3 On February 24, 2016, the Associated Student Inc. at San Francisco State University adopted a 4 resolution in support of the College of Ethic Studies. The resolution calls attention unique history, and 5 positive impact the college has had on the students of San Francisco State University since it was 6 created. The first college of its kind, the college of ethnic studies at SFSU was created as a result of 7 the organizing efforts of 1968 coalition of students of color and other organizations in response to the 8 lack of culturally sensitive and culturally relevant course on the campus at the time.

6 The resolution also brings attention to the increasing number of budget cuts experienced by the 7 college, most notably occurring in 2008. Today, the College of Ethnic Studies has been targeted by the 8 SFSU Administration for another round of budget cuts. If the proposed cuts were made, it will 9 effectively decimate the college.
