Re: Office of Citizen Complaints 2011 Third Quarter Statistical Report

I. INTRODUCTION

Enclosed is the Office of Citizen Complaints' statistical report for the 2011 third quarter. The OCC received 204 complaints of police misconduct or failure to take action and closed 202 complaints this third quarter. It sustained allegations of misconduct or failure to take action in 16 complaints against San Francisco police officers which is an 8% sustained rate. The OCC facilitated the mediation of 12 cases which is a 6% mediation rate.

II. ORGANIZATIONAL AND BUDGET MATTERS

During the third quarter of 2011, the OCC hired three investigators, bringing the total number of journey level investigators to 15, just meeting the San Francisco Charter mandated minimum of one investigator for every 150 police officers.

The OCC's budget for 2011/2012 was approved with no reductions and also with one additional 8124 investigator position due to be funded October 1, 2011, the beginning of the fourth quarter 2011. The additional 8124 investigator position still does not take the OCC to its high of 17 investigator positions in 2009. The impact of fewer 8124 investigator positions, investigator vacancies due to a 12 day mandated furlough and medical leaves of absences continued to impact investigator productivity and lead to caseloads double of the size of best practices caseloads.

During the third quarter, the Controller's Audit division notified the OCC that it would conduct a second follow up audit to the findings it issued in its January 24, 2007 audit report. The OCC notified the Auditor it had addressed 38 of the 41 audit recommendations contained in the audit report. Of the three remaining recommendations 2, 10 and 42, the Auditor was advised that the OCC would implement them but for lack of financial resources.

Recommendation number 2 requires that the OCC complete all its investigations within nine months or ten months at the latest. The OCC has endeavored to meet these goals but has never reached 100% compliance because of inadequate investigator staffing.

The OCC has been historically understaffed as observed in the Controller's audit which found as best practices 16 cases per investigator, yet OCC investigators have an average of 31 cases. In order to effectively reduce investigator caseloads, this office would need the following at the cost of nearly $1,000,000.00:

- 1) Four 8124 journey level investigators
- 2) One 8126 supervising investigator
- 3) One 8177 attorney
- 4) One 1052 business analyst

Recommendation number 10 provides for the OCC to install an automated tickler system for investigation deadlines. The cost of implementation is $7,000.

Recommendation number 42 provides for the OCC to allow online complaint filing. The cost of implementation is $12,000.

During the third quarter, OCC completed its confidential investigators' procedures manual; began posting outreach events and Police Commission meetings on a calendar on its website, posted a document titled "Frequently Asked Questions by Officers" and it began distributing customer satisfaction surveys to complainants and officers at the conclusion of investigations.

III. INVESTIGATION OF CASES

As of the end of the 2011 third quarter, the OCC opened 622 new cases. In comparison, these 622 cases represent a 6% reduction compared to cases opened by the end of the 2010 third quarter when the OCC opened 664 cases. By the end of the third quarter of 2011, the OCC had closed 618 cases while by the end of the third quarter 2010 the OCC had closed 648 cases. The OCC closed the third quarter of 2011 with 430 pending cases; 33 more pending cases than the close of the third quarter in 2010. By the end of the 2011 third quarter there were 19 pending cases from 2010 and 411 pending cases from 2011.

The investigative staff saw its ranks increasing toward the end of the third quarter with the addition of three new 8124 investigators. Even with the addition of three new investigators, the OCC was still understaffed in relation to the number of complaints received. Also, as with any new investigative staff, the ninety-day orientation process prevents assignment of a full caseload to investigator trainees.

The twelve fully trained investigators continued to demonstrate their commitment to the OCC's mission of investigating civilian complaints of police misconduct or neglect of duty promptly, fairly and impartially, with a determined effort. Of the 202 cases closed, 62% of them were closed within nine months and 5% of them (eleven cases) took more than a year to close. The eleven cases that took more than one year to close had no sustainable allegations. The continuing impact of two experienced investigators on extended leaves of absence and two additional investigator vacancies in the first and second quarters of 2011 affected the timeliness of investigations. Additionally, twelve mandatory furlough days in both budget years 2010/2011 and 2011/2012 impacted investigator productivity.

In spite of the challenge of understaffing, the rate of sustained cases in the third quarter of 2011 was 8% compared to the sustained rate in the third quarter of 2010 when it was 7%. In the third quarter of 2011, the OCC sustained allegations in 16 cases, the same number of sustained cases in the third quarter of 2010. However, the OCC opened fewer cases through the third quarter of 2011; 622 versus 664 through the third quarter of 2010. Similarly, the OCC closed fewer cases through the third quarter of 2011; 618 versus 648 through the third quarter of 2010.

The number of days to close sustained cases remained nearly the same for the third quarter of 2011 compared to the third quarter of 2010. In the third quarter of 2011, 32% of sustained cases were completed within nine months, while during the same period in 2010, 31% of the sustained cases were completed within nine months.

As with the first and second quarters of 2011, in the third quarter the impediments to prompt completion of sustained cases were attributable to at least five factors: 1) increased number of sustained cases in 2010 and 2011, 2) decreased number of investigators (12 at the close of the third quarter in 2011 compared to 14 at the close of the third quarter in 2010), 3) active trial calendars (Police Commission and Chief's hearings) for the two prosecuting attorneys who also serve as advice attorneys on sustained cases and sustainability reviews, 4) increased policy work for policy analyst attorney who also serves as an advice attorney on sustained cases and sustainability reviews and 5) mandatory 12 day furloughs in both fiscal years 2010/2011 and 2011/2012.

In the 16 complaints with sustained allegations in the third quarter of 2011, allegations included unwarranted action for detention, search and arrest, neglect of duty, misrepresentation of the truth, conduct reflecting discredit and unnecessary force. Sustained allegations included:

1. Unwarranted action
 - a. Detention
 - b. Issuing an invalid order
 - c. Arrest
 - d. Search
 - e. Handcuffing
2. Unnecessary force
3. Conduct reflecting discredit
 - a. Inappropriate comments
 - b. Misuse of police authority
 - c. Sergeant's misrepresentation of the truth
4. Neglect of Duty
 - a. Failure to collect traffic stop data
 - b. Failure to advise on disposition of traffic offense – DGO 9.01
 - c. Failure to remain in constant radio contact – DGO 1.03
 - d. Failure to write a complete and accurate incident report
 - e. Sergeant's failure to issue a certificate of release after handcuffing – DGO 5.03 II A (3)
 - f. Failure to consult a supervisor regarding marijuana possession pursuant to Department Bulletin No. 09-295
 - g. Failure to write an incident report regarding a lengthy detention – DGO 5.03 Rule 2
 - h. Preparing an inaccurate investigative detention report
 - i. Failure to provide an interpreter for the complainant and to document that the complainant was limited English proficient – DGO 5.20
 - j. Sergeant's failure to supervise
5. Discourtesy
 - a. Rude yelling at a baseball game. Repeatedly using the "F" word.

Six of the complaints with sustained allegations or 38% of them, contained a sustained allegation for failure to collect traffic stop data. These allegations were sustained when an officer either failed to complete the worksheet for traffic stop data or to enter the information into the MDT in the patrol vehicle, or at the station computer in the case of motorcycle officers. The Police Department by correspondence dated August 24, 2011, questioned the efficacy of the OCC investigating police misconduct based on failure to collect traffic stop or failure to issue a certificate of release.

The August 24, 2011 SFPD memo suggested that the OCC is not the appropriate agency to investigate added allegations such as failure to issue a certificate of release or to collect traffic stop data, however, but for the OCC investigation, officers up through the rank of Commander may have continued to violate the Department's own policies regarding the same. Moreover, through our investigations we have been able to highlight confusion around an officer's duty to issue a certificate of release after handcuffing. Under a previous Police Chief's administration, during the course of OCC investigations of complaints arising from traffic stops, the OCC has had occasion to sustain a Commander for failure to collect traffic stop data and in another instance, discovered that a Captain had prepared a unit order exempting his entire unit from entering traffic stop data.

The Police Department characterizes the failure to report traffic stop data or to provide an individual a certificate of release as a "technical" or "administrative" violation. However, often this paperwork is the only documentation of an officer's interaction with an individual. Additionally, while the existence or lack of documentation may appear as a "technical" or "administrative" violation when viewed in isolation, similar to the Police Department's own Internal Affairs Division, the OCC reviews the evidence in its entirety before making factual findings for each allegation our agency investigates. Other police departments under negotiated settlement agreements and consent decrees have been roundly criticized and held accountable for failure to conduct thorough administrative investigations.

The Police Department's August 24, 2011 memo inaccurately suggested that the OCC's investigations in which the OCC added allegations of neglect of duty for failure to collect traffic stop data were focused exclusively on the traffic stop data allegation, had no nexus to the complainant's allegations, and could be more efficiently handled by the Department's Internal Affairs Division. First, in each OCC sustained case, the complainant alleged that during a traffic stop, an officer engaged in misconduct such as rude conduct, misrepresentation of the truth and failure to submit the citation to the court in a timely manner. Misconduct allegations during traffic stops investigated in prior quarters have included excessive force, unlawful arrest, profanity, threats, harassment, disparate treatment, biased policing due to a protected class, unlawful search, threatening behavior, and comments and failure to adhere to prisoner property procedures. Thus, OCC investigations do not focus on simply an added traffic stop data allegation but rather involve the entire interaction between the officer and the complainant, including allegations ranging from excessive force to profanity. Additionally, the traffic stop data collection allegation is intrinsically connected to the complainant's original allegation because both arose from the officer's actions and responsibilities during the traffic stop. Because the OCC added allegations are based on the same traffic stop that gave rise to the complainants' complaints, in most cases, an investigator would need to interview all of the witnesses and the named officer, gather all documents, and then analyze the evidence in its entirety, in light of Department rules and practices to determine whether misconduct had occurred.

Finally, the Police Department's August 24, 2011 memo pointed out that because investigations may take several months, problematic behavior may go unchecked until commanding officers learn by way of sustained OCC complaints that their subordinates have failed to record traffic stop data. The OCC's weekly "morning reports" to the Police Department inform Commanders of the complaints and allegations OCC received in prior weeks. This weekly information in conjunction with the Department's awareness of inconsistency concerning traffic stop data collection and the issuance of certificates of release already enables the Department to conduct its own periodic audits to determine compliance levels and to determine whether remedial training is needed for its officers.

Dr. Lorie Fridell in her 2007 study on Fair and Impartial Policing in San Francisco discusses the importance of accurate and consistent data collection should a department determine that it will collect traffic stop data.¹ The Northeastern University Racial Profiling Data Collection Center cites several benefits of collecting stop data for both law enforcement and the community. The Center has found that collecting data about those who are stopped, searched, cited and arrested can²:

- Send a strong message to the community that the department is against racial profiling and that racial profiling is inconsistent with effective policing and equal protection
- Build trust and respect for the police in the communities they serve
- Provide departments with information about the types of stops being made by officers, the proportion of police time spent on high-discretion stops, and the results of such stops
- Help shape and develop training programs to educate officers about racial profiling and interactions with the community
- Enable the development of police and community dialogue to assess the quality and quantity of police-citizen encounters
- Allay community concerns about the activities of police
- Identify potential police misconduct and deter it, when implemented as part of a comprehensive early warning system
- Retain autonomous officer discretion and allow for flexible responses in different situations

IV. STATUS OF CURRENT OCC CASES – THE ‘KEANE’ REPORT

By the end of the 2011 third quarter, staff had completed intake on all cases from the previous year and had closed 98% of the 2010 cases, leaving 2% or 19 of the 2010 cases pending. In comparison to 2010, by the end of the 2010 third quarter, staff had also completed intake on all cases from the previous year, and had closed 97% of the 2009 cases, leaving 3% or 27 of the 2009 cases pending.

V. CASE MANAGEMENT

The investigator caseload as of September 30, 2011 shows significant increase over the same period in 2010. As of the close of the third quarter 2011, investigators had an average caseload of 31 cases while at the close of the third quarter 2010 investigators had an average caseload of 25 cases. As was previously stated, this increase is attributable to a decrease in the number of journey level investigators, 12 at the close of the third quarter in 2011 and 14 at the close of the third quarter in 2010 extended leaves of absences of veteran investigators and mandatory furloughs. In its 2007 audit of the OCC’s operations, the City Controller concluded that an average of 16 cases was a best practices caseload for investigators of police misconduct or neglect of duty. As with previous quarters, the Chief Investigator and the Senior Investigators continued to take a very active role in monthly case reviews, monitoring caseloads and assuming investigative responsibility in selected cases.

VI. MEDIATIONS

During the third quarter of 2011 the OCC mediated 12 cases. While this was a fifty percent decrease from the 24 cases mediated in 2010, by the end of this third quarter, the 45 mediated cases year to date total exceeds that of 2010 by 4 cases, an increase of 9%. Moreover, the 12 cases mediated this third quarter represent 6% of cases closed or the work of one investigator who averaged 12 case closures this quarter.

During the third quarter of 2011 a total of 46 officers were considered for mediation. Of those officers, eight, or 17% were ineligible. Of the remaining officers who were offered mediation, only two, or 5% declined. Of 34 complainants offered mediation, 17 or 50% agreed to mediate.

The Mediation Program continues to provide a forum for officers and civilians to have a frank discussion regarding the complaint, as well as serves as an educational experience for all participants.

VII. OUTREACH

The OCC's Community Outreach Program seeks to improve public and police understanding of the OCC's services, goals, and accomplishments. By using a community-based approach, the OCC works with leaders, advocates and organizations to educate the public about its services. Through presentations, widely distributed written materials and the OCC website, the OCC aims to increase the public's understanding of civilian oversight and the active role the public can play in making the OCC and community policing successful. Through its outreach efforts, the OCC seeks to strengthen its relationships with communities historically and statistically likely to have encounters with the police.

During the third quarter of 2011, the OCC engaged in the following outreach activities:

Executive Director Joyce M. Hicks made presentations at the Police Commission Community meetings in the Richmond and Mission Districts. The Director and Senior Investigator McMahon also visited Ingleside, Bayview, Tenderloin and Northern Stations for National Night Out.

In September, Director Hicks, Chief Trial Attorney Inés Vargas Fraenkel and Investigator Wechter attended the National Association of Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement (NACOLE) conference. At the conference, Director Hicks also participated in a panel presentation of Police/Citizen mediation programs and Investigator Wechter participated in a program on best practices on reporting.

Chief Trial Attorney Inés Vargas Fraenkel gave a presentation about the services offered by the Office of Citizen Complaints to the Senior Action Network in July.

OCC Mediation Coordinator Donna Salazar met with representatives of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency to discuss the functions of the OCC and to explore future collaborations.

OCC personnel staffed informational tables at the Bayview/Hunters Point 7th Annual Back to School Celebration and the Tenderloin Resource Fair.

This year the OCC added three new informational venues when we staffed tables at the Black Family Day event in the Western Addition and the National Night Out events in the Bayview and Western Addition.

During the third quarter, OCC initiated the translation and production of information materials in Arabic.

The OCC continued to supply brochures and other materials in multiple languages to police stations, community centers, and groups representing various demographic groups in the City.

VIII. POLICY ANALYSIS

Policy work is an essential aspect of the Office of Citizen Complaints' mission. The San Francisco City Charter requires the OCC to present quarterly recommendations concerning SFPD's policies or practices to enhance police-community relations while ensuring effective police services. Attorney and Policy Analyst Samara Marion leads the OCC's policy work. During the third quarter of 2011, the OCC advanced its policy work in two areas: police response to mental health crisis calls, and police procedures for interactions with juveniles.

Throughout the third quarter, the OCC continued working with mental health providers and advocates, and the San Francisco Police Department to implement the Memphis-model Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) response to mental health crisis calls. As a member of the CIT curriculum subcommittee, the OCC helped to develop the CIT training curriculum, contact trainers, and consult with CIT experts in other jurisdictions. The proposed curriculum incorporates numerous case studies to enhance communication skills, de-escalation techniques, and tactical responses during mental health crisis calls. CIT officer selection and training will commence during the next quarter.

The OCC continued its regular meetings with the Police Department and juvenile justice advocates to finish implementing Department General Order 7.01. In July the Department provided the last roll call training in a three-part series on juvenile-policing procedures that the OCC had co-authored. This training focused on officers' responsibilities to provide language access assistance to Limited English Proficient juveniles and their parents or guardians, and to comply with the Department's parental notification, Miranda and interrogation procedures.

The OCC met with the Juvenile Probation Department, the Police Department, and the Youth Commission to advance progress on equipping an interview room at the Juvenile Justice Center for police use. The OCC and juvenile justice advocates also continued in their efforts to equip -an interview room at the Community Assessment and Referral Center. Interview rooms at both locations will enable officers to comply with their obligation to avoid bringing juveniles to the district stations, and to facilitate better access to services for juveniles and their families.

IX. CONCLUSION

Although the OCC faced staffing constraints through the third quarter of 2011, the OCC remained committed to its mission to promptly, fairly and impartially investigate civilian complaints of police misconduct or failure to perform a duty. The OCC did fill three investigator vacancies at the end of the third quarter and the benefits of filling these three vacancies, plus the hiring of one additional investigator should result in more timely completion of OCC investigations and reduced caseloads by the beginning of the second quarter of 2012.

Policy Recommendations – Third Quarter 2011

Case No.	Policy Issue	Policy Recommendation
0706-10	While investigating for use of force, a supervisory officer failed to maintain custody of photographic evidence relevant to the incident, causing the evidence to be lost, misplaced or stolen.	Although the Department has digital cameras and disks available for preserving photographic evidence, currently it does not have a system that requires the immediate and secure storage of such evidence. During an investigation for use of force, a supervisory officer ordered a station duty officer to photograph the complainant's injuries. The station duty officer preserved the photographs on a single computer disk. No other disks were made of the photographs and the photographs were not stored on SFPD's computer server. The computer disk containing the photographs and a paper copy of the photographs were attached to the supervisory officer's memorandum concerning the incident. These items were placed in an unsecured location in the station for the Captain's review. When the OCC requested a copy of the photographs during its investigation, neither the disk, nor a hard copy of the photographs, could be located. The OCC recommends that the Department institute a protocol for the immediate and secure storage of photographic evidence and provide officer training on this protocol.
0723-10	The officer failed to follow proper procedures as required by DGO 5.20.	Department General Order DGO 5.20 requires the Department to take reasonable steps to ensure timely and accurate communication with Limited English Proficient individuals. During an investigation in which a Spanish-speaking complainant requested assistance at SFPD's S.T.O.P. detail to obtain release of her vehicle, the OCC determined that none of the S.T.O.P. forms that explain drivers' obligations and procedures when their cars have been towed under the S.T.O.P. program had been translated into Spanish. The OCC recommends that these forms be translated into Spanish, Chinese, Tagalog, Russian and Vietnamese.
