Good Day Commissioners-

In August 2021, a friend made a request for materials regarding an ethics complaint and investigation. They received a response stating that under Charter Section C3.699.13 that this material is not disclosable.

I also saw how all of you are very interested in transparency and communicated with Nancy Skinner to prep her for your softball questions. I would assume that you all agree that ethics complaints and investigations should see the light of day too.

We can see Malia is running two campaigns and has lots of donors, but we can not check if Lateef Gray, former Ethics Commissioner, has been investigated for violating Ethics Commission rules. In fact, he allegedly broke the cardinal rule when he endorsed Manu Raju while a commissioner.

Gray came up with an excuse but was it true? How do we know? What if he lied? As a DA should he be on the Brady list? Should there be a State Bar complaint? What if no investigation was ever initiated?

Government transparency would be great for everyone.

Maila- Ethic complaint transparency would be a great substansive issue to run on since elected officials are beyond reproach when they serve on commissions. Think about it, a fellow commissioner could run against you but since they don't hold elected office, they would have to resign to run. You and your elected cabal are so virtuous that advocating for transparency of elected and government officials should not have any pushback from anyone that serves the public.

Best of Luck!

Please send to all commissioners and and post on web.
