Roadmap to Peace is supported by two lead agencies: Instituto Familiar de la Raza and Bay Area Community Resources.

Funds made possible by:
City and County of San Francisco, Department of Children, Youth and their Families, Google and Social Innovation Fund and Jobs for the Future.

Latinx youth incorporates all Latina/o youth regardless of gender, gender expression, and sexual orientation.
The vision of the Roadmap to Peace (RTP) is for all families to live in peaceful, safe and flourishing neighborhoods where youth can thrive and actively connect and contribute to their community. The purpose of RTP is to develop a holistic and community-based approach to address the unmet needs of Latinx youth and their families in San Francisco.

Our collective efforts incorporate three strategies: creation of an interconnected youth service network, effective community-building, and meaningful policy advocacy. These three overlapping strategies embrace community wisdom to pave a road to wholeness and self-determination. Together, seven core service partners, affiliated agencies, and the Mission Peace Collaborative work for a sustainable peace.

CORE PRINCIPLES & VALUES
- Equity & Collaboration
- Cultural & Spiritual Affirmation
- Interdependence
- Community Accountability
- Restorative Justice
- Trauma-informed Care
- Reflection & Evaluation

OUR HEALING WHEEL
Culturally and linguistically responsive services provide Latinx youth and their families with critical support, services and tools that lead to educational advancement, economic independence, and health.

WHO WE SERVE
Latinx Identified • Must be 13-24 years of age
Ties to San Francisco • Violence involved • Underinsured

Roadmap to Peace creates and strengthens community-driven solutions to prevent violence. We believe Latinx youth are our biggest assets and resources. Through youth leadership, advocacy training, and culturally rooted strategies, RTP prepares the next generation of leaders to tackle our toughest community challenges. Together, we identify the barriers to youth development, define creative and cutting edge solutions and advocate for peace and social change.

RTP educates, informs and shares best practices to improve the way systems work with and care for Latina/o youth. Through multiple community partnerships, we are making our voices heard.

RTP works with Latinx youth who:
- Are vulnerable to violence
- Have not completed high school
- Need help preparing for, finding and keeping a job
- Have been touched by the criminal justice system
- Are prepared to positively transform their lives
