5. Legislation Referred (All Items to Follow Discussion and Possible Action)

A. BOS File No. 181002 [Police Code – Prohibiting Criminal History Inquiries in Private

College Admissions]

Sponsor: President Cohen

Presenter: Aliya Chisti, District 10, Legislative Aide

Document B

This legislation is called "Beyond the Box", derived from the Fair Chance Pledge from President Obama. The legislation prohibits private colleges from inquiring about the criminal history of an applicant during the admissions process. According to research findings, 66% of applicants that mark "yes" for the criminal justice question do not finish the application. Therefore, this question on applications encourages attrition. There are 5 private colleges in San Francisco. We have spoken to 3 of the 5. There are a few exemptions such as international and licensing programs. In addition, this legislation does not prohibit schools from asking this question after admission is granted. Louisiana and Maryland have already passed this. If San Francisco passes this, it would be the first City to do so.

Questions:

- Commissioner Ibarra: Are there any restrictions that will effect admitted students?
 - Not that she knows of. However, there are programs like Project Rebound to help students with a criminal history.
- Commissioner Andam: How would this affect certain programs, like nursing programs?
 - Nursing and Teaching programs are exempt.
- Commissioner Cureton: Why doesn't this apply to public schools?
 - Public schools already do this, in other words, they do not have this question on their applications.
- Commissioner Quick: The office of labor standards and enforcement, where do they fit in the hierarchy of the City?
 - There have been talks about the Human Rights Commission taking this on. The Office of Labor Standards and Enforcement is the office that oversees the Beyond the Box for employment.
- Commissioner Quick: When will the Common App make this change? 8/1/2019
- Commissioner Quick: Can we enforce a noticing requirement for the schools, so that applicants do not voluntarily give up their right to withhold this information?
 - o Do not know that we can force private schools from noticing.
 - They can still ask for disciplinary records from previous schools.
- On page 6, when it is talking about enforcement, is the fine is separate from civil action?
 - The 250 dollar fine would be contingent upon an audit finding that private colleges are asking the colleges.
- Commissioner Vigil: Are they allowed to drop me once I am admitted?
 - Yes, but most schools are receptive. It gets into a question of liability.
 - Commissioner Vigil: On a personal note: how can we develop further relationships with private universities to go beyond this?

No public comment. Commissioner Andam motion to support with recommendation, seconded by Commissioner Hoogerhyde. The motion passes by vote of acclamation.

B. BOS File No. 181001 [Charter Amendment - Free City College Fund] to the Youth

Commission

Sponsor: Supervisor Jane Kim

Presenter: Kitty Fong, District 6, Legislative Aide

Document C

City College used to be free from 1960 – 1983. Faculty union, student body, jobs justice, SF labor council, and SF rising drafted a proposal in 2016 for Supervisor Kim. She brought forward Proposition W, otherwise known as the Mansion Tax, and it was passed by the voters. During the current iteration of Free City College, we have seen enrollment go up and now the money previously allocated is not enough. Currently, the mayor will have to allocate a certain amount of money and the BOS will have to vote on it. However, with this charter amendment, we will change that structure to set aside 15 million in the fiscal year 2020-2021 and increase subsequently every year after. It will double the amount of stipend for students. This is also a ten year plan. The money will come from the general fund. The Free City Coalition would like to make funding more stable.

Questions:

- Commissioner Obermeyer: Regarding the administration of the set-aside, I notice that DCYF is going to administer the fund. Can you walk us through what that will look like?
 - They have a Memorandum of Understanding and have a process of how they will administer.
 - o They are like a fiscal agent. They approve the invoices sent by City College.
 - There is a Free City Oversight Committee.
- Commissioner Andam: Thank you for presenting. At first, the reason why it was not a set-aside, because they wanted to study how it is going. Will there be a study or research done on how this will affect students with the 15 million set aside?
 - There has not been any particular study done on this program, but we have seen that the enrollment rate has gone up. I can send you the exact numbers after this.
- Commissioner Quick: This will have to be submitted to the voters as a Board introduced Charter Amendment. What would be the majority required for it to pass?
 - o It requires 6 votes by BOS and 50+1% to pass on the ballot.
- Commissioner Quick: A question relating to the administration of the funds, why 15 million?
 - It includes the cost for tuition, the costs for stipends, the cost of administration and a 1 million dollar reserve.
- Commissioner Quick: What does our current budget deficit look like and in the foreseeable years?
 - I can ask the controller's office for you.
- Commissioner Quick: This will sunset in 2031. Why do we have to go back to the voters instead of writing in an extension option into the amendment?
 - We have to go back and evaluate the program after 10 years and adjust the funds accordingly contingent upon the evaluation.
 - Supervisor Kim: I think it is good practice, to evaluate the efficiency of the program. The voters can determine if this is a good use of taxpayer dollars. For example, in 2004 Prop H - public school enrichment fund, it was a huge success, and after 10 years we went back to the voters and negotiated for more. The voters should be holding us accountable to those dollars.
- Commissioner Vigil: These fees go in when students are accepted, and they get stipends, what happens when students drop classes after the drop deadline. What do we hope to do about that money?
 - They have been working on those numbers. We can ask City College for the best numbers they have. We do have an issue with students who drop after the drop deadline.
- Commissioner Obermeyer: I am a student of CCSF. After the pilot program was unveiled, we see fewer people keeping with classes before the drop date, we see a larger number of people who sign up and their classes and a large number who drop. Do you have any ideas about how to encourage students to keep their classes?
 - I know that the Board of Trustees is working on this. This is outside of my policy purview, we can attach strings, we can give money, CCSF is trying to launch a campaign to encourage full time enrollment. Incentivize within Free City.

- Commissioner Andam: How can the Youth Commission best support this effort?
 - We would love for you to lobby your Supervisor and the Mayor. If you are appointed by Supervisor Fewer and Ronen, a thank you is nice to hear. I also hear that Supervisor Brown is also on board. You can come to Rules Committee next Wednesday and speak in public comment. After that and next Rules to speak, and please, join our campaign.
 - I often get asked why we do not means test and I say that it is a statement of our values. The wealthiest are also paying for Free City.
 - The MOU expires this summer.

There is no public comment. Commissioner Quick motions to support, seconded by Commissioner Andam. The motion passes by a vote of acclamation.

REVISED LEGISLATIVE DIGEST

(Amended in Committee - November 26, 2018)

[Business and Tax Regulations Code - Early Care and Education Commercial Rents Tax Credit and Exclusions]

Ordinance amending the Business and Tax Regulations Code to provide a credit against the Early Care and Education Commercial Rents Tax for the operation of certain child care facilities, and to exclude from the Early Care and Education Commercial Rents Tax base amounts subject to the hotel tax or parking tax.

Existing Law

The Early Care and Education Commercial Rents Tax ("Commercial Rents Tax") was passed by voters at the June 5, 2018 election and becomes operative on January 1, 2019. The Commercial Rents Tax generally is imposed at the rate of 3.5% on the amounts a business receives from the lease of commercial space in the City, with a lower 1% rate on amounts from the lease of warehouse space. The Commercial Rents Tax generally does not apply to businesses exempt from Gross Receipts and Payroll Expense Taxes and provides for certain other exemptions and exclusions. Revenues from the Commercial Rents Tax will fund early care and education for young children and other public purposes. The City also imposes a 14% tax on the rental of hotel rooms ("Hotel Tax") and a 25% tax on the rental of parking spaces ("Parking Tax") in the City.

Amendments to Current Law

This ordinance would provide a credit against the Commercial Rents Tax for businesses that lease or provide commercial space in the City for certain licensed child care facilities that provide care to infants, toddlers, and/or preschool-age children. The amount of the credit would be based on the total number of infants, toddlers, and preschool-age children for which the child care facility is licensed to provide care, as follows:

Number of Infants, Toddlers, and Preschool-Age Children	Amount of Credit
1 to 49	$7,200
50 to 99	$16,000
100 or more	$36,000

The credit would be allowed on an annual basis and would be neither refundable nor allowed to be carried forward to a subsequent tax year. The credit would be allowed for tax years ending after December 31, 2018 and expire on December 31, 2023.

Effective January 1, 2019, this ordinance also would exclude from gross receipts subject to the Commercial Rents Tax rent that is subject to the Hotel Tax or the Parking Tax and rent that would be subject to the Hotel Tax of the Parking Tax but for the exemptions from those taxes.

Background Information

This legislative digest reflects amendments made in committee to clarity that rent that would be subject to the Hotel Tax of the Parking Tax but for an exemption from those taxes is also exempt from the Commercial Rents Tax.

1	[Motion supporting the Transgender community and the #WeWillNotBeErased movement by urging the Board of Supervisors to condemn transphobia and President Trump's attempt to
2	erase the transgender community]
3
4	Supplemental Information
5	According to the American Civil Liberties Union, transgender rights are already protected by
6	law. "Federal civil rights laws bar sex discrimination by employers, schools, landlords, and
7	health care providers, through laws such as Title VII, Title IX, and the Affordable Care Act.
8	Federal courts have consistently ruled that the protection against sex discrimination covers
9	discrimination against transgender people, in contexts ranging from employment to education
10	to access to health care. Recognizing that anti-trans discrimination is a form of sex
11 12	discrimination makes sense, given that you can't describe what it means to be transgender
13	without talking about the person's sex." This means that it is illegal for President Trump to
14	attempt to erase the transgender community.
15	Over the weekend of October 21st, 2018, The New York Times announced that Trump
16	Administration officials are attempting to change the definition of the term "sex" in federal civil
17	rights laws that would eliminate non-discrimination protections for transgender people. This
18	news soon created concerns within the transgender communities in regards to how this could
19 20	magnify and intensify transphobia and open discrimination during the Trump administration
21	but more precisely this created concerns within the younger demographic within the
22	transgender and Non-Binary communities in regards to what it would mean in regards to
23	transitioning. The Cut interviewed 3 transgender and gender-nonconforming teens. One of the 24	Teens stated "For me personally it scares me that I won't be able to change my name legally, and change my gender marker. That scares me because I live in Texas, and it's a pretty

Republican, conservative state, and it will affect future job opportunities and housing opportunities for me because I know that Texas doesn't really have any non-discrimination laws against that. So taking that away from me, and having to live with my birth name and my birth gender will really be detrimental over the years for me if that's how I'm forced to live."
This, in turn, has worried a lot of San Francisco's community leaders that are involved in working with the LGBT community in regards to the psychological trauma such policies might have on young people in the city. As a city that has often been at the forefront of human rights. It is important for our young people to speak out about trans rights because they are human rights.
The Youth Commission stands with the transgender community and thanks to the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed for standing with the transgender and gender-nonconforming communities by condemning Trump's administration heinous attempt in erasing an already marginalized and impacted community. The Youth Commission condemns Trump and his administration's dehumanizing attempt to discriminate against a community that has historically time and time again been marginalized and targeted by transphobic organizations and individuals. We stand in solidarity with the transgender and gender-nonconforming communities. The Trans communities deserve to be loved and protected, not dehumanized or targeted for selfish and political gain. Let it be known that we the Youth Commission stands with the Trans and gender-nonconforming communities and that no matter what happens we will continue to strive for justice and the equitable and humane treatment of our Trans and gender-nonconforming community members.
