6. Presentations
   a. Department of Public Health (discussion and possible action)
      i. Presenter: Emily Gibbs, Deputy Finance Director

      Director Gibbs gave their budget presentation. Vice Chair Barker Plummer asked which funding is likely to be reduced, to which Director Gibbs responded by saying that they do not plan to reduce funding for any services since the City will continue funding these programs. Vice Chair Barker Plummer asked about the situation regarding Laguna Honda, to which Director Gibbs summarized the ongoing situation with the hospitals to remain certified by the federal government. Commissioner Miller asked about what the timeline looks like with the wellness hubs that DPH is proposing, to which Director Gibbs said that that understanding is ongoing and they’re working with the Mayor’s Office.

   b. Department of Children, Youth, and Families (discussion and possible action)
      i. Presenter: Maria Su, Director
Director Su gave their budget presentation. Commissioner Miller asked how they monitor the quality and performance of the organizations that they work with, to which Director Su said that they have a three-year plan implemented into their charter, with highlighted goals, expected outcomes, and a community needs assessment, which then is converted into the request from the budget that they need to meet the needs of the community. Commissioner Miller asked what programs they currently see that they’d like to push forward but are struggling to due to funding, to which Director Su said that the fundraising for their ‘Summer Together’ programming has been difficult, so they’ll have to reduce the scope of their programs. This specific program is a collaboration between DCYF, SFUSD, and other community-based organizations. Chair Nguyen asked how they’ve fundraised in previous years, to which Director Su said that in pre-pandemic years they used to have roundtable fundraising efforts between organizations, and that they’ve been having difficulty due to city budget woes and reorganization in different citywide programs. Vice Chair Barker Plummer asked how broad DCYF considers funding to ensure that schools can function, to which Director Su said that they work directly with SFUSD district leadership, and that they’re working to determine what’s necessary at each school site to better allocate that funding to reduce equity gaps. Vice Chair Barker Plummer mentioned the efforts around school safety, and Director Su said that they’re doing their best to move forward with the funding they have while waiting for additional funding. Officer Utting asked for more details regarding their school safety measures, to which Director Su said that they are working to identify school sites that pose higher priorities for the district to focus on, and match the applicable services to support students. Officer Utting asked how many students won’t be served due to fundraising woes and how they’ll expand those efforts, to which Director Su said that they aren’t sure as of now, but that they’ve served over 20,000 students in previous years. Chair Nguyen asked about how organizations are held accountable in regards to the Youth Empowerment Fund (YEF), to which Director Su said that organizations are required to input their fiscal & programmatic data.

c. CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) (discussion and possible action)
   i. Presenters: Marta Rivas Crespin, SF CASA Youth Advisory Board; Wellington Smith Jr., SF CASA Youth Advisory Board; Theodara Liebhart, SF CASA TAY Coordinator & Case Supervisor; Kate Durham, SF CASA Executive Director

The presenters gave their budget presentation. Commissioner Adair asked about what strategies they use to let youth know about the services and programs that they offer to incarcerated youth, to which Supervisor Liebhart said that they work with youth’s parole officers to communicate this information to youth. Chair
Nguyen asked where they primarily get their funding, to which Director Durham said they receive funding from individual donations, foundations, and other various organizations. Commissioner Miller asked what department they're requesting to fund their initiatives, to which Director Durham said they are alongside funding from other city departments, but that haven't really seen an increase in funding with how the program has grown. Chair Nguyen asked how the Youth Commission can best advocate for this funding, to which Director Durham said that they are going to try their best to get additional city funding. Vice Chair Barker Plummer asked for clarification on how they will go about getting this funding, to which Director Durham said they're working both the grant application process and set-aside process at the BOS level.

Chair Nguyen called for a brief 5-minute recess at 6:18pm. Chair Nguyen called the meeting back to order at 6:24pm.

d. San Francisco Rising (discussion and possible action)
   i. Presenter: Celi Tamayo-Lee, Co-Director; Jacob Mata, Field Organizer

Co-Director Tamayo-Lee gave their budget presentation. Vice Chair Barker Plummer asked for the assurance of the differences between both the 501(c)3 and 501(c)4 parts of the organization due to some concerns of overlap, to which Co-Director Tamayo-Lee said there are two separate organizations. Vice Chair Barker Plummer asked what their outreach looks like in terms of how youth are able to be engaged and the voter registration process, to which they said that they focus on ensuring young people vote and participate in the electoral process. Vice Chair Barker Plummer asked for a clarification regarding the advocacy around the redistricting process if that was the 501(c)3 and 501(c)4 organization, to which Co-Director Tamayo-Lee said it was the 501(c)3. Chair Nguyen asked how the classroom presentations go about and how SF Rising does outreach, to which they said they invest in paid internships. Commissioner Miller asked where SF Rising gets its funding, to which the Co-Director Tamayo-Lee said that it gets funding from both individual donations and private foundations. Commissioner Adair asked what goes into their assessment into what budgetary items would need to be adjusted based on the city's budget shortfall, to which Co-Director Tamayo-Lee said that it'll be a process they have to go through to select their priorities. Officer Utting asked more about what the internship program entails, to which Mata said it includes teaching youth how to facilitate conversations, voter registration outreach, and other helpful processes.

No public comment.
7. Resolutions (discussion and action item)
   a. Youth Clipper BART Resolution (second reading and possible action)
      i. Commissioner Adair

Commissioner Adair read the resolution aloud, and highlighted the changes in the final version of the resolution. Vice Chair Barker Plummer stated he would like to strike the third-to-last clause, since he believes that asking for free BART service for youth isn’t fiscally realistic at this time. Commissioner Adair said that there should be free BART for youth in the long term, even if it’s not feasible at this time. Commissioner Miller said that while free BART for youth may not happen anytime soon, it’s efforts like these that can build foundational building blocks for future leaders to accomplish. Vice Chair Barker Plummer said that Free Muni for All Youth is different because its city funding can be taken out of the general fund, to which Commissioner Miller said that BART could sell fares to the City with the intent of giving those passes to youth. Officer Utting agrees with Vice Chair Barker Plummer that this portion of the resolution be removed. Chair Nguyen supports leaving this clause in the resolution, especially since it shows the Commission’s bold stance on supporting transit, and showing exactly what it wants. Commissioner Adair acknowledged Vice Chair Barker Plummer’s concerns, but he would not support removing the clause. Officer Hum wanted to emphasize that this resolution specifies that this is the current stance of the 2022/2023 Youth Commission. Commissioner Miller referenced his visit to the Boys and Girls Club in the Tenderloin Clubhouse, and that youth brought up the need for a more affordable BART system. Officer Utting brought up the fact that youth should have a reliable system first, to which Chair Nguyen said that BART will not realistically sacrifice service to have free BART for youth. Vice Chair Barker Plummer emphasized that he will still support the resolution since the majority of it he agrees with, despite not agreeing to that specific clause.

No public comment.

Commissioner Adair, seconded by Commissioner Wong, motioned to approve the resolution. The motion carried by the following roll call vote:

Roll Call Vote: 14 ayes, 1 absent.

Chloe Wong  aye

b. AB 800 Resolution (first reading and possible action)

i. Vice Chair Barker Plummer and Commissioner Pimentel

Vice Chair Barker Plummer introduced the resolution and the reason they’re bringing it forward. Officer Utting said she believes that it would be a great idea to see what the City can do to push forward itself, in addition to waiting for the state to pass this legislation. Commissioner Miller acknowledges that there can’t be changed since it’s a state bill, but that he thinks that this should be taught earlier since youth can work as young as 14 years old.

No public comment.

Commissioner Colin, seconded by Officer Utting, motioned to approve this resolution, with the amendment to change the title from “2023” to “2023/2024”.

Proposition G Community Input Survey

What is Proposition G?

Prop. G was passed by San Francisco voters on November 2022's election. The Prop established the Student Success Fund grant program, which will be administered by the City Department of Children and Families, with grants of up to $1 million per year to San Francisco Unified School District schools from Pre-K to 12th grade.

Specifically, grants up to $1 million would be awarded from the Student Success Fund to individual schools for hiring more educators, nurses, tutors, literacy and math specialists, academic coaches, social workers, specialized curriculum, school psychologists and other support staff.

The fund could also be used for community-based organizations or city departments to provide after school programs, therapeutic arts and culture programs or summer school.

The grants are not to be used for funding core staffing.

Why we need your input!

The San Francisco Youth Commission wants to make sure that youth voices (YOUR VOICES) are being heard and taken into consideration when the City discusses where Prop G funding goes AND what it is spent on. We want to hear what your thoughts are and what YOU think the funding should be spent on to make San Francisco schools better. Your input and opinions are very much appreciated!

Re: Support for AB 800: Workplace Readiness Week

Dear Chairman Muratsuchi:

On behalf of the San Francisco Youth Commission, I am writing in support of AB 800 (Ortega), which would create a “Workplace Readiness Week” in California high schools to educate students on their rights as workers, and their explicit rights as employed minors. The Youth Commission supported AB 800 by resolution on March 6, 2023.¹

The Youth Commission is a body of 17 youth from San Francisco between the ages of 12 and 23. Created by the voters under a 1995 amendment to the City Charter, the Commission is responsible for advising the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor on policies and laws related to young people. The Youth Commission is also charged with providing comment and recommendation on all proposed laws that would primarily affect youth before the Board takes final action.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor and Statistics, in July 2022, 55.3 percent of young people (aged 16 to 24) were employed, which is equivalent to 21 million people across the United States. The vast majority of employed youth work part-time, low-wage, entry-level jobs. Young people are often unaware of their rights at work, leaving them subject to various forms of exploitation and abuse at work, including wage theft, unsafe working conditions and workplace injuries, discrimination and sexual harassment. Therefore, it is essential for young Californians entering the workforce to be thoroughly educated on their rights as workers, as well as how to join or organize a union in their workplace so that they do not experience exploitation from their employers.

Modeled on the Voter Rights Education Week that is observed across the state, AB 800 would enact a “Workplace Readiness Week” to educate California high school students on their rights as workers, and employed minors, including information on minimum wage and overtime rates, child labor laws, wage and hour protections, and workers’ compensation, when receiving a worker’s permit. For these reasons, the San Francisco Youth Commission supports AB 800.

Sincerely,

Youth Commission 2023/2024 Application
Timeline: 4/1/2023 - 5/31/2023

The Youth Commission is a diverse group of 17 young people between the ages of 12 and 23. We come from all across San Francisco to serve as the official youth voice in City Hall. We are appointed by the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor to ensure that young people have a role and a voice in the policy and budget decisions that impact the youth of San Francisco. The Youth Commission is not an after-school program, but a chartered commission, which means it is written into city law and requires that members follow through on certain responsibilities. To read more about what the charter states, check out our website.

Throughout the year-long term, Commissioners are offered policy and budget advocacy training, leadership development skills, and one-on-one support as they identify the unmet needs of young people, engage in community building, and create lasting change in their communities. Commissioners come from all different backgrounds, but they all share a common vision of a more progressive future and engage in different approaches to work on issues such as housing (Transitional Age Youth Navigation Center & the Grand Challenge), transformative justice (Close Juvenile Hall & Close 850 Bryant), voting rights (Vote16SF), and transportation (Free Muni For Youth).
We welcome you to City Hall – the people's building...YOUR building. Please join us as we use our voices and find our power! All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply. Due Wednesday, May 31, 2023, at 11:59 p.m.

To be eligible to serve on the San Francisco Youth Commission, you must be: between the ages of 12 and 23 years old, a resident of the City and County of San Francisco, and someone who has an understanding of the needs of young people in San Francisco, any experience with children and youth programs or youth organizations, or involvement with school or community activities.

BEFORE YOU GET STARTED
When filling out this application, you will be asked to respond to multiple essay questions. You may want to think about and prepare your essay responses (on a separate document) before continuing this application. After you’ve submitted your application, you’ll be asked to submit an optional letter of recommendation.

For New Youth Commissioners (200 - 400 words each question):
1. Why do you want to be a Youth Commissioner and what do you hope to achieve in the Commission?
2. What does public service mean to you? What kinds of programs and/or processes in local government would you like to learn more about, and why?
3. The Youth Commission is responsible, under SEC 4.124 of the City Charter, for advising the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor on "the effects of legislative policies, needs, assessments, priorities, programs, and budgets concerning the children and youth of San Francisco." If you had a meeting with the Mayor or a member of the Board of Supervisors tomorrow, what crucial issue would you talk to them about and advise them on?
4. Describe an experience where you have worked with a particular community to meet a shared goal or meet their unmet needs. Name the skills or practices you utilized to achieve the goal.
5. Is there any additional information you would like to share with us about yourself?

For Returning Youth Commissioners (200 - 400 words each question):
1. How have you demonstrated your leadership capacity this year? What goals do you have for yourself as a returning Commissioner?

2. Based on your experiences as a Commissioner and community member, how can the City and County of San Francisco improve the effectiveness of our city’s processes, programs and/or services?

3. Please describe your experience in community outreach and engagement working directly with vulnerable communities. In your response, please speak to your advocacy and work on behalf of or with vulnerable communities, including but not limited to: people of color, LGBTQI communities, undocumented persons, workers, persons with disabilities, incarcerated and formerly incarcerated persons, unsheltered and marginally housed people, and indigenous/Native communities.

4. What goals did you set for yourself and your committee? And what did you do to meet those goals?

5. What challenges did you encounter this year on the Youth Commission, and what did you do to overcome them?

6. What additional information would you like to share with us about yourself and your experience as a Youth Commissioner?

You can edit your responses after you submit.

Letter of Recommendations can come from your teacher, program manager, employer, church leader, mentor, coworker and/or someone who is able to accurately speak to your drive, skills, and leadership experience. Please make submissions by Wednesday, May 31, 2023, at 11:59 p.m.

Pursuant to Charter, Section 4.101(a)(1), please state how your qualifications represent the communities of interest, neighborhoods, and the diversity in ethnicity, race, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, types of disabilities, and any other relevant demographic qualities of the City and County of San Francisco:

I am a high school junior (16 y.o.) born and raised in San Francisco. I grew up in the Outer Sunset, and my family identifies as low-income. I previously attended 4 SFUSD public schools from my early education to middle school years, before attending the Urban School of San Francisco, a small independent high school. I have a deep commitment to support our communities, especially in the city that I call home. I’ve worked to do this by volunteering and getting to know local organizations such as Nature in the City, Asian Women’s Resource Center, United Playaz, Glide Memorial, Chinese Immersion School, Housing Rights Committee of SF, and more, to understand the diverse and unique ways that these communities are working to create a beautiful, brighter San Francisco. I use what I’ve learned to grow my compassion and awareness for others, and share the ways that we can all support one another. I acknowledge that everyone comes from different experiences and backgrounds, many of which are unlike my own, but I try to listen to and understand as many perspectives as I can. As I’ve spent time working with youth especially, I’ve noticed how big food corporations such as those of the soda industry have a large influence on the diets of youth. Much of this issue is intergenerational, but I believe it can be broken down with the right steps.

Business and/or Professional Experience:

I am a full-time student at the Urban School of San Francisco. I’ve interned for the Stop AAPI Hate Youth Campaign where my team and I were responsible for creating social media infographics, conducting interviews, developing curriculum, writing policy reports, and creating youth resources. I am a co-leader of the Asian Pacific-Islander affinity space at my school where I work to plan weekly meetings and organize school-wide events pertaining to the API identity. This includes celebrating API joy and creating a safe space for API-identifying students and faculty, while also fostering discussion about ongoing issues and working with local AAPI individuals and organizations. I’ve also worked as a counselor for youth camps at Dogpatch Paddle. I’m also a member of the Premier Ensemble of the San Francisco Girls Chorus, where my ensemble and I have worked with musicians and activists to spotlight and empower marginalized voices using classical and contemporary music throughout the Bay Area.

Civic Activities:

I tutored underprivileged youth to supplement the loss of learning during the pandemic through a student-led organization known as Virtual Tutoring SF. Also during the pandemic, I worked on the Finance and Logistics team of a student-organized online resource database known as The STORM SF, which was dedicated to providing SF youth with information about opportunities throughout the city. I also volunteered as a teacher assistant and counselor for 3rd-5th graders at Gum Moon Asian Women’s Resource Center Summer Program. I helped advise and guide students who were on the Leadership Council of Chinese Immersion School. I helped my independent school walk out in solidarity with SFUSD public high schools against sexual violence at City Hall by negotiating with my school and collaborating with the students organizers of the event. I also worked with Nature in the City at White Crane Springs Community Gardens. Recently, I’ve also worked for Housing Rights Committee of San Francisco follow-up calls to clients to check in with ongoing issues tenants were facing.

1. Please describe the experience you have in public health programs related to diabetes, oral health, obesity, and sugary drink consumption.

I have no prior experience in working with public health programs. Most of my exposure to public health programs came from school who taught us about the relationship between sugary drink consumption and diet sensitive chronic illnesses. However, that was from when I was very young and I personally never fully understood it until I began to see the impacts of sugary drink consumption in my own community and I began to research it.

2. Please describe the ways in which sugary drinks impact diverse communities across San Francisco.

Sugary drinks are only a part of a larger concern of intergenerational health, class, and racial inequities in San Francisco. The soda industry disproportionately impacts BIPOC, low-income communities, and youth, many of whom often don’t have access to resources to prioritize a healthy diet, raising the likelihood of these populations developing diet-sensitive chronic diseases. Youth are particularly vulnerable because habits and diets are established young, and without proper support, it becomes harder for these habits to change. Having come from public schools and now attending a private school, I’ve witnessed the evident disparities in nutrition and health education that students receive. Without making sure that everyone is able to receive adequate support and education, sugary drinks will continue to divide our communities.

3. Please describe your experience in reaching out to community-based organizations that serve communities most impacted by sugary drinks.

I’ve never worked with organizations to specifically discuss sugary drinks, but I have worked to get to know organizations that serve vulnerable populations such as youth, BIPOC, and those who identify as low-income. I have no problem with doing outreach and being a resource for communities. I love to collaborate and learn from others.

4. Please describe your understanding of how businesses (soda industry, tobacco industry, etc.) impact chronic disease and community health.

Many businesses such as those of the soda industry sacrifice the well-being of consumers to sell and to profit. Sugary beverages have been a major contributor to chronic diseases such as obesity, diabetes, hypertension, cavities and more, due to its addictive high sugar content. Despite this scientific consensus, soda distributors have continued to push deep pocket advertising and marketing to mislead our communities and increase the consumption of sugary drinks. In the past, I’ve seen advertisements using athletes and celebrities to promote beverages as being “cool” and normalized, which only pressures consumers to buy more. However, the real price that our communities pay is decreased health as the distributors profit, which is why they must be held accountable for the damaging impacts they’ve had on our communities.

5. Please describe how your work or life experience will inform the work of the committee.

When I first heard about the SF Soda Tax in 2016, I didn’t understand the tax’s significance besides knowing from school that soda and high amounts of sugar were unhealthy. However, sugar was always a part of my family and community. It could always be used to cheer us up, like getting root beer floats if any of us were having a bad day or bringing Coca-Cola to a potluck. Like many, sugar and soda had become an integrated part of my life, but I saw many friends and family members suffer from the consequences such as cavities or hypertension. Additionally, when SFUSD’s Student Nutrition Services reformed in 2013, I saw lunches go from cookies and soda to pre-plated Revolution Foods as I would be invited to hang out with my aunt at her work. It seemed to be a positive change, but I couldn’t stop hearing my brother complain at the dinner table about how he wanted the soda and cookies back. He wasn’t the only one who felt this way; at school I would also hear classmates groan before a meal landed in the trash with a thud. Looking back at it now, it made me realize how powerful food corporations have been to influence the diets of generations to normalize and prefer to eat food that could negatively impact them both physically and mentally. For me, it took body dysmorphia and an eating disorder to begin to prioritize a healthy and balanced diet, but no one, especially a child, should need to suffer to live healthier.

As I’ve grown to understand the complexities of systemic issues, it has only made me want to fight harder to advocate for others and myself. As I advocate for youth, I believe that we must invest more into providing thorough and up-to-date health and nutrition education in all schools, as well as increase accessibility to clean water, non-processed foods, and other necessities to support the public health of San Francisco. Even though I don’t have the experience of working with public health programs, I care deeply about the well-being of my communities and am determined to do anything to stand for them. I wish for this to be an opportunity for me to work with a group of people who care about health equity as much as I do, and to also use this opportunity to introduce public health awareness to other youth and encourage their involvement in civic engagement.
