. By using a community-based approach that relies upon presentations, widely distributed written materials in multiple languages, and the OCC website, the OCC's Outreach Strategic Plan provided a roadmap for strengthening its relationships with communities that historically and statistically were likely to have encounters with the police. The OCC's Community Outreach Strategic Plan also sought to reach communities that have been racially, culturally, or linguistically isolated from police services. Despite significant staffing shortages, the OCC has successfully implemented this ambitious outreach strategy.

In 2012, the OCC continued to work in coalition with representatives of numerous legal and community groups such as the Asian Law Caucus, Asian Pacific Islander Legal Outreach, the Coalition on Homelessness, the Mental Health Association, the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) the San Francisco Youth Commission, Huckleberry Community Assessment and Referral Center, and the Sunset Youth Community Services.

In addition to its work investigating complaints, the OCC continued its efforts to inform members of the Department and community about the OCC's services and procedures. OCC representatives made presentations to Police Academy classes at the beginning and end of their training, and at Police Commission community meetings held in the Taraval, Bayview, Central, Tenderloin, Ingleside, and Southern Districts.

Representatives from the OCC also gave presentations to other groups including the San Francisco Youth Commission, the Youth Justice Committee, youth advocacy groups attending Youth Advocacy Day events, the Bernal Heights Youth Summit, the Domestic Violence Consortium, Alliance for a Better District 6, the SFUSD Peer Resource Fair, and an USF Law School Asian Law Class.

In 2012, Staff Attorneys Samara Marion and Donna Salazar met with the Education and Social Service Coordinator of the Arab Cultural and Community Center in San Francisco who assisted the OCC in developing an Arabic translation of our brochure. The brochure was subsequently printed and distributed.

In April, Director Hicks was interviewed by David Onek for his Criminal Justice Podcast. She also gave presentations to Justices from Morocco's highest court and, to the UC Berkeley Law School Boalt Hall Women of Color Collective. Director Hicks has remained active in NACOLE since 2003, the National Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement, and in September 2012, she was elected to a three-year term on the NACOLE Board of Directors.

In 2012, OCC staffed tables at five Operation Homeless Connect events in the Civic Center area, as well the Bayview Connect and Veteran's Connect, the Bayview/Hunters Point Back to School Celebration, the Western Addition Back to School Celebration, Mayor's Office of Youth, Children, and Family's Summer Resource Fair, the Tenderloin Health and Resource Fair, the OMI Resource Fair, Language Matters, and the SFPD Youth Resource Fair.

The OCC regularly distributed complaint forms and brochures in six languages to all police stations, the District Attorney's Office, the Public Defender's Office, the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, the ACCESS Center, all twenty-seven branch libraries, the Mayor's Office on Aging and Adult Services, La Raza Centro Legal, and community centers including Community Boards, the Ella Hill Hutch Community Center, the Bayview Hunters Point Family Resource Center, the Bernal Heights and Mission Neighborhood Centers, the African American Resource Center, Community United against Violence, North Beach Neighborhood Homeless Services, the Community Justice Center, Lyric and Larkin Street Youth Centers, the Transgender Law Center, Episcopal Community Services, the Third Street Youth Center, Horizons Unlimited, Arriba Juntos, the African Immigrant Resource Center, and the Yerba Buena Community Center.

In April of 2012, the OCC distributed its Public Service announcement to numerous radio, television, and print media outlets. The PSA was published in the August Edition of the Central City Extra.

OCC staff members also met with Supervisor Carlos Campos and juvenile justice advocates. They also met with members of the boards of Alternative Dispute Resolution of Northern California and Community Boards.

In 2009, the OCC initiated a system of evaluating its outreach efforts. The data collected in 2012 indicates that all of the presentations offered met the expectations of the audience; were given by presenters knowledgeable about the subject matter; and provided substantive written materials. Every evaluator indicated he or she would attend future OCC presentations and would recommend the presentation to others.

In addition to others evaluating our presentations, the OCC now uses a self-evaluation document for resource fairs and other events. The data gathered from these documents allows ongoing improvement in OCC's outreach efforts to reach our targeted audiences.

XXI. CLERICAL UNIT

In 2011, the OCC clerical unit received and input 740 complaints in the database, typed the disposition letters and updated the database for 899 closed cases.

The clerical unit processed the following document requests involving 1076 San Francisco Police Department members (hereinafter “members”):

- Two hundred twenty requests to process Pitchess Motions involving 960 members.
- Six document requests from Federal court involving 39 members.
- One hundred twenty-five document requests from the Police Department for information under the Performance Improvement Program (DGO 3.18) involving 155 members.
- Thirty-eight document requests from the Office of the City Attorney involving 63 members.
- Eight document requests from SFPD involving 14 members for Brady evaluation.

The off-site storage costs for documents filed/retrieved and vendor contract services throughout the year totaled $ 6,119.04.

The office mailed 69 complaint forms to citizens upon request.

XXII. INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY UNIT

At OCC, Information Technology supports all aspects of our work. With minimal help, Chris Wisniewski, OCC’s Information Services Business Analyst (“IS Business Analyst”) maintains and builds all of OCC’s hardware, software, communications, database, intranet and external website/reporting systems. In 2012, these systems remained stable and reliable with no data loss or serious incidents of downtime or disruption to staff.

Outside of the day-to-day cycle of administration, support, maintenance, and troubleshooting the year’s focus was primarily twofold. First, the IS Business Analyst completed extensive configuration, customization and testing of an updated template installation that includes a multitude of new and improved tools. This installation was then applied to 28 of OCC’s 35 PCs, which were personalized and deployed to all staff members of the Investigative and Clerical Units. This large-scale refresh was accomplished quietly around staff schedules and was virtually seamless despite the complexity of the undertaking.

Second, through late summer and the balance of the year, the IS Business Analyst shepherded the OCC’s Online Complaint Form project from raw outline through initial designs to a full-featured but easy step-through system. The projected completion date is July 1, 2013. The IS Business Analyst began developing a system that leverages static data in OCC systems to automatically deliver reminder prompts to investigators as cases near deadlines. The projected completion date for the auto-prompt system is July 1, 2013.

Other tasks performed including assisting investigators with matters involving Muni, closed circuit, ATMs, Smartphones, internet, and other forms of audio/visual evidence. He set-up phones, various accounts and trained new investigators on OCC systems.

The IS Business Analyst also produced several special reports for the Policy Analyst including those based on recently revised Department General Orders 5.20 (Language Access Services) and 7.01 (Juvenile Policies, Procedures). He also provides quarterly statistics for the Document Protocol Report for the Police Commission.

Finally, Mr. Wisniewski produced statistics for all quarterly reports and this annual report for 2012.

XXIII. PERFORMANCE MEASURES

Performance measures are a part of the OCC's annual budget. The budget is adopted on a fiscal year that runs from July 1 through June 30. The performance measure data is adjusted to a calendar year basis for the purposes of this report. The statistics below are based on the calendar year 2012 and the targets have been adjusted to average the targets and projected numbers for two fiscal half years, i.e., the latter half of fiscal year 2011/2012 (January 1 through June 30, 2012) and the first half of fiscal year 2012/2013 (July 1 through December 31, 2012).

1. Goal 1 - Address civilian complaints of police misconduct professionally and efficiently

a. Measure No. 1 – Number of cases closed during the reporting period.

To close as many or more cases than the number of new complaints filed annually and to address the agency's backlog adequately, OCC investigators are required to close four or more cases per month. The target of 768 was set for 2012 based on 16 budgeted OCC investigators. The actual number of cases closed from January 1 through December 31, 2012 was 799, so the investigators exceeded the goal.

- b. Measure No. 2 – Number of complaints closed during the year per FTE investigator.

To close as many or more cases than the number of new complaints filed annually and to address the agency's backlog, OCC investigators are required to close four or more cases per month. The target was set at 48 per year per FTE investigator. The actual number of cases closed per FTE investigator from January 1 through December 31, 2012 was 51. Through proper case management, the OCC exceeded its 48 cases per FTE investigator per year target.

- c. Measure No. 3 – Number of cases sustained during the reporting period.

This performance measure identifies the number of completed investigations that contained at least one sustained allegation. There is no target or projection because such a target may give the impression that the agency's mission is to find misconduct where there is none. However, the OCC uses this measure to evaluate comparatively agency workload and performance, as well as to evaluate caseload management. The actual number of sustained cases from January 1 through December 31, 2012 was 49 or a 6% sustained rate.

- d. Measure No. 4 – Percentage of sustained cases completed within the one-year statute of limitations under government code 3304.

Section 3304 of the California Government Code dictates that all investigations of police misconduct should be completed within one calendar year with limited exceptions. The OCC has put into place mechanisms to track cases throughout the investigative process and to identify potentially sustainable cases early in the investigation. Proper case management, along with full investigative staffing, will ensure that all cases be fully investigated within the limits imposed by Section 3304 of the California Government Code. The percentage of cases completed within the one-year statute of limitations, or later as tolling permits, from January 1 through December 31, 2012 was 100%. The 100% target and projection were met.

- e. Measure No. 5 – Percentage of sustained cases that resulted in corrective or disciplinary action by the Chief or Police Commission.

The actual number of sustained cases that resulted in corrective or disciplinary action from January 1 through December 31, 2012 was 93% that exceeded the 90% target and 90% projection. Improved communication and discussion between the OCC and SFPD, and more timely imposition of discipline by the Police Department may facilitate consistent findings.

- f. Measure No. 6 – Number of cases mediated during the reporting period.

The OCC's goal is to mediate 5 cases per month or 60 cases per year. From January 1 through December 31, 2012, the OCC mediated 62 cases, exceeding the target number of 60 cases per year.

2. Goal 2 - Facilitate corrective action in response to complaints

- a. Measure No. 1 – Number of findings of policy, procedure, or practice failure identified in the OCC caseload during the reporting period.

The OCC does not provide a numerical target for the number of policy, procedure, and/or practice failures in the OCC caseload because such a target may give the impression that the agency's mission is to find a particular number of policy, procedure, and/or practice failures where there may be none. The OCC's goal is to make policy, procedure and/or practice recommendations that address the policy, procedure, and/or practice failures identified in the OCC's cases. From January 1 through December 31, 2012, the OCC identified eight policy failure findings in the OCC's caseload.

- b. Measure No. 2 – Number of policy, procedure, and practice findings presented to the SFPD or the Police Commission.

The actual from January 1 through December 31 2012 was 11. The OCC does not provide a numerical target for the number of policy, procedure, practice recommendations because such a target may give the impression that the agency's mission is to find a particular number of policies, procedure, practice recommendations where there may be none. The OCC's goal is to make policy, procedure and/or practice recommendations that address the policy, procedure, and/or practice failures identified in the OCC's cases.

Not all policies presented to the Commission and/or SFPD are the same ones that relate to cases closed as policy recommendations in the measurement period. Further, the OCC, working with the Police Department, is creating policy materials in response to recommendations made to the Police Commission. The Commission has instituted timelines and priorities for this policy work.

XXIV. CONCLUSION

The OCC staff met and in many instances exceeded its performance measure targets. Staff has continued to decrease the number of days to close cases resulting in the lowest number of pending cases in eleven years. The OCC's mediation program remains a national model and the OCC's innovative outreach program continues to reach the underserved. The OCC's policy work continues to provide the Police Department with recommendations on practices that will enhance community and police interactions. While City budget constraints continue to hamper hiring additional investigators, the decrease in complaint filings has served to provide the investigators caseloads that are more manageable. The OCC remains committed to promptly, fairly, and impartially investigate complaints against San Francisco police officers and to make policy recommendations concerning police practices.

POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS – 2012

Case No.	Type of Allegation	Policy Recommendation
1.	Prohibit Officers' Use of Pass Keys To Enter a Premise Unless Constitutional Requirements are Met.	The OCC concluded an investigation of an unnecessary force allegation that established that an officer responding to a noise complaint directed hotel staff to use a passkey to open the hotel room that was the subject of the noise complaint. The officer encountered a mentally ill occupant. The OCC recommended changes in Department's policy, procedure, and training to address factors that contributed to this deadly force situation. The OCC recommended that the Department issue a Priority A bulletin (to be codified in a Department General Order) that: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) identifies the lawful circumstances in which an officer may gain entry into a hotel room, apartment or residence by relying upon a landlord's or management's key; 2) explicitly prohibits officers from using a pass key to enter premises- unless constitutional requirements are met; and 3) refers to or includes Department Bulletin 11-134 requirement that officers obtain consent in writing by having the Permission to Search form signed before a search is conducted or orally via audio recording when requesting permission to search an individual's residence, including a hotel, motel or other domicile.

POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS – 2012

Case No.	Type of Allegation	Policy Recommendation
1. (continued)	Enhance the Emergency Dispatch System to Include A Premise's Prior Mental Health Crisis Calls (Welfare & Institution Code section 5150) and Presence, Seizure and/or Return of Weapons.	The OCC investigation established that SFPD had responded previously to a mental health crisis call involving the same individual and location in which numerous weapons had been seized. The Department's Psychiatric Liaison unit had also been in contact with this individual about the return of weapons that officers had seized from his apartment. The officer did not have any information about the prior mental health crisis call and seizure of weapons when the officer responded to a noise complaint at the premises. The OCC recommends that the Department in conjunction with Department of Emergency Management develop a comprehensive system that enables officers responding to calls for service to obtain information about prior 5150 contacts of the involved parties and the prior presence, seizure and/or return of weapons.
1. (continued)	Prohibit Officers Under Criminal Or Administrative Investigation From Contacting Witnesses	The OCC investigation established that a crisis intervention response team (CIRT) officer arranged for an officer involved in a shooting to meet with a civilian witness reportedly to provide emotional support to each other. This meeting occurred less than two weeks after the officer-involved shooting and during the time that the officer was the subject of administrative and criminal investigations into the shooting. The OCC recommends that Department General Order 8.04 (Critical Incident Response Team) be amended to clarify the role, responsibilities and activities of CIRT members, especially when providing support services to officers who are the subject of a criminal or administrative investigation.

Case No.	Type of Allegation	Policy Recommendation
2.	Uniform Procedure to Document and Maintain All Attachments to Incident Reports.	The OCC received a complaint arising from a police-initiated psychiatric detention pursuant to Welfare and Institution Code section 5150. The Incident Report stated that the officer's application for the 72-hour involuntary psychiatric hold was booked into evidence. However, the Department could not locate in evidence the officer's application for a 72-hour involuntary psychiatric hold. The application for a 72-hour psychiatric hold was not attached to the Incident Report. Additionally, the officer's application for the 72-hour hold was not listed in the district station's Property Control log. Initially, this application was the sole record of this incident because the officer did not complete the Incident Report before the end of his watch. During the last five years, there have been several occasions when the OCC has been unable to obtain documents from the Department that have been attached or are supposed to be attached to Incident Reports. The OCC recommends that the Department establish one uniform procedure for documenting and maintaining all attachments to Incident Reports.

POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS – 2012

Case No.	Type of Allegation	Policy Recommendation
2. (continued)	Amend DGO 6.14 (Psychological Evaluation of Adults) to Establish One Procedure for Documenting and Maintaining the Application for a 72-hour Involuntary Hold.	DGO 6.14 establishes the procedures for taking an adult into custody for a psychiatric evaluation. It requires the detaining officer to complete an application for a 72-hour involuntary psychiatric hold and to write an Incident Report. In cases where the detainee is either ill or injured, DGO 6.14 requires an officer to bring the detainee to a medical facility first, write an Incident Report and attach a copy of the 72-hour involuntary psychiatric evaluation to the Incident Report. (See DGO 6.14 (III) (F) (3), emphasis added.) In cases where the detainee does not require treatment at a medical facility first, DGO 6.14 does not state whether the detaining officer shall attach the 72-hour involuntary hold to the Incident Report or book the 72-hour hold into evidence. Both sergeants in the instant case stated that there was no uniform procedure for recording and preserving attachments. To avoid further confusion, the OCC recommends that DGO 6.14 be amended to establish one procedure for preserving the 72-hour involuntary hold application, regardless of whether the detainee requires medical assistance first and/or is criminally charged.
2. (continued)	Amend DGO 1.04 (Duties of Sergeants) to Require Supervisor Confirmation That Evidence Listed as Booked Into Evidence In Incident Report Is Properly Booked and Such Evidence is Listed In the Station's Property Control Log.	The OCC received a complaint arising from a police-initiated psychiatric detention pursuant to Welfare and Institution Code section 5150. The investigation established that the officer did not complete the incident report before going off duty. The officer stated he had booked the 72-hour psychiatric detention application into evidence but he had not listed it in the district station's property control log. The Department could not locate the 72-hour hold application. The OCC recommends that DGO 1.04 (Duties of Sergeants) be amended to require that sergeants verify that property identified as booked into evidence in the Incident Report is documented in the station's property review log and booked into evidence, including when subordinates submit their incident reports after the completion of their watch.

POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS – 2012

Case No.	Type of Allegation	Policy Recommendation
3.	Failure to Follow Proper Procedures Required By DGO 5.20 (Language Access Services)	An officer stopped the complainant and his partner, tourists from Germany, in their rental car for illegally driving in a bus lane. The complainant reported that the officer yelled at his partner (the driver), to face and speak to only him, asked if there were drugs in the car, and did not understand that although the driver may have looked African-American in appearance, he was German, and spoke and understood very little English. The OCC concluded that the officer’s conduct was the result of a policy failure and recommended that SFPD issue a Department Bulletin on common indicators that language services are necessary and factors that hinder effective communication with an LEP person. Specific to this case, the OCC recommended that the Department Bulletin instruct, “[s]omeone may appear to speak one language, but may actually speak another. For example, Spanish may not be the primary language for some people from Central and South America. Someone appearing African American may be from Africa, the Caribbean, Europe, or elsewhere and not speak English well.” The OCC also recommended that that the Department Bulletin’s explanation of common indicators that language assistance is necessary include: 1) the individual requests an interpreter or translator; 2) the individual switches from English into another language or mixes English with another language; 3) dispatch used Language Line Services (or bilingual staff) to obtain information from the 911 caller; 4) the individual speaks in fragmented or incomplete sentences and uses English words incorrectly, relies upon incorrect verb tenses or speaks in the present tense even when needing to describe past or future events; 5) the individual’s response to open- ended questions indicates a limited ability to understand the question or to communicate in English (i.e. the individual answers, “yes or no” to questions that require an explanation.); 6) the individual’s facial or body gestures indicate the individual is having difficulty understanding or communicating in English; and 7) the individual responds physically to simple verbal commands (i.e. hand me your driver’s license); however any of the aforementioned common indicators are also present. The Department incorporated the OCC’s suggested recommendations into Department Bulletin 12-132 that was issued on June 26, 2012.

POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS – 2012

Case No.	Type of Allegation	Policy Recommendation
4.	Enhance the Review of Officer-Involved Shootings By Requiring the Police Academy's Training Division to Provide A Written Training Analysis Of Each Officer-Involved Shooting That Is Included For Review by the Firearm Discharge Review Board.	Arising from past and current complaints of unnecessary force allegations involving mentally ill individuals, the OCC recommends enhancing the officer-involved shooting review process to include the Department's Training Division's review and written analysis of each officer-involved shooting. The OCC recommends that the Department's Training Division prepare a written analysis for each officer involved shooting that is submitted to the Firearm Discharge Review Board. This training analysis would evaluate the incident from the moment of deployment to the conclusion of the incident. It would explain how officers are trained with respect to the tactical issues that are presented in the incident, evaluate whether the officer(s) performed consistent with training, and make recommendation concerning the training needs of the involved officers and/or the Department in general.
4. (continued)	Require the Department's Training Division To Develop A Training Video And Written Materials To Address Tactical Responses To Mental Health Crisis Calls Involving Individuals With A Bladed Weapon.	Arising from past and current complaints of unnecessary force allegations involving mentally ill individuals with bladed weapons, the OCC recommends that the Department develop a training video and written materials to address these high-risk incidents. The OCC recommends that the Department's subject matter experts in patrol procedures, tactics, and behavioral health review develop scenario-based training that enhances officers' abilities to make split second decisions about best tactics, including whether it is tactically prudent to apprehend or contain an emotionally disturbed individual with a bladed weapon. Issues of officer safety, tactical planning, communication, coordination, assessment of threat, de-escalation tactics, and use of force options should be integrated throughout this training.

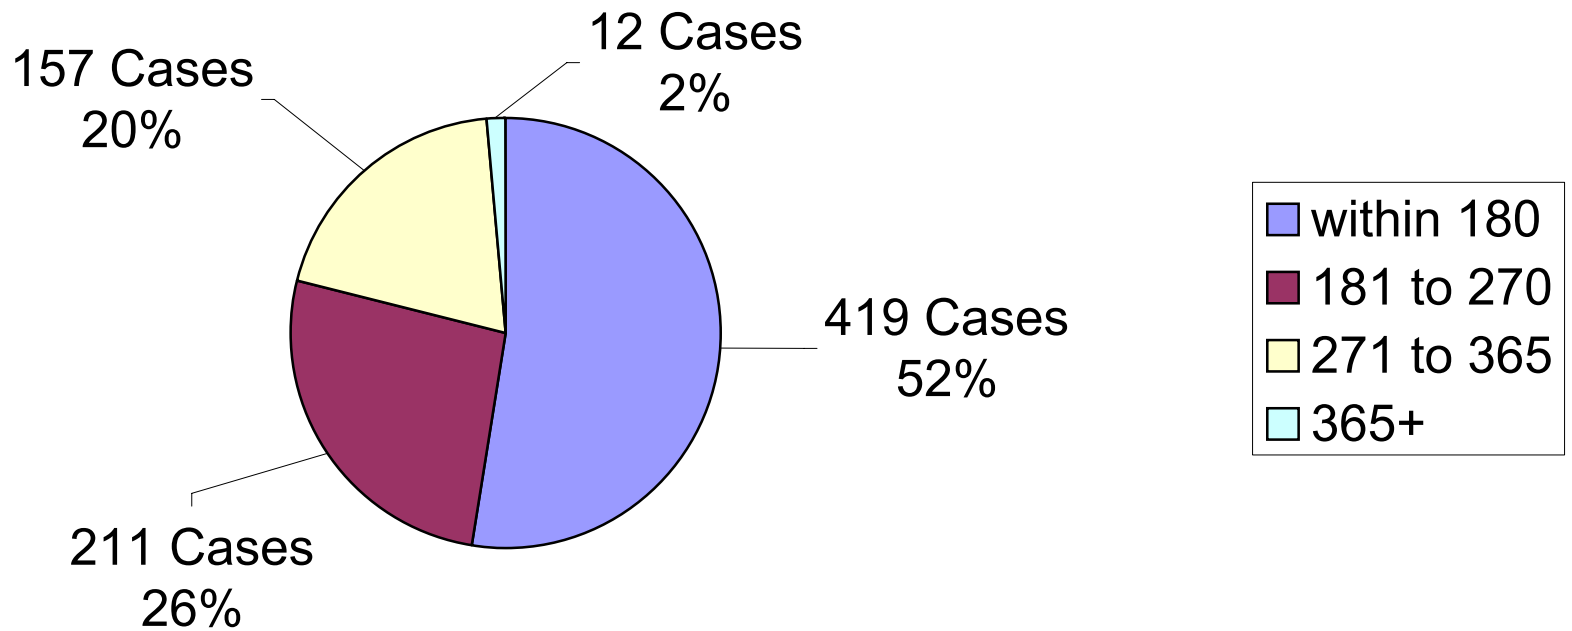

POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS – 2012

Case No.	Type of Allegation	Policy Recommendation
4. (continued)	Develop Written Officer-Involved Shooting Procedures For the Department's Liaison To the Family of the Individual Shot and The Community.	In 2004, the OCC made recommendations to the Department and the Police Commission to address complaints from families of individuals killed during an officer-involved shooting. Complaints involved families' inability to obtain information and the manner in which the Department treated them. Arising from past and current unnecessary force complaints, the OCC recommends that the Department's officer-involved shooting procedures include the Chief's designation of an on-site commander to act as a liaison between the Department and the family of the individual injured or killed and also between the Department and the community. This Commander's responsibilities would include 1) providing timely information to the family of the individual who was shot; 2) notifying the Department of Public Health (or other relevant Department) for immediate or follow-up crisis support services for impacted individuals such as family members of the individual who was shot, witnesses, and bystanders; 3) obtaining language assistance for involved or impacted individuals whom the Department is interviewing in relation to this event; and 4) identifying and addressing community concerns about the incident and the investigative process through community meetings, press releases, media briefing, and other relevant means. During recent officer-involved shootings, the Department has performed many of these tasks. The OCC recommends that the Department's officer-involve shooting procedures be amended to institutionalize these practices.

POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS – 2012

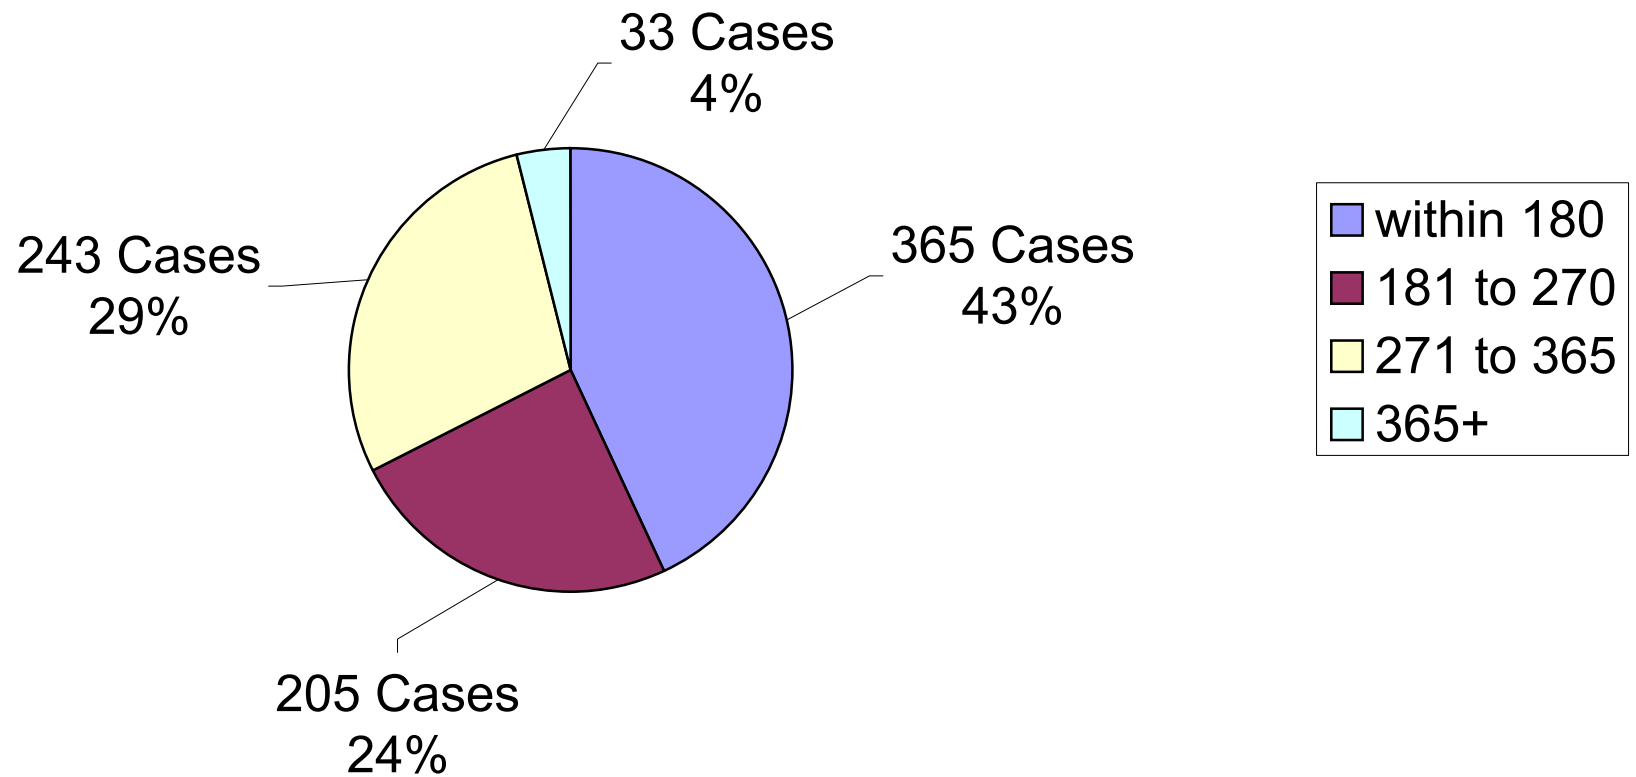

Case No.	Type of Allegation	Policy Recommendation
4. (continued)	Enhance The Procedure For Obtaining The Assistance Of A Bilingual Officer Or Other Interpreters At Officer-Involved Shootings And Other Critical Incidents.	During the OCC's investigation of an unnecessary force allegation, language barriers contributed to miscommunication between LEP individuals and SFPD officers and led to the individuals' impression that they were not being treated fairly by the officers. Determining whether the Department had a bilingual officer who spoke the witnesses' language involved a cumbersome process and a significant delay. The OCC continues to recommend that the Department enhance its technology and coordination with the Department of Emergency Management (DEM) so that both the Department and DEM have readily accessible information about the availability and location of bilingual officers for quick dispatch to the scene. During this same case, inspectors conducted several interviews with interpreter assistance and complied with the Department's language assistance protocols. The OCC commends the Department for its continuous efforts to enhance its language access services. The OCC recommends that the Department review this incident as well as any other critical incidents involving LEP victims, witnesses, and suspects to identify the strengths and areas of improvement for training.
