

K2C GRADUATE PROFILES

CLASS OF 2023

SAW YUNN

*Lowell High School
Emigrated from Burma*

"K2C made me feel that college is possible. The program has also provided me with relief about going to college because of the savings I've accumulated with K2C over the years. I'm really excited about going to college and exploring my future career path."

THAILYAH MILLER

*Gateway High School
From Visitation Valley*

"K2C has contributed to this moment in my life now. Through K2C, I have learned to save money for college and invest in my future. My career goal is to be a community advocate for Black and Brown people in San Francisco, especially the medical aspect of it."

TIERRA FERRAND

*Ruth Asawa School of the Arts
From Bayview*

"Saving for college is one of the best parts about K2C..because it's a way for you to feel like you're becoming more independent for your future education. I am excited for the future, especially college and feel like it would be a fresh start for me."

YADIRA VAZQUEZ

*City Arts and Tech High School
Born in Mexico*

"The K2C program to me means opportunity and just reliance on the fact that I have money saved up to go to college. And it means hope for me that I'm able to go to college and I'm very proud of that."
