15 Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco:

16 Section 1. Title.

17 This ordinance shall be known as the "Healthy Airport Ordinance."

18 Section 2. Findings.

19 (a) The San Francisco International Airport ("Airport") is a worldwide transportation hub, 20 connecting the San Francisco Bay Area directly to cities throughout the United States, 21 Canada, Mexico, Central America, Asia, Australia, and Europe. An average of nearly 58 22 million people normally travel through the Airport each year.

23 (b) On December 7, 1999, the San Francisco Airport Commission, by Resolution No.
24 99-0446, adopted the Quality Standards Program (QSP) to enhance Airport safety and 25 security. The Resolution required the implementation of minimum standards for hiring,

1 training, performance management, and compensation and benefits of employees covered by 2 the QSP, as well as enhanced equipment safety and security standards. The Airport
3 Commission incorporated the QSP into the Airport Rules and Regulations and required 4 compliance as a condition of Airport use permits.

5 (c) The QSP's compensation and benefit standards aim to assist in the recruitment of 6 high-quality employees and the reduction of employee turnover, and have been successful in 7 doing so, which in turn has improved worker performance. After the QSP was implemented, 8 turnover of covered employees fell by an average of 34% overall, with even larger decreases 9 for employee groups that received higher than average increases in compensation.

10 Employers reported that after the QSP was implemented they were able to increase their 11 hiring standards, and that they experienced improved employee performance, reduced 12 disciplinary actions, reduced absenteeism, and fewer employees who failed initial training.
13 These results improved safety and security at the Airport. Although the primary goals of the 14 program are safety and security, the QSP also improved Airport efficiency and customer 15 service.

16 (d) Due to the success of the program, the Airport Commission has adopted several 17 resolutions that expanded the QSP to include higher standards and new employee groups 18 that directly impact Airport safety or security. Under Charter Section 4.104, each of these 19 resolutions was adopted after notice and a public hearing to consider public comment.

20 (1) On January 18, 2000, by Resolution No. 00-0002, the Airport Commission 21 expanded the QSP to cover employees of airlines and service providers who have access to 22 the Airfield Operations Area or otherwise are directly involved in passenger and facility safety 23 and security.

24 (2) After a comprehensive review of the QSP, on August 18, 2009, by 25 Resolution No. 09-0199, the Airport Commission enhanced the QSP's employee

1 compensation requirements. The Resolution required employers to provide QSP-covered 2 employees with individual health benefits that met the minimum standards of the Health Care 3 Accountability Ordinance (HCAO), Administrative Code Chapter 12Q. The Resolution 4 temporarily froze the QSP minimum wage rate at $12.33 per hour until that rate was no more 5 than $0.50 per hour more than the wage rate required by the Minimum Compensation
6 Ordinance (MCO), Administrative Code Chapter 12P. The HCAO and MCO, each enacted 7 after the QSP was adopted, cover employees working under certain City contracts, leases, 8 and other agreements.

9 (3) On October 13, 2015, by Resolution No. 15-0216, the Airport Commission 10 included in the QSP employees located on or near Airport property who are directly involved 11 in the preparation and/or transportation of food and beverage products delivered directly onto 12 aircraft in the QSP. Additionally, to protect the QSP's pay standard, and the safety and 13 security interests that this standard supports, this Resolution provided that employee wage 14 requirements could not be waived in a collective bargaining agreement (CBA) unless the CBA
15 clearly and unambiguously waived them and provided for wages that at least met the QSP 16 standards. However, a CBA still may waive the QSP health benefit requirements.

17 (4) On January 19, 2016, by Resolution No. 16-0035, the Airport Commission 18 adopted additional QSP Airport safety and employee health and safety standards, enhanced 19 QSP employee training requirements, included Airport custodial workers in the QSP, and 20 increased fines for non-compliance.

21 (e) The individual health benefits provided to QSP-covered employees are critical to 22 the health, well-being, and financial security of those employees. These health benefits not 23 only enhance QSP employee recruitment and retention and reduce employee absences; 24 employee access to health care also reduces the spread of infectious disease. However, 25 some QSP-covered employees do not receive health benefits because their CBA waives the 1 health benefit requirement. Also, escalating health care costs are undermining the 2 effectiveness of these health benefits for QSP-covered employees, and of the QSP's 3 compensation and benefit components more broadly. Many QSP-covered employees report 4 that they cannot afford family health benefits. For example, employees of an airline catering 5 company report being offered family health benefits with a $700 monthly premium and a 6 $6,000 deductible. Such employees may face the choice between accessing health care or 7 affording other necessary expenses like rent or mortgage payments, food, or childcare.

8 (f) The COVID-19 pandemic poses a new and unprecedented threat to the health of 9 Airport employees and consequently to the City's ability to safely and effectively operate the 10 Airport. As COVID-19 spread in Asia and Europe, the Trump Administration did not impose 11 international travel limits until February 2, 2020, more than a month after the virus was first 12 reported and after it had already been documented to have spread to more than 20 countries, 13 including the United States. SFO workers likely had been exposed to COVID-19 before the 14 novel coronavirus was detected in the United States.

15 (g) On March 16, 2020, to mitigate the spread of COVID-19, local health officers in 16 seven Bay Area jurisdictions, including the City and San Mateo County, where the Airport is 17 located, issued health orders directing individuals living in those jurisdictions to shelter in their 18 places of residence and directing businesses, except essential businesses as defined in the 19 order, to cease activities at facilities located within those jurisdictions. Although these health 20 orders have been gradually modified to allow additional activities, they remain in place 21 indefinitely, and a large number of Bay Area employees continue to work remotely. But many 22 others in a variety of industries perform jobs that are considered essential but that cannot be 23 performed remotely. Airport employees, an essential workforce due to their role in facilitating 24 air travel, which is an essential business, must continue to perform their work duties in person,

1 and thus face a risk of transmission of COVID-19 that is significantly higher than for those who 2 are able to work safely at home.

3 (h) Employees working at the Airport who perform services that directly impact safety 4 and/or security at the Airport are at considerable risk of contracting and spreading COVID-19 5 due to the nature of their work duties. As examples:

6 (1) QSP-covered employees, including airline baggage handlers, wheelchair 7 agents, security screeners, and lobby agents face a heightened risk of exposure as their job 8 duties require frequent, close contact with passengers, often in areas where passengers are 9 likely to congregate together. Inconsistent policies for enforcing compliance with face covering 10 requirements increase the risk that employees face.

11 (2) Employees of airline catering companies often work in climate-controlled 12 spaces with little ventilation, where they must breathe the same air recirculated throughout 13 their shifts. These employees often work in crowded worksites where distancing is not 14 possible—in industrial kitchens or on assembly lines where employees stand shoulder-to-15 shoulder as they prepare food, assemble food and beverage carts, and wash dishes. Others 16 must board multiple airplanes every week to coordinate catering delivery, coming into close 17 contact with airplane cabin crews in spaces where distancing is often impossible.

18 (3) Employees who disinfect and clean airplane cabins in between flights must 19 come into contact with surfaces and areas used by large groups of air travelers, and in some 20 instances have been asked to clean airplane cabins while passengers are still present.

21 (i) As of September 29, 2020, at least 131 employees who work at the Airport have 22 tested positive for COVID-19. This figure likely significantly underestimates the true number of 23 COVID-19 cases among employees who work at the Airport, because many employees lack 24 access to testing.

1 (j) Many Airport workers are people of color, who may be especially vulnerable to 2 contracting COVID-19 and to suffering greater health consequences from the virus. According 3 to the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), there is increasing evidence that some racial and 4 ethnic minority groups are disproportionately impacted by COVID-19. The CDC has identified 5 occupation; healthcare access and utilization; discrimination; educational, wealth and income 6 gaps; and substandard housing as the contributing factors that may increase the risk that 7 people from certain racial and ethnic minorities contract, face serious illness, or die from 8 COVID-19.

9 (k) Access to affordable family health benefits is central to achieving the goals of the 10 QSP. Protecting the health of employees and their families is important to the City's 11 proprietary interests as owner and operator of the Airport, including its interest in attracting 12 and retaining high-quality employees whose work impacts safety and security, protecting the 13 community and the traveling public from the spread of COVID-19, and restoring public 14 confidence in the safety of air travel.

15 (l) Moreover, recent history shows that these interests are not likely to be limited to the 16 duration of the COVID-19 pandemic. Air travel played a central role in the spread of severe 17 acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) in 2002 and Middle East Respiratory System (MERS) in 18 2014, as well as influenza pandemics in 1957, 1968, and 2009. It is therefore in both the 19 short-term interest and the long-term interest of the Airport and the City to adopt the changes 20 to the HCAO set forth in this ordinance.

22 Section 3. Chapter 12Q of the Administrative Code is hereby amended by revising 23 Sections 12Q.2, 12Q.2.7, 12Q.2.9, 12Q.3, 12Q.5, 12Q.5.2, and 12Q.8; renumbering existing

9 (1) When the Agency sends notice to a Contracting Party of its final 10 determination that the Contracting Party has violated the requirements of this Chapter 12Q 11 and of the Contracting Party's right of appeal to the Controller, the Agency may direct the 12 Contracting Department and the Controller to deduct from the payments otherwise due to the 13 Contracting Party the amounts that the Agency has determined the Contracting Party must 14 pay to the City under Section 12Q.3(a)(2), (b), or (d) and as liquidated damages. The 15 Controller, in issuing any warrant for any such payment, shall deduct the amounts specified by 16 the Agency.

17 (2) The Controller shall withhold these funds until (A) the hearing officer issues a 18 decision finding that the Contracting Party does not owe all or a portion of the amount 19 withheld, in which case the Controller shall release funds to the Contracting Party consistent 20 with the hearing officer's decision or (B) the Contracting Party consents to the use of the funds 21 to pay the City the amounts that the Agency or hearing officer found due. As to any funds 22 being withheld for which neither (A) nor (B) applies, the Controller shall retain the funds until 23 the hearing officer's decision is no longer subject to judicial review, at which time the 24 Controller shall distribute amounts owed under Section 12Q.3(a)(2), (b), or (d) in the 25 appropriate account for the use of the Department of Public Health and amounts due as

1 liquidated damages in the General Fund, provided that this action is consistent with any final 2 determination of a court of competent jurisdiction. Notwithstanding the provisions of this 3 subsection, the Agency may authorize the release of payments withheld from the Contracting 4 Party under this Section if the Agency determines that the continued withholding of funds 5 imposes a substantial risk of endangering public health or safety, interfering with a service or 6 project that is essential to the City, or having an unreasonable adverse financial impact on the 7 City.

8
9 SEC. 12Q.8. WAIVER THROUGH COLLECTIVE BARGAINING.

10 *Except for the requirements provided in subsection 12Q.3(d), a*All or any portion of the 11 applicable requirements of this Chapter 12Q may be waived in a bona fide collective 12 bargaining agreement, provided that such waiver is explicitly set forth in such agreement in 13 clear and unambiguous terms.

15 Section 4. Effective and Operative Dates.

16 (a) This ordinance shall become effective 30 days after enactment. Enactment occurs 17 when the Mayor signs the ordinance, the Mayor returns the ordinance unsigned or does not 18 sign the ordinance within ten days of receiving it, or the Board of Supervisors overrides the 19 Mayor’s veto of the ordinance.

20 (b) This ordinance shall become operative 90 days after its effective date.

22 Section 5. Scope of Ordinance. In enacting this ordinance, the Board of Supervisors 23 intends to amend only those words, phrases, paragraphs, subsections, sections, articles, 24 numbers, punctuation marks, charts, diagrams, or any other constituent parts of the Municipal 25 Code that are explicitly shown in this ordinance as additions, deletions, Board amendment

1 additions, and Board amendment deletions in accordance with the “Note” that appears under 2 the official title of the ordinance.
